RESOLUTION ON THE REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF THE LODGING-HOUSE ACT DURING THE YEAR 1909-10.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—SANITATION.

Dated Calcutta, the 19th August 1910.

RESOLUTION—No. 1344 San.

The reports on the working of the Lodging-house Act are due to Government on the 1st June, but the only report received on that date this year was from the Orissa Division. The attention of Commissioners is drawn to the necessity of submitting the reports punctually in future.

2. The Act was extended during the year to the village of Baksubigha, in the district of Gaya. Elsewhere the Act was in force in the same towns and areas as in the preceding year. The by-laws in force in the town of Gaya were revised. New forms of application for licenses and of licenses as required by the amended Act of 1908 were under consideration, but were not finally prescribed till after the close of the year.

3. There were 2,657 lodging-houses licensed with accommodation for 79,543 lodgers, the numbers in the previous year having been 2,492 and 1,07,569, respectively. The increase in the number of lodging-houses was shared by all places except Gaya and Chandbally, and was most marked in the towns of Puri and Jajpur, the figures being 1,518 and 133 against 1,118 and 53, respectively, in 1908-09. The increase in the case of Puri was due to the inclusion of temporary licenses granted under section 21 A as amended by Act III of 1908, and in Jajpur it is attributed chiefly to the large influx of pilgrims during the Rath Jatra festival when the then existing lodging-houses were not sufficient to accommodate them. The decrease both in the number of lodging-houses and of lodgers in the town of Gaya is apparent only, and is due to the fact that during the year 1908-09 licenses were twice issued—first, under the old system of reckoning the working year up to September, and, secondly, under the new system of reckoning the same according to the calendar year. The comparatively smaller number of pilgrims at the time of the Dol festival during the year under review is responsible for the decrease of 4,957 in the number of lodgers in the town of Puri.

4. Four hundred and fifteen prosecutions were instituted under the Act during the year in which 364 persons were convicted, the total fines imposed amounting to Rs. 5,950.

5. The total income of the funds during the year (excluding the opening balance) was Rs. 83,965 against Rs. 1,02,978 in the preceding year, showing a decrease of Rs. 19,013, the opening balance being Rs. 76,817 and the closing balance Rs. 67,495. The marked decrease at Gaya (15,505) and at Puri (6,283) is responsible for the result. At Gaya the decline was due to the fact, as explained in paragraph 3, that in the provious year licenses were twice issued, and the fees were accordingly abnormally large. The decrease at Puri (including the chatties) is attributed partly to the abnormal collection of arrears during 1908 09, and partly to the abolition of certain licensed lodging-houses which had been declared unfit by the Health Officers.

6. The total expenditure rose from Rs. 86,162 in 1908-09 to Rs. 93,287 in 1909-10, showing an increase of Rs. 7,125. The increase was largest in Puri, chatties on the Jagannath Road in the district of Cuttack, and Naihati (the figures being Rs. 50,160, Rs. 4,087 and Rs. 1,363, respectively, against Rs. 29,404, Rs. 1,606 and Rs. 209 in 1908-09). In the case of Puri the increase was chiefly due to the payment of Rs. 25,000 to the Puri Municipality towards the water-supply scheme for the town, and of Rs. 3,000 for improvement of the Pilgrim Hospital. The expenditure in Naihati increased on account of a special grant of Rs. 1,200 to the local Municipality for the supply of filtered water to the pilgrims' quarters, and for the erection of a latrine for the pilgrims. In Gaya and Deoghur there was considerable decrease of expenditure, the figures being Rs. 30,205 and Rs. 2,197, respectively, as compared with Rs. 38,852 and Rs. 11,291 in 1908-09.

7. The health of the pilgrims was generally fair, and there was no serious outbreak of epidemic diseases. The number of deaths among the pilgrims fell from 404 in the preceding year to 259. In Puri alone the total number of deaths was 170, to which cholera and dysentery contributed more than three-fourths, the deaths from these causes being 76 and 55, respectively, as compared with 102 and 134 in 1908-09. Cholera was also prevalent in Gaya and Nabadwip, the number of deaths being 34 and 51 against 36 and 3 in the preceding year. Deoghur was completely free from disease. The sanitary arrangements in the lodging-houses are reported to have been satisfactory, and the water-supply good and sufficient. A well was sunk in the camping ground at Deoghur.

8. On the whole the Act worked successfully during the year under review, and the thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to the District and Health Officers concerned with the working of it.

ORDER—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be submitted to the Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of India, and that copies be forwarded to the Commissioners of the Presidency, Patna, Bhagalpur and Orissa Divisions, for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be communicated to the Sanitary Commissioner and to the Sanitary Board, Bengal, for information, and that it be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE ORISSA PORTS FOR THE YEAR 1909-10.

No. 2213 Marine.

Government of Bengal.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 22nd August 1910.

RESOLUTION.

Administration Report of the Orissa Ports for the year 1909-10.

READ—

Letter from the Commissioner, Orissa Division, No. 426C., dated the 25th July 1910, submitting the report on the Administration of the Orissa Ports for the year 1909-10.

The earnings of the ports increased from Rs. 8,917 in 1908-09 to Rs. 15,673 during the year under review. This satisfactory result is almost entirely due to the very large increase in the export of rice from False Point in Cuttack.

The expenditure was Rs. 1,997 less than that of 1908-09, and the fund closed with a credit balance of Rs. 238. During the two preceding years, 1907-08 and 1908-09, Government had to sanction contributions in order to balance the deficit of those years. The question of improving the condition of the fund is under the consideration of Government.

The import trade in Cuttack shows a heavy decrease, and this is due to the figures of the previous year (1908-09) being abnormally swelled by the importation of Burma rice and paddy owing to the prevailing scarcity in the districts of the Orissa Division. On the other hand, the value of the export trade in the three districts—Cuttack, Puri and Balasore—greatly increased, as, owing to improved agricultural conditions, there was a large surplus stock of rice to be disposed of. The result was that the total value of trade rose from Rs. 59,87,487 in 1908-09 to Rs. 82,50,099 in 1909-10.

As a natural corollary, the number and tonnage of vessels visiting the ports increased; the total number being 226 with an aggregate tonnage of 209,180, against 173 with an aggregate tonnage of 106,767.

The Port Officer, who inspected all the ports, found the lights to be in good order. The erosion of Shortt's Island has continued and necessitated the removal of the light-mast some 1,720 feet S. 21° W. from its old position.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

T. BUTLER,

Secretary.

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR JULY 1910.

I. Character of the season.—The rainfall was general all over the Province. It was defective in Bankura, Hooghly, Khulna, Saran, Monghyr, Purnea, the Sonthal Parganas, Balasore, Sambalpur and in the districts of South Bihar and Chota Nagpur except Ranchi, and above the average in the remaining districts. In Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga and Darjeeling the rainfall was excessive and it caused floods in the first three districts. The statement showing the average rainfall of the month district by district is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—Weeding of bhadoi crops and transplantation of aman paddy continued. But want of sufficient moisture for the latter work was felt in most districts of Lower Bengal, South Bihar, Orissa and Chota Nagpur. There was, however, good rain in most of these districts at the end of July and in the first half of August, but more rain is still wanted in parts of Midnapore, Hooghly, the 24-Parganas, Khulna, Purnea and Singhbhum.

III. State of standing crops.—Sugarcane, bhadoi crops and the newly transplanted aman paddy are doing well except in parts of North Bihar, where they have been damaged by the recent floods.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn of harvests.—Prospects of the autumn harvest are so far favourable on the whole. It is too early to say anything regarding prospects of the aman paddy.

V. Damage to crop.—In the early part of the month want of sufficient moisture affected the jute crop in parts of 24-Parganas, while excessive rain did injury to this crop in Cooch Behar and to makai in Bhagalpur and the Sonthal Parganas. At the end of July and in the beginning of August, heavy floods destroyed crops in parts of Darbhanga. Floods caused much injury to bhadoi crops and to the newly transplanted paddy also in Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Monghyr, Bhagalpur and Purnea. Damage by insects to jute was reported from Nadia and the Sonthal Parganas.

VI. Condition of agricultural stock.—The condition of cattle was, on the whole, satisfactory. Cases of cattle diseases were reported from Burdwan, Midnapore, the 24-Parganas, Murshidabad, Jessore, Hazaribagh, Ranchi, Manbhum and from all the districts of Orissa and Bihar except Shahabad and Champaran.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—Fodder and water-supply was sufficient throughout the Province.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—Prices of food-grains are lower than in the corresponding period of last year. The price of common rice rose in 19 districts and fell in 2 during the second fortnight of the month under review.

IX. Condition of agricultural people.—The condition of the agriculturists is, on the whole, good.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

No. 3339.—The 29th August 1910.—The following Notification of the Government of India is republished for general information.

W. R. GOURLAY,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 290, dated Simla, the 18th August 1910.

NOTIFICATION—By the Government of India, Home Department.

IN exercise of the powers conferred by section 15 of the Indian Census Act, 1910 (XVI of 1910), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to make the following rules for taking the Census (1) of cantonments and of troops on the march and elsewhere, and (2) of railway servants and others residing on railway premises and travellers by rail:—

RULES FOR TAKING THE CENSUS OF CANTONMENTS AND OF TROOPS ON THE MARCH AND ELSEWHERE.

A.—MILITARY LIMITS.

1. Agency.—Within regimental lines, or other purely military limits, the Census will be taken by the military authorities. The operations will be placed in charge of a selected officer, who should, if possible, be conversant with the vernacular language in which the Census record will be prepared for natives of India resident within military limits.

2. Determination of boundaries.—The determination of the purely military limits should be undertaken, not later than the 15th September 1910, by the military and civil authorities in consultation with each other. The boundary decided on should be shown on a map, so that both may know clearly the areas for the enumeration of which they are respectively responsible.

3. Scope of Enumeration.—The Census to be taken by the military authorities under the above orders will include all persons, of whatever age, sex, race, or profession, who, on the night of the 10th March 1911, are temporarily or permanently residing within military limits. In other words, it will include all persons who, though ordinarily residing elsewhere, may on that night be stopping temporarily within those limits; and also those who, while actually living and taking their meals within the same, may be absent for a few hours on night duty, etc.

4. Way in which Census record will be prepared.—European officers and civilian Europeans and Eurasians of good standing will be supplied with Household Schedules on which to enter the necessary particulars for themselves, their families and their European or Eurasian servants. For all other persons the Census record will be prepared by Enumerators in the manner described further on.

5. House List.—A list should be prepared in the following form not later than the 15th October 1910, showing every house or other building in the area in question which is inhabited, or is likely to be inhabited, on the night of the Census:—

HOUSE LIST.

District. Cantonment or Station. Regiment.

Serial No. of house.	Description of house (i.e., barracks, guard-house, dwelling-house, married quarters, followers' quarters, etc.).	Name of chief occupant, or officer in charge.	Usual number of occupants.	Language in which the record will be prepared.	Whether Household Schedules required—see Rule 4. (Enter 'yes' or 'no' against each house.)
1	2	3	4	5	6

6. Definition of house.—If any large building has been divided into separate dwellings or tenements, such as married quarters occupied by distinct families or groups of persons, each of these dwellings should be treated as a house and given a separate number in column

1 of the House List. Large buildings not so divided, such as the quarters of unmarried privates, should be given only one number.

Huts occupied by native servants should be numbered separately from the houses to which they belong. Each block of servants' huts should be given a number of its own.

7. House-numbering.—While the above list is being prepared, the number entered against each house should be painted conspicuously on the building, so that it may be easily recognised by the Enumerator.

8. Formation of Blocks and Circles.—After the numbers have been painted, the houses should be arranged in compact Blocks, and these Blocks should be grouped into Circles. No Block should contain more than 250 persons, and no Circle more than 2,500. Separate Blocks should be formed for native followers and servants attached to British regiments or employed by the officers.

9. Appointment of Supervisors and Enumerators.—For each Block an Enumerator should be appointed, and for each Circle a Supervisor. The Enumerator is the person whose duty it will be to fill in the Census Schedules for all persons in his Block, except those for whom Household Schedules will be issued as provided in Rule 4. The Supervisor is responsible for seeing that all the Enumerators in his Circle understand their duties and carry them out satisfactorily. Non-Commissioned Officers of the regiments to be enumerated will usually be selected for these posts. Blocks occupied by native followers and servants should be placed in charge of Enumerators who are well acquainted with their language and customs, such as the regimental Munshi or a Commissariat native official.

10. Circle List.—A Circle List should then be drawn up in the following form and forwarded not later than the 15th November to the District or Political Officer, as the case may be:—

CIRCLE LIST.

District. Cantonment or Station. Regiment.

Serial number of Circle.	Name of Supervisor.	Serial number of Block	Name of Enumerator.	Number of houses in each Block.	Number of persons in each Block.	Language in which the record will be prepared.	Number of houses for which Household Schedules will be required.	REMARKS.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9

11. Supply of Forms.—On receipt of this register the District or Political Officer will at once calculate the number of forms (English and vernacular) of each kind required at the rate of—

(b) 1 Block List per Block ;
(c) 1 General Schedule for every 12 persons ;
(d) 2 Household Schedules for each house in which such Schedules will be used ;

adding 25 per cent. for emergencies, etc.

He will also supply for each Supervisor one Cover with five General Schedules and a Block List stitched into it. This will serve to show how the forms should be bound up to make the Enumeration Books, and will also be useful for instruction purposes as explained in Rule 13.

12. Block List.—As soon as the forms are received, the Block List, showing the number and description of the houses in each Block, should be written up from the House List.

13. Instruction of Census Staff.—The Supervisors and Enumerators must study very carefully the instructions on the first two pages of the Cover and the Specimen Schedule on the back of it. The officer in charge of the Census must satisfy himself that they clearly understand their duties. He should make them fill in a few entries each in the bound copy of the Enumeration book supplied to Supervisors for instruction purposes and should correct mistakes and give such verbal explanations as are found to be necessary.

14. The Preliminary Enumeration.—Early in February 1911, each Enumerator should go round his Block and enter in his Enumeration book full particulars regarding every man, woman, or child whom he finds residing therein, including persons temporarily absent who are expected to be back by the 10th March. This work should be completed by the 25th February. The entries thus made must be carefully examined and corrected by the Supervisor. The officer in charge of the Census should himself examine as many entries as possible in each Block, in order to make sure that they have been properly made. The houses should be taken in the order in which they are entered in the House List, and exact observance of the instructions must be rigidly enforced. Europeans and Eurasians of the class referred to in Rule 4 should not be enumerated on this occasion but Household Schedules should be distributed to them on the 8th March and the signature of the head of the household taken in the last column of the Block List.

15. The Final Census.—After gunfire on the night of the 10th March 1911 the Enumerator should again go over his Block and bring the Preliminary Record up to date by striking out the entries for persons who have died or gone away and entering the necessary particulars for new arrivals. He will thus complete the Census.

16. Rough Totals.—Collection and Despatch of forms.—On the morning of the 11th March the Enumerators will collect all the Household Schedules that have been issued and sew them into their books. They will then assemble at some place previously fixed by the Supervisor and prepare under his instructions the Abstracts inside the Covers, showing the number of houses and persons, male and female, in each Block. After testing the figures the Supervisor will compile them into a Circle Summary, showing the number of persons in the Circle, and the various summaries will then be combined into a single statement by the officer in charge of the Census and sent to the District or Political officer, as the case may be. The Enumeration Books should then be packed up at once and sent to the same officer. They should be arranged carefully by Blocks and Circles according to the order shown in the Circle List.

B.—TROOPS ON THE MARCH AND ON DUTY OUTSIDE CANTONMENTS.

17. Troops on the March.—The Census of regiments on the march and of troops on duty will be taken by the officer in command. The Census will include all persons, of whatever sex, age race or profession, who are marching with the troops The officer in command should be provided with the requisite forms at the cantonment from which the troops start. He should arrange to make one of the weekly halts on the 10th March 1911. If the Preliminary Enumeration was not effected before the troops left their last cantonment, the Schedules should be written up during the day. They should be checked in the usual manner after dark.

18. Troops in Trains.—If the regiment or detachment be travelling by rail on the night of the Census, the enumeration of the actual troops should be effected by the officer in command at the first place at which the men alight. The Railway authorities will enumerate the families, servants and followers travelling with them in accordance with the general rules for the enumeration of persons travelling by rail.

19. Despatch of Forms.—The Enumeration Books for regiments or detachments on the march will be sent to the Magistrate of the District or the Political Agent of the State in which they are enumerated. The place where they were encamped at the time of the Census must be reported to the same officer. A telegram must also be sent to him stating the number of persons (total, males and females) enumerated.

20. Troops beyond the Frontier.—Troops or military outposts in tracts of which no, general Census is being taken will be recorded in the final tables as belonging to the cantonment or station within the administrative frontier from which, or in connexion with which, they are detailed, or which is nearest to the post they occupy. Their Enumeration Books will be sent to that cantonment or station.

C.—CANTONMENT BAZARS AND CIVIL LIMITS.

21. The Census of so much of each cantonment as lies beyond regimental or other purely military limits will be taken by the Cantonment Magistrate, acting under the instructions of the civil authorities of the District or State. Exceptional cases may be found in which the whole arrangements will have to be controlled by the Officer Commanding, who will thus be responsible for their efficiency and punctuality. The rules to be followed are those laid down in the Provincial Census Code.

D.—GENERAL.

22. Issue of Special Instructions.—The Provincial Superintendent will issue the necessary subsidiary instructions, and arrange for the supply of forms, etc.

23. Census Expenditure.—Cantonment funds will bear all charges in connection with the actual enumeration, but the requisite printed forms will be supplied free of charge. Government will bear all charges in connection with the compilation of the results.

CENSUS OF RAILWAYS.

1. General.—The following rules lay down the procedure to be followed for taking the Census on open lines of railway. For each line, an officer of the head-quarters staff, preferably the Traffic Manager or Traffic Superintendent, should be placed by the Agent or Manager in charge of the operations as Railway Census Officer. In the case of the larger lines which pass through two or more Provinces or States a separate officer may, if desired, be appointed for the part of the line which lies in each Province or State. The Railway Census Officer should be authorised to correspond direct with the Provincial Superintendent of Census, who will issue such supplementary instructions as may be necessary and will arrange for the supply of the requisite forms. Where a new line is under construction, the Census operations will be in charge of the Engineer-in-Chief, who will be guided by these rules so far as they are applicable, and will act in close consultation with the District Officer.

2. Definitions.—(1) Railway premises includes a railway station within distant signals, a workshop, a colliery, a steamer-ghât and all other premises within the railway boundaries, on which permanent or temporary employés of the railway reside, except gangmen's and gatemen's huts and similar isolated buildings outside the distant signals of stations.

(2) Charge means the section of line falling within a single District or State, under a Charge Superintendent appointed by the Railway authorities for the purpose of the Census. In no case must a Charge include parts of two or more civil Districts.

(3) Circle means a station or other railway premises under a Supervisor, who will ordinarily be the station-master or other official in charge of the premises.

(4) Block means a group of not more than 50 houses under an Enumerator and forming part of a Circle.

(5) The General Schedule is the form in which the Enumerators will fill in the necessary particulars for all persons enumerated by them. There are ten lines on each page, so that ordinarily the record for at least three houses can be entered in one Schedule.

(6) Household Schedule is the form issued in a limited number of cases (see Rule 4 below) to those who personally fill up the required particulars for themselves and their families.

(7) Block List is the form showing the Census number of every house in a Block, the description of the house and the name of the head of each family.

(8) The Cover is the piece of brown paper in which the General Schedules and House List are bound up to form the Enumeration Book. On it are printed the Instructions to Enumerators, the Enumerator's Abstract and the Specimen Schedule, which contains some typical entries illustrating the way in which the General Schedule should be filled up. Provision is also made for entering the Descriptive Particulars of the Enumeration Book, the names of the Census Officers concerned, and a record of the progress of the operations.

3. Persons to be enumerated.—The classes of the population to be enumerated by the Railway authorities are—

A.—Persons residing within railway premises, whether on open lines or lines under construction.

B.—Persons travelling by rail on the night of the Census, i.e., the 10th March 1911.

4. Way in which Census Records will be prepared.—As far as possible the whole Census record will be prepared by the Enumerators on the General Schedules. Household Schedules should be issued very sparingly. They should be supplied only to the higher railway officers and to Europeans and Eurasians residing in Blocks of which the Enumerator is a native. Where there are considerable colonies of Europeans and Eurasians, a European Enumerator should be appointed to enumerate them, a native Enumerator being associated with him to prepare the record for natives residing in the Block.

The language to be used will be English where the persons to be enumerated are Europeans or Eurasians. The record for all natives of India will ordinarily be prepared in the language of the district in which the premises are situated.

CLASS A.—RESIDENTS.

5. Residents defined.—The term "residents" includes all persons, whether railway employés or not, who pass the night of 10th March 1911 on railway premises as defined in Rule 2.

It does not include—

Signalmen, gangmen or gatemen living in small isolated houses and huts beyond distant signals, whether within or without the railway fences. These will be included in one of the Blocks of the nearest village or town, and will be enumerated under the orders of the civil officers along with the ordinary population of that block.

(b) Railway servants and others who work on railway premises, either by day or night, but who return to their houses outside railway premises when off work.

But it does include—

(c) Large collections of railway labourers sleeping near the railway works on which they are employed, but outside station limits or railway premises. Such persons should be enumerated by the railway officials who employed them.

6. Agency for Census of Residents.—The Railway Census Officer will send to the Provincial Superintendent of each Province, Agency or State through which the line, or his portion of the same, passes not later than the 1st September 1910 a list of the railway stations or other premises in each civil District or State.

Unless otherwise arranged the responsibility for taking the Census on all these premise will rest upon the Railway Census Officer. Experience, however, has shown that the arrangements for taking the Census of small stations (such as the distribution of formss the instruction of the staff, the testing of the record and the collection and despatch of the first totals and Enumeration Books) give a disproportionate amount of work to an officer at the head-quarters of the railway, while they can be carried out quite smoothly and efficiently by the District Magistrate as part of the general Census of his district. There is therefore no objection to the responsibility for the Census of small stations and other outlying premises being transferred to the District Magistrate wherever this can conveniently be arranged. It will of course be understood in such cases that the local railway employés may, if required, be appointed by the District Officer as Supervisors or Enumerators for the purpose of enumerating the population residing on the railway premises, or arr ving or leaving by train on the night of the Census.

In forwarding the list above referred to, the Railway Census Officer should note against all premises entered therein whether he would propose to take the Census departmentally, or to hand over the work to the District Magistrate. The Provincial Superintendent will reply not later than the end of September stating precisely which stations, etc., he has been able to arrange to have do it with as part of the general Census of the districts concerned ; and for the enumeration of these premises the Railway Census Officer will have no further responsibility.

7. Census Divisions—The next step is to parcel out all railway premises for the enumeration of which the Railway Census Officer is responsible into Charges, Circles and Blocks. The partition must be territorial, not departmental. The portion of the line running through each civil District or State must form a separate Charge. Very large premises, such as a colliery or extensive workshop, should be treated as a distinct Charge.

Charges.

Each charge will be divided into Circles, containing not more than `00 houses each, but no Circle should be so scattered as to make it difficult for the Supervisor to exercise close personal supervision over all parts of it. Outlying stations or premises, however small, must form a separate Circle.

Circle.

Each Circle will be divided into one or more Blocks. A Block must be of such a size that the Enumerator can visit all the houses in it and bring the Census record up to date in the course of a few hours on the night of the final Census. If they are close together it may contain up to fifty houses.

Blocks.

8. Register of Census Divisions.—The form of Register given in Appendix No. 1 should be used to show Census divisions. The instructions annexed to it explain how each column should be filled up. An extract comprising all the entries for each Province or State should be sent to the Provincial Superintendent of Census concerned, and a similar extract of the entries for each Charge should be sent to the District officer in British territory and to the Political officer in Native States. The Register should be completed by the end of September 1910. Where railway premises are much mixed up with the houses of the civil population, a map should be prepared, and the respective jurisdictions settled in consultation with the civil officials.

The above Register should be very carefully prepared, as it will form the basis on which the various forms will be supplied for the enumeration of the Resident population.

9. House-numbering.—A list in the form of the Block List, in which every building must be entered, will next be prepared for each station, workshop, railway settlement, etc. The serial number noted in this list against each building must be painted on it, so that it may be easily recognised by the Enumerator. The numbers should run in the order in which it will be most convenient for the Enumerator to visit each house on the night of the Census A note should be made in the last column of the list showing the houses where Household Schedules have to be left (see Rule 4). If any large building has been divided into separate dwellings or tenements, such as married quarters occupied by distinct families or groups of persons, each of these dwellings should be given a separate number in column 1 of the list. In coolie lines, each dwelling place having a separate doorway should be given a separate number. In the case of houses occupied by Europeans or Eurasians, one number should be given to the house proper and another number to the servants' quarters, which will be visited by a different Enumerator (see Rule 4). The house-numbering should be completed not later than the 15th December.

10. Appointment of Census Officers.—Charge Superintendents, Supervisors and Enumerators should be appointed in writing over the signature of the Railway Census Officer not later than the 31st December. They will ordinarily be employés of the railway residing in or near the areas with which they will have to deal. As soon as they are appointed, arrangements must be made to give them a thorough training in their duties. Each Charge Superintendent and Supervisor should be supplied with a copy of these Rules, and an extract from Register No. 1, so far as it refers to his charge or circle, and with a set of the forms comprising the Enumeration Book. Each Enumerator will receive (1) a Cover; (2) a Block List ; (3) General Schedules at the rate of one for every two houses in the Block; and (4) Household Schedules at the rate of two for each house in which they will be used (see Rules 4 and 13). The Block List and General Schedules should be sewn into the cover by the Supervisor. Collectors and District officers will be instructed to help the Railway Census Officer in training the Supervisors and Enumerators and to assist in procuring Enumerators where no railway employés who are natives of the Province are available.

11. Preliminary Enumeration.—Early in February every Enumerator must fill in the General Schedule for each house (except those for which Household Schedules will be issued) in the manner prescribed in the Instructions printed on the Cover. This task should be completed by the 25th February. The Supervisor should test all the entries by house-to-house visits.

12. Final Enumeration.—On the night of the 10th March, beginning from about 8 o'clock, the Enumerator must again visit every house in his Block, and bring the record up to date, by striking out the entries relating to persons who have died or gone away and entering the necessary particulars for all new comers, including newly-born infants. Persons who are absent for the night only on duty, e.g., with a running train or in a signal box, should be recorded as present in the houses where they reside.

13. Household Schedules.—In the case of persons who will personally prepare the Census record for themselves and their families (see Rule 4) the Household Schedules should be left with the head of each family about the 7th March, and his signature should be taken in the last column of the Block List. On the morning after the Census, i.e., on the 11th March, these Schedules must be collected by the Enumerator, examined by him on the spot, and corrected where necessary. The Enumerator must then bind them up in his Enumeration Book.

14. Provisional Totals.—On the same morning the Supervisor will cause the Enumerator's Abstract for each Block to be prepared according to the Instructions inside the Cover of the Enumeration Book. He will then post the totals into his Circle Summary (Appendix No. 2), of which columns 1 and 2 should have been filled in beforehand, total it, arrange the Books in the serial order of Blocks as shown in Register No. 1, and despatch them with that Register and the Circle Summary without any delay to his Charge Superintendent. The latter, after checking the Circle Summaries, will prepare a Charge Summary showing the total population of his Charge, which he will transmit immediately, if in British territory, to the Collector or Deputy Commissioner of the district, and if in Native territory, to such officer as may have been previously selected. He will then arrange in the order of Circles the parcels of Enumeration Books received from his Supervisors and will despatch them as soon as possible to the same officer, certifying at the same time to the Railway Census Officer that he has done so.

NOTE.—The above is the standard procedure. There is, however, no objection to arrangements being made by Provincial Superintendents to have the Enumeration Books for Railway Circles collected direct, should this course be considered more convenient and expeditious.

CLASS B.—TRAVELLERS BY RAIL.

15. Station Enumeration.—An official called the Station Enumerator should be told off at each station to enumerate all persons taking tickets at that station, or alighting from a train during the night of the 10th March. Persons about to travel usually arrive at a station some time before their train is due; and they should, so far as possible, be enumerated by the Station Enumerator before they enter the train. Each person so enumerated should be provided with an Enumeration Pass to prevent his being counted again.

All persons alighting from a train should be asked if they have been enumerated already, and, if they produce Enumeration Passes or otherwise satisfy him that they have been, the Enumerator should let them go. He should fill up all the columns in the Schedule for each person who has not already been enumerated and give him an Enumeration Pass, telling him to show it to any Enumerator who may wish to count him again.

16. Train Enumeration: Civil population.—On the evening of the 10th March the guard in charge of the train should distribute Household Schedules to all first and second class passengers and to all Europeans and Eurasians travelling intermediate or third class, and request them to fill them in and give them up at any station at which they may alight during the night, or (if they do not alight) keep them till they are collected in the morning. The rest of the persons in the train will be enumerated on General Schedules as noted below.

All passengers who cannot produce Enumeration Passes, and who do not appear to have been enumerated anywhere else, must be counted at the first large station at which the train stops at or about 6 A.M. on the 11th March by one or more Train Enumerators selected from the local railway staff. A place should be chosen where the train is timed to stop for a sufficient period, which should, if necessary, be slightly prolonged. Where the local staff is insufficient for the speedy enumeration of passengers at this halt, a few clerks should be sent temporarily from another station. Each compartment should remain locked until the enumeration of the persons in it has been completed. Enumeration Passes need not be given on this occasion.

The Household Schedules given the evening before to first and second class passengers and others who have not alighted during the night should at the same time be collected and examined by an intelligent official, who should fill up the form for those who have omitted, or are unable, to do so for themselves. He should see that the Schedules thus collected are securely stitched into a Cover together with the General Schedules for the other passengers, thus forming a compact Enumeration Book for the train.

17. Train Enumeration : Troops.—Troops travelling by rail on the night of the Census will be enumerated by their officers, and the return separately sent in. But the native servants and followers travelling with them will be enumerated with the rest of the persons in the train.

18. Provisional totals.—The Station Enumeration and Train Enumeration should be treated as constituting separate Blocks of the Circle (station) at which the enumeration takes place. That is to say, the Enumeration Books containing the result of such enumeration should be included in the Census records of the Circle under the heading "Station Enumeration" or "Train Enumeration," as the case may be. The Supervisor of the Circle should have the Enumerator's Abstracts prepared, showing the population of these special Blocks, and should include the figures in his Circle Summary (Rule 14).

19. Expenses.—The necessary forms will be supplied by Government. The agency employed will consist chiefly of officials attached to the railway, who will not ordinarily receive any special remuneration for their services. Unavoidable extra expenditure, such as payment for overtime on the night on the Census, may be entered in a detailed bill and sent through the Provincial Census Superintendent to the Census Commissioner for the sanction of the Government of India. Government will bear all charges in connection with the compilation of the results.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Bills were introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council on the 30th August, 1910, and are hereby published for information, together with Statements of Objects and Reasons:—

to repeal and amend in the district of Sambalpur certain enactments relating to abolished rates and cesses.

WHEREAS certain rates and cesses leviable in the district of Sambalpur have been abolished, and it is therefore expedient to repeal or amend the enactments specified in the Schedule; and whereas the previous sanction of the Governor General has been obtained, under section 5 of the Indian Councils Act, 1892, to the passing of this Act; [55 & 56 Vict., c. 14.]

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Sambalpur Repealing and Amending (Rates and Cesses) Act, 1910.

Enactments in Schedule repealed or modified. 2. The enactments specified in the Schedule shall be repealed or modified to the extent and in the manner mentioned in the third column thereof. [Cf. Act IV of 1907, s. 22.]

THE SCHEDULE.

[Cf Act IV of 1907, Sch., Pt. E.]

	146A	The whole section to be repealed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to repeat, for the Sambalpur District, the provisions of Part E of the Schedule annexed to the Repealing and Amending (Rates and Cesses) Act, 1907 (IV of 1907). By that Act certain enactments were repealed and others were modified in the Central Provinces, in consequence of the abolition of certain rates and cesses (namely, the additional rates on land, imposed by Act X of 1878, and the patwari cesses imposed by Act XVIII of 1881). The said rates and cesses were abolished in the Sambalpur District (which was transferred to Bengal in the year 1905) as well as in the Central Provinces, and it is desirable that all references to them in the enactments in force in that district should be removed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to provide for the improvement and expansion of Calcutta by constituting a Board of Trustees, to be called "The Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta," who shall be empowered to undertake schemes of general improvement or of street improvement, whether upon official representation or otherwise, whenever such action may appear desirable in order to safeguard the health of the inhabitants of the localities affected, or (in the case of street schemes) to provide building sites, remedy defective ventilation, or improve the means of communication or facilities for conservancy. As the acquisition of land will enter largely into all such projects, the Bill provides for the constitution of a special Tribunal for the performance of the functions of the Court under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894; and various restrictions and modifications are introduced into that Act in its application to land acquired in connection with schemes undertaken under the Bill. The constitution, procedure, duties and responsibilities, both of the Board of Trustees and of the Tribunal, are defined in the Bill, which also provides for placing funds at the disposal of the Board. The following special sources of revenue (excluding the subvention which will be given by the Imperial Government outside the Bill) are rendered available by the Bill (Chapters V and VI):—

(a) an increase, at the rate of two per cent. ad valorem, in the duty imposed by the Indian Stamp Act, 1899, on instruments of sale, gift or usufructuary mortgage executed in respect of immovable property situated in the Calcutta Municipality;

(b) a tax, at the rate of half-an-anna on each journey made by passengers arriving in or leaving Calcutta by railway or inland steam-vessel, from or for places situated within a radius, ordinarily, of more than 30 miles from the General Post Office, Calcutta;

(c) a customs duty on all raw jute and jute cuttings and rejections exported by sea from Calcutta to any port outside British India or to Aden, at such rate, not exceeding two annas per bale of 400 lbs., as the Local Government may prescribe;

(d) an excise duty on all raw jute and jute cuttings and rejections consumed in mills in Bengal, at the same rate as the customs duty just mentioned;

(e) a quarterly contribution to the Board by the Calcutta Corporation of a sum equivalent to two per cent. on the annual valuation determined under Chapter XII of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899, during the preceding quarter, provided that the Corporation shall (if necessary) further make good to the Board any sum by which this contribution and the enhanced stamp duty referred to in clause (a), above, fall short, in the aggregate, of Rs. 7,50,000 per annum; and

(f) loans to be taken from the Secretary of State for India in Council or, with the previous sanction of the Government of India, from any other person.

II.—Provision is made (clause 105) for the repayment of loans by regular equated payments, or by the maintenance of sinking funds, or by periodical instalments.

III.—All or any of the foregoing duties, taxes and contributions may, from time to time, be suspended or abolished by the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Government of India, if at any time it is considered that they are not required for the repayment of loans taken under the Bill, or the payment of interest on such loans; and any duty, tax or contribution which has been suspended or abolished may be re-imposed, if it be required for payment of loans or interest (clause 194).

IV.—Power is taken to enforce the liabilities of the Board and the Calcutta Corporation, as prescribed by the Bill (clauses 110 to 112); and financial control is enforced by the preparation of estimates, which will require the approval of the Local Government (clauses 113 to 115), and by directions as to the maintenance of capital and revenue accounts, the items to be credited to each account and the purposes to which each account may be applied (clauses 124 to 128), and by conferring powers on auditors, to be appointed by the Local Government (clauses 131 and 132).

V.—Various powers for making rules are conferred, and sundry supplemental provisions are introduced, noticeably a provision (clause 147) giving power to the Board, with the sanction of the Local Government, to guarantee or subsidise cheap tramways. Finally, the Local Government is empowered, with the previous sanction of the Government of India, to dissolve the Board at any time when all schemes sanctioned under the Bill have been executed or are so far advanced as to render the continued existence of the Board unnecessary; and from the date of dissolution the assets and liabilities of the Board will be transferred to the Calcutta Corporation (clause 195).

VI.—The origin of the Bill is to be found in the report of a Special Plague Commission appointed by the Local Government in October, 1896, to devise measures for the prevention of an outbreak of plague in Calcutta, and in the report of a Commission which was directed in 1897 to report upon the requirements of Calcutta in respect of building laws and the best means of opening out congested areas. Both documents brought to prominent notice the extent to which overcrowding prevailed in some parts of the city, noticeably in the northern portions, and it was decided that special measures were required by which funds could be raised for the construction of roads traversing the localities in question. The subject of finance raised many difficulties, and various differences were disclosed in the views entertained by the Secretary of State, the Government of India, the Local Government, the Calcutta Corporation, and the general public. The outlines of a scheme were first made public in April, 1903, but the proposals then put forward were subsequently subjected to considerable modification and amplification, and an expression of the opinion of the public was again invited upon a revised project in July, 1905. The present Bill has been drafted, in pursuance of the orders finally passed by the Secretary of State, as the outcome of the further discussions which then resulted. The complexity of the various interests affected by the Bill is the explanation of the protracted discussions which have taken place regarding its provisions. The Bill is based largely upon the precedent of the City of Bombay Improvement Act, 1898, as modified by Bombay Act IV of 1901, consideration having also been given to further amendments suggested by subsequent actual experience of the working of those Acts. The clauses of the Bill bearing upon procedure have been drawn chiefly from the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899.

VII.—The points of importance dealt with by the Bill are noticed in detail in the subjoined notes on clauses :—

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

1. Clause 1(3) declares the local extent of the Bill. Speaking generally, the Bill will extend only to the limits of the Calcutta Municipality, but portions of it (e.g., clauses 72, 73 and 75) will have effect in wider areas, already determined, and portions will be required in areas, in the proximity of municipal "Calcutta", which will be determined in the future. It is proposed to give the Local Government power to extend any of the provisions of the Bill to the areas last referred to, by notification, as occasion may require, in the event, for instance, of the Board deciding to take action under clause 40(2) or clause 59 beyond municipal limits. Under clause 146, a preliminary draft of any such notification will be published, thus allowing opportunity for objections to be filed.

2. Clause 3 follows the terms of section 3 of the City of Bombay Improvement Act, 1898 (Bombay Act IV of 1898, hereinafter called "the Bombay Act"), providing for the creation of the Board of "Trustees for the Improvement of the City of Bombay". It has been generally recognised that the action which will be required of the Calcutta Board is beyond the powers of the Calcutta Corporation, and that a special body must be created.

3. Clause 4 declares that the Board shall consist of seven Trustees: the corresponding Board in Bombay comprises 14 members. The latter number is considered unnecessarily large. It is desirable that the decisions of the trust should be safe from premature disclosure, their action prompt, and their policy continuous; and these objects can best be secured by a small body. Its functions, moreover, will be executive, rather than deliberative. It is believed that a small body will ensure greater efficiency, while its numbers are sufficient to permit of the representation of the more important elements interested in its work. Under clause 20 of the Bill the Board will be able to co-opt, in an advisory capacity, any persons whose assistance may be desired in connection with any particular schemes, and the special representation of particular interests can thus be secured in special cases, and further expert opinion obtained when necessary.

4. Clause 5 declares that the President and two other Trustees shall be appointed by the Local Government. Under the Bombay Act also (section 9), the Chairman of the Board is also appointed by the Local Government. The retention of two nominations in the hands of the Government will permit of the representation of particular interests, as may be expedient from time to time.

5. Clause 6 declares that the Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta shall be a Trustee ex officio. Under the Bombay Act also (section 4), the Municipal Commissioner is an ex officio Trustee.

6. Clause 7 declares that two of the members of the Corporation (other than the Chairman) and a member of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce shall be elected by those bodies respectively to be Trustees. It is desired to increase the representative character of the Board by providing for such elections.

7. Clauses 9 and 13.—These clauses, dealing with the disqualifications and removal of Trustees, are, for the most part, modelled on corresponding provisions of the Bombay Act [cf. sections 12 (1), 14 and 15].

8. Clause 11 fixes the salary of the President at Rs. 3,000 per mensem, as a maximum, and empowers the Local Government to allow him house-rent, not exceeding Rs. 500 per mensem. The consolidated monthly salary and house rent of the Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta in recent times has usually been Rs. 3,500.

9. Clauses 12, 14, 15 and 16.—These clauses, referring to the term of office of Trustees, the grant of leave to the President, the appointment of an officiating officer in his place and the filling of casual vacancies among the Trustees, are drafted generally on the model of the corresponding clauses of the Bombay Act (cf. sections 10, 12, 13 and 22).

10. Clauses 14(3), 29, 34 and 65(2) declare the liability of the Board to pay such contributions towards the leave allowances and pension of any Government servant lent to them or to the Land Acquisition Tribunal as may be prescribed by general or special orders of the Government.

11. Clause 17.—The procedure for the conduct of business at meetings is modelled upon that of the Calcutta Corporation (cf. Bengal Act III of 1899, sections 77, 79, 80, 81, 82, 84 and 97).

12. Clauses 18 and 19.—These provisions, governing the appointment, functions and procedure of committees to be appointed by the Board, are modelled upon corresponding sections of the Bombay Act (cf. section 18) and Bengal Act III of 1899 (cf. sections 95 and 96).

13. Clause 20.—See note on clause 4, ante.

14. Clause 21.—Both under the Bombay Act (section 17) and the Calcutta Municipal Act (section 100) fees are payable for attendance at meetings. The scale prescribed in the Bill follows that applicable to meetings of the General Committee and Sub-Committees of the Corporation. The aggregate limit of Rs. 200 per mensem (subject to variation by rule made by the Local Government), however, is taken from the Bombay Act.

15. Clause 23.—The restrictions imposed by this clause upon the acceptance of contracts and estimates by the President and by the Board, respectively, follow the model of those governing the powers of the Chairman, the General Committee and the Corporation in Calcutta (Bengal Act III of 1899, section 86). The Bombay Act (section 19) does not provide for a reference to the Government in such cases; but, bearing in mind the novelty of some of the powers now to be conferred in Calcutta, and the necessary uncertainty of the preliminary estimates which have been framed of the cost of the improvements to be undertaken, and of the amount of the recoveries which may be anticipated, it has been thought desirable to provide for the scrutiny of major projects by the Government before they are undertaken.

16. Clause 26.—The procedure here prescribed for the supply of information to the Local Government regarding the proceedings of the Board, and the power conferred upon the Government of calling for information, are similar to those existing in the case of the Calcutta Corporation (Bengal Act III of 1899, sections 21 and 99). It is contemplated that the Local Government will exercise a close supervision over the detailed proceedings of the Board.

17. Clause 30.—The distribution of the powers of appointment and control of the officers and servants of the Board between the President and the Board follows the analogy of the Bombay Act (section 92).

18. Clause 31.—The powers here conferred upon the Local Government in respect of appointments carrying a salary in excess of Rs. 1,000 per mensem are analogous to those exercised by it in the case of the Calcutta Corporation (Bengal Act III of 1899, section 63).

19 Clause 33.—Having regard to the amount of work which will devolve upon the President, it is thought desirable to give him legal power to delegate certain of his functions. The precedent of section 18 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899, has been followed.

20. Clause 35.—The specification of cases in which the Board may frame a general improvement scheme closely follows section 23 of the Bombay Act, except that, under the Bill, the Board can act without the receipt of an official representation, e.g., at the instance of the Health Officer. It is not anticipated that cases taken up otherwise than upon an official representation will be frequent, but it is desirable that they should be provided for. In England, under the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890 (53 & 54 Vict., c. 70), s. 5, the Medical Officer of Health is authorised to make an official representation direct.

21. Clause 36.—Mutatis mutandis, the circumstances under which an official representation may be made are the same as those prescribed in section 24 of the Bombay Act.

22. Clause 37 renders it obligatory for the Board to consider every official representation, and gives opportunity to those making such a representation to refer to the Local Government, should the Board decline to take action or postpone a decision for a period of twelve months. Authority is given to the Local Government on such a reference to direct the Board to frame a scheme or to give a decision, as the case may be, and the Board will be bound to comply with this direction. Looking at the circumstances under which an official representation is made, it is thought that special weight should be given to such a reference before it is finally rejected.

23. Clause 38.—The specification of cases in which the Board may frame a street scheme follows that contained in section 30 of the Bombay Act; but sub-clause (d) (the case of affording better facilities for conservancy) is new. Street schemes will be undertaken by the Board suo motu.

24. Clause 39.—The expansion of Calcutta can only take place in certain directions, and the object of sub clause (b) is to ensure that the possibility is considered of obtaining a measure of control in the areas towards which the city is likely to expand in consequence of the operations of the Board displacing sections of the population. Sub-clauses (a) and (c) follow section 26 of the Bombay Act.

25. Clause 40 defines the objects which every scheme must provide for. It is modelled upon sections 25 and 31 of the Bombay Act, and embodies amendments suggested by experience.

26. The object of sub-clause (e) is to secure that any streets newly laid out or altered shall be provided by the Board with all the usual conveniences ordinarily supplied by the Municipality. Under the Bombay Act (section 25) it is optional with the Trust to provide "the whole or any part of the sanitary arrangements required"; but, as all these conveniences must be supplied sooner or later, it is preferable that this should be done by the Board.

27. Sub-clauses (f) and (ii) are of importance. They confer upon the Board the power to acquire land adjacent to the Calcutta Municipality for the construction of dwellings and shops for the use of persons dislodged by its operations. This is very essential, otherwise the unfavourable conditions in adjoining areas would merely be intensified, or fresh centres of congestion would spring up in the vicinity of the city. By its direct action as owner in such adjacent localities, the Board will be in a materially stronger position to ensure their suitable development than it would be if restricted merely to the duties of supervising and controlling private owners. It is, however, provided by clause 70 (2) that the Board shall not itself construct dwellings or shops if satisfied that any other person is willing and able to undertake the work, and is prepared to do so under the control of the Board.

28. Clause 41 defines the optional objects with which a scheme may deal. It is modelled on clauses contained in sections 23 and 25 of the Bombay Act.

29. Clauses 42 and 44.—As in sections 27 and 32 of the Bombay Act, these clauses provide for the notification by the Board of details regarding all schemes framed, for the information of the public.

30. Clause 43.—Sixty days are here allowed to the Corporation to make any representation they may wish regarding a scheme. It is considered that thirty days, as allowed by section 27 (1) (a) of the Bombay Act, is too short an interval.

31. Clause 46.—Following sections 28 and 32 of the Bombay Act, the Board, after consideration of any representations received, is here required to submit the scheme to the Government, with full details, for sanction.

32. Clause 47.—This clause (unlike the Bombay Act) gives power to the Local Government to sanction a scheme subject to modifications. It may well happen that, while it is not necessary to withhold sanction, details may require amendment.

33. Clause 48.—The notification under this clause of the details and the purpose of the scheme renders the publication of a declaration under section 6 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, unnecessary; and it is accordingly proposed, in clause 1 of Schedule A to the Bill, to declare that that section shall not apply.

34. Clause 49 provides for the alteration of schemes after they have been sanctioned by the Government, as the need of alterations may arise in the course of their execution. In the Bombay Act [section 29 (2) (b)] a reference to the Local Government is required if an alteration is likely to result in an increase of more than Rs. 5,000 over the original estimate of net cost: a limit of 5 per cent. is substituted in the Bill, as being more easily applicable.

35. Clause 51.—This clause prescribes the width of the streets to be laid out in various circumstances, and it may be compared with section 356 (2) of the Calcutta Municipal Act and section 45 (1) of the City of Bombay Improvement Act. It is thought that for main thoroughfares a breadth of 60 feet should be provided, since such streets will be the chief means of opening up congested areas. The direction of the alignment of the streets will be for the decision of the Board in each instance. The need of service passages for sanitary purposes, of not less than 10 feet in width, has been actually experienced in Bombay, although the local Act does not provide for them.

36. Clause 52 provides for the opening up of congested areas by the formation of open spaces. It is not contemplated that the Board shall, in every case, clear away buildings so as to reduce the proportion covered by buildings to not more than one-third of the whole, but it will have discretion to work up to that limit, should that be desirable.

37. Clause 53.—This deals with the transfer to the Board of property, belonging to the Corporation, which is required for the execution of any scheme. The clause is modelled upon section 41 of the Bombay Act, but the wording is less restricted, and the claims of the Corporation for compensation for loss are more clearly defined. It is to be remembered that under clause 195 of the Bill all properties of the Board ultimately vest in the Corporation, and under clause 57 all streets and spaces so vest as soon as they are completed to the satisfaction of the General Committee. Under clause 56 the rights and powers of any municipal authority in respect of any municipal drain or water-works are safeguarded.

38. Clauses 54 and 55 admit of the Board taking over streets which are not public streets, whenever they are required for executing any scheme. The need of such clauses has been urgently felt in Bombay.

39. Clause 58.—The power here given to the Board to retain any service passage for sanitary purposes is suggested by the experience of the Bombay Trust.

40. Clause 59.—It is contemplated that, over and above land comprised in any scheme, the Board, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, may acquire any land for the purpose of subsequently disposing of it in recoupment of the cost of the main scheme. This principle is recognised in section 357 (2) of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899.

41. Clause 61.—See notes on Schedule A, post.

42. Clauses 62 to 67.—These clauses deal with the constitution of a Tribunal to perform the functions of the Court under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, in respect of acquisition proceedings taken in connection with schemes framed by the Board. It is obvious that such proceedings will be numerous, and that a special Tribunal will be required, as in Bombay. The provisions of section 48 of the Bombay Act have been closely followed, with the exceptions noted below:—

Clause 62 (2) (b).—A standing of ten years, on the analogy of sub-clause (2) (a) of clause 62, has been taken as that qualifying a barrister, advocate or pleader for the post of President. In section 48 (4) (b) of the Bombay Act the term is eight years.

Clause 62 (4).—Two years, instead of one, as in Bombay, have been specified as the term of office of any member of the Tribunal.

Clause 65 (2).—The payment of contributions in respect of leave allowances and pensions of Government servants lent to the Tribunal has been provided for.

Clause 67 (2).—The mention of costs and the apportionment of compensation as matters resting solely with the President is not found in the Bombay Act.

Clause 67 (3), permitting the President (should he consider it desirable) to hear in the absence of the Assessors, questions which are left to the decision of the President, is new.

Clauses 67 (5) and (6).—Corresponding provisions are not to be found in the Bombay Act, but appear in sections 2 and 3 of Act XIV of 1904, passed by the Governor General of India in Council.

43. When the present Bill becomes law it is proposed to ask the Governor General in Council to pass an Act validating clauses 67 (4) and 179.

44. Clauses 68 to 70.—These clauses give to the Board the necessary powers for disposing of the lands vested in, or acquired by, it under the Bill. The most important is clause 70 [cf. note on clause 40, sub-clauses (f) and (ii), ante]. It is not contemplated that the Board should undertake the construction of houses beyond the extent actually necessary to ensure the migration of the dislodged population to the suburbs. The power to provide accommodation for the population displaced by schemes has been shown by the experience of Bombay to be essentially necessary. It is hoped that private enterprise will step in to supplement the housing operations of the Board, working under its control; and in that case the action of the Board need be on a limited scale only. But it is very desirable that authority should exist for the Board to take direct action, if required.

45. Clause 71.—It is intended that the super-tax on the transfer of immovable property within the Calcutta Municipality should fall particularly on the owners of houses and land in the town, who will benefit especially by the operations of the Board.

46. Clause 72.—The object of the terminal tax is to levy contributions from classes who will benefit largely from the improvement of Calcutta, but who would otherwise escape any share of the payment for it. The method by which the tax will be levied is simple, and its incidence is light. The tax will be upon the passenger, but it will be collected through the agency of the carrying companies. In the light of the actual working of the suggested radius of exemption, and of the uniform rate of half-an-anna, it may be desirable hereafter to modify these details, and power to do so has accordingly been taken. There is an official audit of railway accounts, but not of the accounts of inland steamship companies; the latter, therefore, are required to file returns of the number of passengers carried by them, subject to penalty for default or for falsification of the figures [clause 88, sub-clauses (2) and (3)].

47. Clauses 73 to 84.—These clauses provide the necessary machinery for the taxation of jute by a customs-duty on exports by sea from Calcutta and by an excise duty on consumption in the mills in Bengal. Other ports of export are not mentioned, as it is believed that it would not pay exporters to divert jute from Calcutta merely for the purpose of evading this light tax; but it is contemplated that similar legislation should be undertaken by the Local Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam to tax jute exported by sea from Chittagong. For such a customs duty, section 3 of the Indian Tea Cess Act, 1903 (IX of 1903), supplies a precedent, and the clauses dealing with the excise duty are based upon the provisions of the Cotton Duties Act, 1896 (II of 1896) The tax on jute is justified by the considerations that Calcutta is the financial and administrative head-quarters of the jute trade, in respect both of the raw material and of the manufactured product; and that the jute mills are at present managed and financed in Calcutta, though many, being outside Calcutta, escape the municipal taxation levied in that city, while their numerous operatives will share in the benefits of the improvement of the town, to the congestion of which they have to some extent contributed. The tax is believed to be too small to injure the trade, which is in the nature of a monopoly. The actual rate at which the tax will be levied will be notified from time to time by the Local Government, and the maximum (two annas per bale of four hundred pounds) will not necessarily be imposed. The rate will depend upon the progress of the operations of the Board and upon the extent of its income from other sources.

48. Clauses 85 to 91.—These clauses deal with the recovery of the foregoing taxes and their payment to the Board. Power is taken to the Local Government (clause 87) to make rules regulating the procedure for taxation and collection, and penalties are imposed (clauses 88 and 89) for evasions of the law. The application of certain portions of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, is declared (clause 90), and, finally, power is reserved to the Local Government to interfere with any executive decision, on the application of any person aggrieved clause 91).

49 Clause 92.—This clause declares the contribution to be made by the Calcutta Corporation to the Board, and prescribes that any amount by which this contribution, plus the proceeds of the enhanced stamp duty, falls short of Rs. 7,50,000 per annum shall be made good by the Corporation. This liability takes precedence of all demands upon the municipal finances, with the exception of those for the payment of interest on, and the repayment of, municipal loans; and, if the liability can only be met by raising the general rate levied under section 147(a) of the Calcutta Municipal Act to more than the 23 per cent. now authorized, such an enhancement is provided for. The Corporation (as representing the rate-payers) is the principal beneficiary under any schemes for the improvement of the city, and as such it is right that it should make a substantial direct contribution to the cost of the works undertaken. The sum now proposed in the Bill is the outcome of protracted discussion and the consideration of various alternatives, and it is believed that it represents an equitable recognition of the responsibilities of the Corporation.

50. Clauses 93 to 95.—These clauses permit the retention by the owner of any surplus land which it is decided to acquire outside the area comprised in a scheme. Their terms are modelled upon those provided, for corresponding circumstances, in the Calcutta Municipal Act (section 357).

51. As to the proviso to clause 93, see the note on clause 14 of Schedule A, post.

52. Clause 96.—The power here conferred on the Board to borrow money, either from the Secretary of State in Council or (with the previous sanction of the Government of India) from any other person, follows closely that conferred by the Bombay Act (section 52).

53. Clause 97.—The normal term here provided for loans, namely, sixty years, is the same as that provided in the Bombay Act (section 57).

54. Clause 98.—Power is taken to the Local Government, acting with the previous sanction of the Government of India, to control both the manner and the time of borrowing. This is necessary in order to avoid any interference with the borrowing transactions of the Imperial Government.

55. Clause 99.—This provision, permitting borrowing from banks, is modelled upon the Bombay Act (section 59).

56. Clause 100.—Under this clause, any departure from the form of debenture prescribed in the Bill will require the sanction of the Government of India. This provision is modelled on section 20 of the Calcutta Port Act, 1890 (Bengal Act III of 1890), as amended by Bengal Act II of 1907, section 3.

57. Clause 101.—The authority here given to sign debenture coupons by mechanical process finds a precedent in section 20A of the Calcutta Port Act, 1890 (Bengal Act III of 1890), as amended by Bengal Act I of 1908.

58. Clauses 102 and 103.—These clauses deal with the payment of debentures jointly held (in the event of the death of one holder), and declare the validity of receipts given by one joint-holder for interest payable upon a debenture so held. They are modelled upon amendments which have been suggested in the Bombay Act.

59. Clause 104.—It is considered equitable that, while payments on account of loans have priority over all other demands upon the Board, loans taken from the Secretary of State and those raised by the issue of debentures shall rank pari passu in this respect.

60. Clause 105.—Three alternative methods are provided for the repayment of loans, other than those taken from a Bank, namely :—

(a) by equated yearly or half-yearly instalments,

(b) by contributions to sinking funds, at rates sufficient to cause the funds to mature to the full extent of the loan by the expiry of the currency of the loan, and

(c) in special cases, if notice is given and power reserved, by periodical instalments, the debentures to be discharged on each occasion being selected by lot.

Power is reserved to the Government of India to prescribe the rate of interest to be taken for the purpose of the Sinking Fund calculations.

61. Clauses 106 to 108.—These provisions for the management of sinking funds are modelled upon those contained in the Calcutta Municipal Act (sections 135 to 137).

62. Clause 109.—These provisions for an annual examination of the sinking funds by the Accountant-General, and for the payment into them forthwith of any deficit which is discovered, afford additional safeguards for the solvency of the funds.

63. Clauses 110 to 112.—These provisions are modelled upon corresponding sections of the Bombay Act (sections 80 to 82). Their net effect is to give the Accountant-General power to make good at once any default of the Board; to make the Corporation immediately liable for the amount of such default, subject to subsequent reimbursement from the funds of the Board or by an enhancement of the general rate; and to give to the Local Government power to attach the funds of the Board or, if necessary, the municipal funds.

64. Clauses 113 to 119.—These provisions, as to Budget estimates, follow closely the corresponding sections of the Bombay Act (sections 83 to 88); but in clause 119, following section 115 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, it has been sought to give the Trust as free a hand in the expenditure of their funds as is compatible with security.

65. Clauses 120 to 122.—These are based partly on corresponding sections of the Calcutta Municipal Act (sections 111, 112 and 119), and partly on certain new sections which have been suggested for incorporation in the Bombay Act. In clause 121 the procedure to be followed in regard to the issue of cheques for payments has been specifically laid down, in order to save the Bank from any future difficulty in respect of payments made by it on cheques issued by the Board.

66. Clause 124.—This clause prescribes the maintenance of separate capital and revenue accounts, and declares that the capital account shall show separately all expenditure incurred on each scheme.

67. Clauses 126 and 128.—The general principle followed is that all capital funds shall be applied only to the execution of schemes, while the revenue receipts are hypothecated to the cost of management (defined in clause 123) and the cost of the service of the loans raised, but the power is taken in clause 126 (b) to debit to capital such proportion of the cost of management as the Local Government may sanction. Clause 126 (c), permitting the adjustment of a shortage in the revenue account from capital, is intended to meet the possible, but not probable, accidental occurrence of such a deficit. A subsequent refund to the capital account in such a case is provided for in clause 130. Similarly, temporary advances from revenue to capital are provided for in clause 129.

68. Clause 128 (2) provides for the investment (subject to the maintenance of a minimum working balance, and to other restrictions) of any surplus in the revenue account towards the service of any loans outstanding after the expiry of sixty years from the commencement of the new Act. It is anticipated that in the earlier years of the Board's working the income derived under the Bill will be in excess of the amounts which it will be possible to expend and of the charges for the loans which it will be necessary to float. It is proposed that such savings should accumulate at compound interest, so that they may assist, together with the different sinking funds, in the discharge of the liabilities outstanding at the termination of the operations of the Trust, which it might be then possible to wind up without the levy of additional taxation beyond the period of sixty years from the commencement of the Act.

69. Clauses 131 to 135.—These clauses provide for the very necessary functions of audit.

70. Clause 136.—Under the Bombay Act (section 17) the regulation of the maximum aggregate of fees payable to a Trustee in any one month rests with the Trust. It is considered preferable that this power should be vested in the Local Government.

71. Clause 137 follows section 94 of the Bombay Act; but sub-clauses (b), (d) and (f), giving power to make rules for regulating the addition of members to the Board under clause 26, for facilitating the taking of a census, and for securing secrecy in the conduct of the work of the Board, are new.

72. Clauses 138 to 142.—The procedure here prescribed, for the making and publication of rules, is modelled upon that laid down in sections 565 and 569 to 572 of the Calcutta Municipal Act.

73. Clause 143.—Under the Bombay Act [section 95 (2)] the Local Government is empowered to cancel any by-law or regulation made by the Board. This provision is adopted in clause 143 of the Bill.

74. Clauses 145 and 146.—These clauses take power to the Local Government, after invitation of objections, to extend to any area under the operation of the Bill the whole or any portion of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899. This will authorise the enforcement of the Municipal Building Regulations in the areas to be acquired in the outskirts of the city for the housing of the dislodged population and for the expansion of the town, and will arm the Trust with the requisite statutory powers of control over buildings on lands privately owned in such areas.

75. Clauses 147 and 148.—It is necessary that cheap means of transit between their homes and their work should be provided for the population which is removed to the suburbs of the city owing to the operations of the Board. Power is, therefore, given to the Board, by clause 147, to subsidise tramways, with the sanction of the Local Governments. As regards the alteration of bridges, dealt with in clause 148, it may be mentioned that difficulty was actually experienced, owing to the absence of such a provision, in connection with the extension of the Calcutta Tramways across the Circular Canal.

76. Clauses 150 to 155.—These clauses, regarding legal proceedings, are modelled generally upon corresponding sections of the Calcutta Municipal Act (sections 629 to 631 and 633 to 635).

77. Clauses 156 and 157.—These clauses, regulating the duties of the Police, are modelled upon corresponding sections of the Calcutta Municipal Act (sections 643 and 644).

78. Clauses 158 to 189.—The provisions dealing with the following subjects are all modelled upon corresponding sections of the Calcutta Municipal Act, and are inserted in order to make the present Bill complete in itself:—

clause 158—Evidence (cf. Bengal Act III of 1899, s. 589), clause 159—Validation (cf. ib., s. 102), clauses 160, 161—Compensation (cf. ib., ss. 614, 615), clauses 162, 163—Public notices and advertisements (cf. ib., ss. 587, 588), clauses 164 to 167—Signature and service of notices, etc., (cf. ib., ss 590 to 592 and 594), clauses 168, 169—Powers of entry (cf. ib., ss. 595, 596), clauses 170, 171—Enforcement of orders to execute work, etc. (cf. ib., ss. 597, 598), clauses 172 to 178—Recovery of expenses (cf. ib., ss. 601 to 604, 611 to 613), clauses 179 to 182—Recovery of expenses or compensation in case of dispute (cf. ib., ss. 616 to 619), clause 183—Obstruction of owner by occupier (cf. ib., s. 622), clause 184—Gradations of owners or occupiers (cf. Bengal Act III of 1899, s. 645), clauses 185 to 189—Proceedings before Courts of Small Causes (cf. ib., ss. 623 to 627), 79. Clauses 190 to 192.—These penalty clauses also follow the Calcutta Municipal Act [sections 574 (143(2), 575(143(2), 577, 585, 647, 648].

80. Clause 194.—The rate of progress of receipts and expenditure under the Bill is admittedly to some extent conjectural, and can only be gauged by actual experience It is possible, should the execution of schemes be delayed, that, more especially in the earlier years of the working of the Trust, balances may accumulate to an extent permitting of the suspension or abolition of particular sources of revenue. Similarly, it may thereafter be found necessary to reimpose such demands. Power is taken in this clause to the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Government of India, to take such action under those circumstances as may be required.

81. Clause 195.—This clause provides for the ultimate dissolution of the Board, by notification by the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Government of India, when all schemes sanctioned under the Bill have been executed, or have been so far executed as to render the continued existence of the Board unnecessary. It is impossible to fix an exact date at which this stage will be reached. When the Board is dissolved its properties will vest in the Corporation, which will also assume the liabilities of the Board. Since the improvements which the Trust will carry out are being undertaken for the benefit of the people of Calcutta, the Corporation, as representing that people, may properly be required to accept this responsibility.

Schedule A.

82. This Schedule, read with clause 61 of the Bill, introduces various amendments in the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, which are due partly—

(1) to the President of the Trust being declared to be a "Collector" within the meaning of the Act;

(2) to the Tribunal of Appeal, constituted under clause 62, taking the place of "the Court"; and

(3) to all references to the Local Government, with certain exceptions, being read as if made to the Trust, which is styled "the Board" in the Schedule.

Besides, it is proposed to delete all provisions, such as those relating to the acquisition of land for Companies or for Railways, which do not apply to the acquisition of land for the improvement schemes, and to withdraw some concessions allowed under the ordinary law to owners whose lands are acquired.

83. Clause 1 of Schedule A declares that certain portions of the Land Acquisition Act shall not apply, the reasons being as noted below :—

section 3(d) : "the Court" will be the Special Tribunal constituted under clause 62 of the Bill, section 3(e) : the references to Companies are not required, section 3 (f): this special provision as to village-sites is not required, section 4(1) : this is unnecessary, in view of clause 42 of the Bill, section 6 : this is not necessary, as clause 48 of the Bill contains the requisite provision in respect of the declaration for the acquisition of land, section 17(2) : this refers only to Railway administrations, section 23(2) : this directs the payment of compensation at 15 per cent. on the market-value of all lands acquired, in consideration of the compulsory nature of the acquisition. The proposal to declare this sub-section to be inapplicable to the acquisition of land for improvement schemes follows Part II of Schedule A to the Bombay Act, section 24, clause sixthly : this clause is superseded by the new clause seventhly to section 23, which is noticed post.

sections 38 to 44 : those relate only to the acquisition of land for Companies, section 54 : this is unnecessary, in view of the provision contained in clause 67(4) of the Bill allowing an appeal to the High Court from an award or any part of an award, on a certificate from the President of the Tribunal.

84. Clauses 6 and 7 introduce certain provisions regarding rights in lands, following section 47(1) of the Bombay Act.

85. Clause 12 (2) extends the application of the special powers of acquisition under section 17 in respect of waste and arable lands to the case of areas certified by a Magistrate to be unhealthy, and lays down the procedure to be followed by the Magistrate in granting such certificates.

86. Clause 13 introduces a new section (17A), vesting in the Board of Trustees the lands acquired for them.

87. Clause 14.—In supersession of clause sixthly of section 24, clause 14 (2) of Schedule A to the Bill adds a new sub-clause to section 23 (1), which includes among the matters to be considered in determining the amount of compensation any increase to the value of any other land belonging to the person interested which is likely to accrue from the acquisition of land by the Trust or the alteration or demolition of any building thereon. The necessity for this provision in the case of the Trust is obvious. It is also laid down in the proviso to clause 98 of the Bill that, when such unearned increment in the value of land is so taken into account, the provisions of that clause, which authorize the levy of a betterment rate on adjoining lands, shall not apply. This provision has been inserted in order to prevent the same benefits accruing to such adjoining lands from being charged for twice over.

88. Sub-clause (3) of clause 14 of Schedule A inserts further provisions in section 23, following both the Bombay Act and the Calcutta Municipal Act.

89. Following section 557 (e) of the Calcutta Municipal Act, sub-clause (4) of clause 14 directs that the provisions of clauses fourthly and fifthly of section 23 shall not apply in the case of tanneries, surkhi mills or other buildings used for carrying on any offensive trade.

90. Clause 15—Sub-clause (2) of clause 15 introduces into section 24 a provision, suggested by experience in Bombay, which is intended to restrict the undue raising by owners of the value of lands to be acquired.

91. Clause 16 adds a new section (section 24A), which it is deemed necessary to incorporate in the Act. This section prescribes further matters to be taken into consideration in determining compensation to be awarded in each case. The provisions are taken from suggested amendments in the Bombay Act.

ACQUISITION.

Preliminary Investigation.

Publication of preliminary notification, and powers of officers thereupon.

4. [(1) Whenever it appears to the Local Government that land in any locality is likely to be needed for any public purpose, a notification to that effect shall be published in the official Gazette, and the Collector shall cause public notice of the substance of notification to be given at convenient places in the said locality.] — Bill, Schedule A, clause 1.

(2) [Thereupon] Whenever the Board frame a general improvement scheme under section 35, or a street scheme under section 38, of the Calcutta Improvement Act, 1910, — Bill, Schedule A, clause 9 (a).

Land Acquisition.

(Part II.—Acquisition.—Secs. 5-9.)

it shall be lawful for any officer, either generally or specially authorised by [such Government] the Board in this behalf, and for his servants and workmen, (Bill, Schedule A, clause 3.)

to enter upon and survey and take levels of any land in [such locality] the locality affected by such scheme; (Bill, Schedule A, clause 9 (b).)

Declaration of intended Acquisition.

Declaration that land is required for a public purpose.

[6. (1) Subject to the provisions of Part VII of this Act, whenever it appears to the Local Government that any particular land is needed for a public purpose, or for a Company, a declaration shall be made to that effect under the signature of a Secretary to such Government or of some officer duly authorized to certify its orders: (Bill, Schedule A, clause 1. Cf. Bill, clause 48.)

Provided that no such declaration shall be made unless the compensation to be awarded for such property is to be paid by a Company, or wholly or partly out of public revenues or some fund controlled or managed by a local authority.

(2) The declaration shall be published in the official Gazette, and shall state the district or other territorial division in which the land is situate, the purpose for which it is needed, its approximate area, and, where a plan shall have been made of the land, the place where such plan may be inspected.

(3) The said declaration shall be conclusive evidence that the land is needed for a public purpose or for a Company, as the case may be; and, after making such declaration the Local Government may acquire the land in manner hereinafter appearing.]

After declaration Collector to take order for acquisition.

7. Whenever any land shall have been [so declared] declared under section 48 of the Calcutta Improvement Act, 1910, to be needed for a public purpose [or for a Company], the Local Government, or some officer authorized by the Local Government in this behalf, shall direct the Collector to take order for the acquisition of the land. (Bill, Schedule A, clause 10. Bill, Schedule A, clause 2.)

Land to be marked out, measured and planned.

8. The Collector shall thereupon cause the land (unless it has been already marked out under section 4) to be marked out. He shall also cause it to be measured, and (if no plan has been made thereof) a plan to be made of the same.

Notice to persons interested.

9. (1) The Collector shall then cause public notice to be given at convenient places on or near the land to be taken, stating that the [Government] Board intends to take possession of the land, and that claims to compensation for all interests in such land may be made to him. (Bill, Schedule A, clause 2.)

Land Acquisition.

(2) Such notice shall state the particulars of the land so needed, and shall require all persons interested in the land to appear personally or by agent before the Collector at a time and place therein mentioned (such time not being earlier than fifteen days after the date of publication of the notice), and to state the nature of their respective interests in the land and the amount and particulars of their claims to compensation for such interests, and their objections (if any) to the measurements made under section 8. The Collector may in any case require such statement to be made in writing and signed by the party or his agent.

(3) The Collector shall also serve notice to the same effect on the occupier (if any) of such land, and on all such persons known or believed to be interested therein, or to be entitled to act for persons so interested, as reside, or have agents authorized to receive service on their behalf, within the revenue-district in which the land is situate.

(4) In case any person so interested resides elsewhere, and has no such agent, the notice shall be sent to him by post in a letter addressed to him at his last known residence, address or place of business and registered under Part III of the Indian Post Office Act, 1866.[1] XIV of 1866.

Power to require and enforce the making of statements as to names and interests.

10. (1) The Collector may also require any such person to make or deliver to him, at a time and place mentioned (such time not being earlier than fifteen days after the date of requisition), a statement containing, so far as may be practicable, the name of every other person possessing any interest in the land or any part thereof as co-proprietor, sub-proprietor, mortgagee, tenant or otherwise, and of the nature of such interest, and of the rents and profits (if any) received or receivable on account thereof for three years next preceding the date of the statement.

(2) Every person required to make or deliver a statement under this section or section 9 shall be deemed to be legally bound to do so within the meaning of sections 175 and 176 of the Indian Penal Code. XLV of 1860.

Inquiry into Measurements, Value and Claims, and Award by the Collector.

Inquiry and award by Collector.

11. On the day so fixed, or on any other day to which the inquiry has been adjourned, the Collector shall proceed to inquire into the objections (if any) which any person interested has stated, pursuant to a notice given under section 9, to the measurements made under section 8, and into the value of the land, and into the respective interests of the persons claiming the compensation, and shall make an award, under his hand, of—

(i) the true area of the land;
(ii) the compensation which in his opinion should be allowed for the land; and
(iii) the apportionment of the said compensation among all the persons known or believed to be interested in the land, of whom, or of whose claims, he has information, whether or not they have respectively appeared before him.

Award of Collector when to be final.

12. (1) Such award shall be filed in the Collector's office, and shall, except as hereinafter provided, be final and conclusive evidence, as between the Collector and the persons interested, whether they have respectively appeared before the Collector or not, of the true area and value of the land and the apportionment of the compensation among the persons interested.

(2) The Collector shall give immediate notice of his award to such of the persons interested as are not present personally or by their repesentatives when the award is made.

Adjournment of inquiry.

13. The Collector may, for any cause he thinks fit, from time to time adjourn the inquiry to a day to be fixed by him.

[1] See now the Indian Post Office Act, 1898 (VI of 1898).

Land Acquisition.

(Part II.—Acquisition.—Secs. 14-17A.)

Power to summon and enforce attendance of witnesses and production of documents.

14. For the purpose of inquiries under this Act, the Collector shall have power to summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses, including the parties interested or any of them, and to compel the production of documents, by the same means, and (so far as may be) in the same manner, as is provided in the case of a Civil Court under the Code of Civil Procedure. XIV of 1882.

Matters to be considered and neglected.

15. In determining the amount of compensation, the Collector shall be guided by the provisions contained in sections 23 [and 24], 24 and 24A. Bill, Schedule A, clause 11.

Taking possession.

Power to take possession.

16. When the Collector has made an award under section 11, he may take possession of the land, which shall thereupon vest absolutely in the Government, free from all encumbrances.

Special powers in cases of urgency.

17. (1) In cases of urgency, whenever the Local Government so directs, the Collector, though no such award has been made, may, on the expiration of fifteen days from the publication of the notice mentioned in section 9, sub-section (1), take possession of any waste or arable land needed for public purposes [or for a Company]. Such land shall thereupon vest absolutely in the Government, free from all encumbrances. Bill, Schedule A, clause 2.

[(2) Whenever, owing to any sudden change in the channel of any navigable river or other unforeseen emergency, it becomes necessary for any Railway Administration to acquire the immediate possession of any land for the maintenance of their traffic or for the purpose of making thereon a river-side or ghât station, or of providing convenient connection with or access to any such station, the Collector may, immediately after the publication of the notice mentioned in sub-section (1), and with the previous sanction of the Local Government, enter upon and take possession of such land, which shall thereupon vest absolutely in the Government free from all encumbrances :

Provided that the Collector shall not take possession of any building or part of a building under this sub-section without giving to the occupier thereof at least forty-eight hours' notice of his intention so to do, or such longer notice as may be reasonably sufficient to enable such occupier to remove his moveable property from such building without unnecessary inconvenience.]

(3) In every case under either of the preceding sub-sections, the Collector shall at the time of taking possession offer to the persons interested compensation for the standing crops and trees (if any) on such land and for any other damage sustained by them caused by such sudden dispossession and not excepted in section 24 or section 24A; and, in case such offer is not accepted, the value of such crops and trees and the amount of such other damage shall be allowed for in awarding compensation for the land under the provisions herein contained. Bill, Schedule A clause 12 (1).

(4) Sub-sections (1) and (3) shall apply also in the case of any area which is stated in a certificate granted by a Magistrate to be unhealthy. Bill, Schedule A, clause 12 (2).

(5) Before granting any such certificate the Magistrate shall cause notice to be served as promptly as may be on the persons referred to in sub-section (3) of section 9, and shall hear without any avoidable delay any objections which may be urged by them.

(6) When proceedings have been taken under this section for the acquisition of any land, and any person sustains damage in consequence of being suddenly dispossessed of such land, compensation shall be paid to such person for such dispossession.

GENERAL SUMMARY.—The rainfall was general over the Province, the fall being heavy in Nadia, Murshidabad and the Sonthal Parganas, moderate in Burdwan, Hooghly, Howrah, the 24-Parganas, Jessore Saran, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Purnea, Darjeeling, Cuttack, Palamau and Cooch Behar and light elsewhere. Transplantation still continues. More rain is wanted for winter paddy in Bankura, Midnapore, 24-Parganas Khulna and Puri. Damage to standing crops by floods and excessive rain is reported from Nadia, Murshidadad, Saran, Muzaffarpur, Monghyr and the Sonthal Parganas. Insects have done some injury to jute in Nadia and to winter and autumn rice in Muzaffarpur and Cuttack. Standing crops are generally in good condition except in the tracts where they have been damaged by floods. The price of common rice has risen in Murshidabad, Gaya, Bhagalpur and Cuttack and has fallen in Burdwan, Bankura, Jessore, Patna, Champaran, Darbhanga, the Sonthal Parganas, Sambalpur, Hazaribagh and Manbhum. Cattle-disease is reported from Muzaffarpur, Monghyr, Bhagalpur, Purnea, the Sonthal Parganas, Puri, Sambalpur, Ranoh and from all the districts of the Presidency Division except Khulna. Fodder is dear in parts of Bankura. The water-supply is sufficient throughout the Province.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; g, dark, gloomy; t, thunder; <, lightning; K, thunderstorm; /, strong wind; ⊕, solar corona.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

EXTENSION OF THE ELECTIVE FRANCHISE TO CERTAIN MUNICIPALITIES.

The Hon'ble BABU BAIKUNTHA NATH SEN asked :—

I.—(a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether, and, if so, when, it intends to extend the elective franchise to the Tittaghar, Garulia, Garden Reach and Budge-Budge Municipalities, in the Presidency Division, as it has been pleased to do, very recently, in respect of 18 Municipalities in the Province?

(b) If not, will the Government be pleased to state its reasons for withholding the privilege from the aforesaid four Municipalities?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied :—

(a) "The question of extending the elective system to Municipalities in which it was not in force was recently before Government, and the case of the four Municipalities referred to by the Hon'ble Member was fully considered. It was decided not to extend the elective system to those four Municipalities, and it is not at present the intention of Government to reconsider that decision.

(b) "In all these four Municipalities there is a very uneven distribution of interests, a state of things in which the nomination system is more conducive than the elective system to efficient administration."

CADASTRAL SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT OPERATIONS IN SOUTH BIHAR.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked :—

II.—Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the numerous complaints made by the landlords of South Bihar regarding the cadastral survey and settlement operations now going on there, as reported in the Amrita Bazar Patrika of the 6th and 18th May, 15th and 28th June, and 2nd, 9th and 15th July, 1910?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied :—

"The attention of the Government of Bengal has been drawn to the articles in question."

MR. PHILIP'S CIRCULAR REGARDING GUZASHTA HOLDINGS.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked :—

III.—(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to a circular issued over the signature of Mr. C. L. Philip, Assistant Settlement Officer, headed "Instructions regarding the status of guzashtadars," the first paragraph of which is :—

> "All raiyats who claim to have guzashta holdings should be recorded as shara muaiyan, unless the landlord can prove that the rent of these holdings has ever been enhanced or has been converted from bhaoli into nagdi, or that the holdings have been created since the date of the Permanent Settlement"?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state if it is a fact that, in numerous instances, simply because the zamindars of the district of Shahabad have admitted their tenants to be guzashtadars, such tenants have, on the basis of the said circular, been recorded as shara muaiyan tenants as a matter of course?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to withdraw the said circular?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to direct the survey authorities to reconsider, in the light of section 50, sub-section (2), of the Bengal Tenancy Act, the cases of those tenancies which have been recorded as shara muaiyan simply on the basis of the said circular?

(a) "Yes.

(b) "From inquiries made by the Director of Land Records it appears that there have been some cases where the claim to the status of a raiyat holding at fixed rates has been admitted, in his opinion, without adequate proof.

(c) "The circular has been withdrawn, and replaced by another of which a copy is laid on the table.

(d) "Instructions to give landlords special facilities to obtain a reconsideration of such cases have been issued by the Settlement Officer."

Revised Circular regarding guzashta holdings.

LANDLORDS have been permitted to file section 103A objections free of cost, objecting to the entry of shara muaiyan in the records of Attestation Camps I, II and III in Arrah thana. They have also been permitted to file review petitions where section 103A objections have already been filed and disposed of. These review petitions will also be on plain paper, and no copy of the original case-record is required. All objections and review petitions must be filed within one month of the date of the service of notices.

The objections and review petitions will be examined with the schedules already prepared at attestation or section 103A stage, and in all cases in which it is found from the schedule that the entry of shara muaiyan is based on the production of rent-receipts by the raiyat, the objection or review petition will be put up to me for summary disposal.

The remaining objections and review petitions will be made over to an Assistant Settlement Officer for enquiry. He will have regard to the following points:—

(1) Whether the landlord or a responsible agent admitted before, or now admits, that there is a custom of guzashta holdings in the village.

(2) Whether there is any other evidence to establish the existence of such a custom.

(3) Whether it is admitted, or has been admitted, that in the village guzashta signifies fixity of rent.

(4) Whether there is any other evidence to establish the significance of the word guzashta in the village.

(5) What proportion of the raiyats of the village or locality have been recorded without objection as shara muaiyan, or have been able to establish their status by the method indicated in section 50, Bengal Tenancy Act, and whether there is sufficient reason for holding that the raiyats against whom objections have been filed are raiyats of the same class as the bulk of the raiyats of the village or locality.

(6) The Assistant Settlement Officer will also inspect any other evidence offered by the raiyat in the first instance or by the landlords with a view to answering such evidence. He should particularly enquire of the raiyat whether he has rent receipts, and will of course scrutinize receipts now offered for the first time with great care.

(7) The Assistant Settlement Officer will not be influenced by the conclusions arrived at by the Attestation Officer or the section 103A Officer, but will consider the case de novo. At the same time he will read the notes of his predecessors in order to find out what evidence was available before them.

J. A. HUBBACK,
Settlement Officer.

EXTENSION OF SERVICE.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

IV.—(a) Will the Government be pleased to state how many officers of each of the classes mentioned below are working on extensions of service in this Province?—

(1) Superintendents of Police and Deputy Inspectors-General of Police.
(2) Sub-Deputy Opium Agents.
(3) Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors.
(4) Munsifs and Subordinate Judges.

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state the reasons which lead the Government to grant extensions of service to members of the Executive and Judicial Services more freely than to the members of the Opium and Police Services?

(c) Is the Government aware that some disappointment exists among the members of the Provincial Executive Service on account of their not getting temporary promotions when officers in the higher grades of the service go on leave, which is contrary to the practice observed in the case of the Covenanted Civil Service and the Police Service?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to make some arrangement in this direction, to avoid any disappointment to the members of the Provincial Executive Service?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state the number of occasions on which promotions in the following services have been made since the 1st of April, 1909?—

(1) Civil Service.
(2) Police Service.
(3) Provincial Executive Service.
(4) Provincial Judicial Service.

The Hon'ble MR. LEVINGE replied:—

(a) "The number of officers of the classes named who are working on extension of service is as follows:—

(1) Superintendent of Police and Deputy Inspector-General of Police	2
(2) Opium Agents	Nil.
(3) Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors	20
(4) Munsifs and Subordinate Judges	5

(b) "For the policy of Government with regard to extensions of service the Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer to the questions asked by the Hon'ble Mr. K. B. Dutt at the meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council held on the 26th February, 1910, a copy of which is placed on the table. The principles therein enunciated apply to all services alike. The case of each officer is considered separately with reference to his personal efficiency and the nature of his duties.

(c) "The answer is in the negative.

(d) "On the information before him the Lieutenant-Governor is not prepared to move in the matter.

(e) "The purport of the question is not altogether clear. Promotions in all services alike are made with effect from the date on which the vacancies occur. The issue of orders announcing promotions, however, is governed by administrative convenience; it is sometimes suitable to announce promotions singly and sometimes in batches. The interests of officers are not affected by these variations as the promotions take effect, as already stated, from the dates on which the vacancies occur. Presuming that the Hon'ble Member desires to know the number of occasions on which promotions have been announced, the answer is as follows:—

(1) Civil Service	5
(2) Police Service	6
(3) Provincial Executive Service	2
(4) Provincial Judicial Service	5."

[Referred to in the Hon'ble Mr. Levinge's answer to Question No. IV, asked by the Hon'ble Babu Braja Kishor Prasad at the Council Meeting of the 30th August, 1910.]

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DUKE to Question No. XII, asked by the Hon'ble Mr. K. B. DUTT at the Council Meeting of the 26th February, 1910:—

(a) "Government is not aware that reasonable disappointment or discontent prevails among members of the Executive Branch of the Provincial Civil Service.

(b) "The policy of Government in respect of extensions of service is laid down in Article 459 of the Civil Service Regulations. The substance of this article is as follows:—

(a) an officer who has attained the age of 55 may be required to retire by the Local Government under which he is employed;

(b) the rule should be worked with discretion in order to avoid depriving the State of the valuable experience of really efficient officers and adding unnecessarily to the non-effective charges. In the case of officers holding superior appointments, the standard of efficiency by which retention is to be decided is above the standard required in lower appointments. In every case in which the rule is enforced, the reasons for enforcing it should be recorded;

(c) each such officer's case should be taken up when he is 55 years old, and before the expiry of each extension of service. In every case the extension should be given for not more than one year at a time;

(d) an officer who has attained the age of 60 cannot be retained in the service of Government save in very exceptional circumstances, and with the sanction of the Local Government.

"This policy is in strict accordance with the directions of the Secretary of State communicated in the Despatch of the 23rd May, 1889, which were expressed as follows:—

'I desire, however, to point out that the question of requiring the retirement of an officer at the age of 55 years should be decided with reference to the efficiency of the officer and the interests of the public service, and that the rule in question should not be enforced merely for the sake of giving promotion to juniors, thereby unnecessarily adding to the charges for superannuation.'

"The guiding principle is that the services of every public officer should be retained so long as he is thoroughly efficient in the performance of his duties, and no longer. It is obviously not to the interests of the public to pay pensions to men who might be profitably employed.

"The age of 55 in no way indicates a limit for employment. It represents merely the age at which experience has shown that it becomes necessary to make special inquiry as to whether an officer is still fully efficient.

"The Lieutenant-Governor sees no reason to institute any change of policy in this respect."

FLOODS IN DARBHANGA.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

V.—(a) Is the Government aware that within the last four years there have been two very heavy floods in the district of Darbhanga, causing much damage to the crops of the district?

(b) Is the Government aware that the floods of the year 1906 brought on famine in the district of Darbhanga, and that the Government had to spend a very large sum of money in consequence?

(c) Is the Government aware that the Tirhut State Railway line, which does not contain a sufficient number of culverts and bridges of sufficient dimensions to allow the passage of the water, is one of the chief causes of these floods?

(d) Is the Government aware that the said railway line between Darbhanga and Hayaghat had to be cut at two places, under the orders of the District Magistrate of Darbhanga, to allow outlets for the flood waters last month, and that, had it not been for this wise and judicious act of the District Magistrate, much damage would have been done to the town and the district?

(e) Is the Government aware that in many places in the interior of the district people attempted to cut the said railway line, to save their lives and property?

(f) Is the Government aware that the people of the district, the local officials and the Commissioner of the Division are of opinion that the said railway line should provide more culverts of sufficient dimensions to allow the passage of flood water?

(g) Will the Government be pleased to move the Railway Board to do what is necessary in the matter of getting more culverts of sufficient dimensions opened in the Tirhut State Railway line?

(h) Will the Government be pleased to inquire whether two bunds on both sides of the rivers Kamala and Bagmati for some miles would prevent the floods, and, if so, will the Government be pleased to construct the said bunds and to levy an embankment cess therefor on the people concerned?

(i) Will the Government be pleased to make an inquiry into the causes of floods in the district of Darbhanga, which have become very common, and to take the necessary steps in the matter?

The Hon'ble MR. BUTLER replied:—

(a) and (b) "The reply is in the affirmative.

(c) "The Government is not aware of this.

(d) "The recent flood was abnormal, and the Railway bank was cut in two places by order of the District Magistrate, and these cuts reduced the depth of flooding in the immediate vicinity.

(e) "A few attempts were made by the villagers to cut the Railway line.

(f) "This question is put in too sweeping a form; but Government believes that the opinion in question is held in some quarters.

(g) "If the local Superintending Engineer considers that more waterway should be provided than what was agreed to by the Railway authorities at a Conference recently held with the local officers, Government will represent to the Railway Board the advisability of providing it.

(h) "The effect of embankments on both sides of the rivers Kamala and Bagmati would be to intensify the flooding of the country below. The construction of such embankments is not therefore advisable.

(i) "When the Commissioner's report about the recent flood in Darbhanga has been received Government will consider whether any further inquiry is needed."

SPECIAL ANNUAL GRANT FOR URBAN SANITARY IMPROVEMENTS.

The Hon'ble RAI KISHORI LAL GOSAIN BAHADUR asked:—

VI.—(a) Has the Government been able, since 1908, to spend the whole of the special annual grant of 4½ lakhs from the Government of India for urban sanitary improvements for the purpose for which the grant is made?

(b) If not, why?

(c) Are there any hard-and-fast conditions on which only local bodies are permitted to avail themselves of grants of the Local Government out of the aforesaid special grant made by the Government of India ?

(d) If so, what are those conditions ?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied:—

(a) and (b) " The answer to the first question is in the affirmative.

(c) and (d) " There are no hard-and-fast rules; but generally speaking certain conditions are required. These are:—

(1) The work must be approved by Government.

(2) The local body must be prepared to carry it out and must have a feasible scheme for financing it.

(3) The local contributions should form an adequate proportion of the total cost of the scheme."

SURVEY SETTLEMENT OPERATIONS IN BIHAR.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKR-UD-DIN asked:—

VII.—(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the several articles published in the Amrita Bazar Patrika, the last one appearing in the issue of 27th July, 1910, protesting against the instructions issued by Mr. Philip to the Assistant Settlement Officers engaged in the survey-settlement operations in Bihar, as regards recording the status of raiyats at fixed rates of rent ?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to inform the public whether any inquiry has been made into the matter, and, if so, with what result ?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to enlighten the public if Mr. Philip had any authority to issue such instructions ?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to enlighten the public as to what steps have been taken, or are likely to be taken, in order to do away with the effect of such instructions ?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied:—

(a) " Yes.

(b) " The Director of Land Records has inquired, and the circular in question has been withdrawn and replaced by a modified one. A copy of the revised circular has been placed on the table.

(c) " The instructions were issued with the approval of the Settlement Officer of Bihar.

(d) " The Settlement Officer is taking steps to give an opportunity to all persons who consider themselves aggrieved by orders passed regarding the status of tenants of guzashta holdings to apply for the revision of those orders, free of cost."

LOCATION OF A MUNSIFI AT BARH.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKR-UD-DIN asked:—

VIII.—(a) Is the Government aware that the litigant public of the Barh Subdivision of the district of Patna, especially the tenant class, have been put to much inconvenience by the location of one of the Munsifs at Barh ?

(b) Is the Government aware that the general public of the Barh Subdivision had submitted a memorial to the Local Government, through the District Officer of Patna, before formal sanction was accorded to the location of a Munsifi at Barh as a temporary measure ?

(c) Is the Government aware that the litigants representing both parties, who had their cases pending in the 3rd Court of the Munsif of Patna, filed petitions before the District Judge, praying for the retention of their cases at the Sadar Munsifi, and that the petitions were rejected?

(d) Is the Government aware that, in case of accumulation of cases in any Munsif's Court at the Sadar, the District Judge used to transfer cases from that Court to another Court, and thereby used to make an equal distribution of work among all the Munsifs, but that this cannot be done now in regard to cases pending in the Court of the Munsif of Barh?

(e) Is the Government aware that the present Munsif deputed to Barh has asked the District Judge to send an additional Munsif as the number of old cases has become large?

(f) Will the Government be pleased to make a thorough and complete inquiry, before confirming, if they intend to confirm, the location of a Munsifi at Barh, as to the convenience or otherwise of the litigants, and as to whether they would like to have their cases tried at Barh or at Bankipore?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied :—

"A memorial was received in January last, purporting to be signed by some two thousand residents of the Barh Subdivision in the district of Patna, praying for the transfer of one of the Munsifs from Bankipore to Barh on the ground of convenience to litigants. A memorial was also received, purporting to be signed by a small number of residents of the Barh Subdivision, objecting to the proposal. The scheme was strongly supported by the local officers, including the District Judge: the question was referred to the High Court and with their consent it was decided that the thanas of Mokameh and Barh should be temporarily formed into a separate Munsifi, and that the court of one of the Munsifs of Patna should sit temporarily at Barh for the disposal of business arising in these thanas. Since April last, when these orders were issued, no reports of inconvenience to the local public have been received. Before the arrangement is made permanent, a full inquiry will be held in the ordinary course."

MANAGERS AND GUARDIANS APPOINTED BY THE COURT OF WARDS IN THE DISTRICT OF PATNA.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKR-UD-DIN asked :—

IX.—Will the Government be pleased to state the names of the Managers appointed by the Court of Wards in the Patna District for the management of the estates, and also to state the names of the gentlemen appointed as personal guardians or tutors of the minors?

Estates under the Court of Wards in the district of Patna.

Names of Estates.	Names of Managers.

THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY WORKSHOPS, JAMALPUR.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKR-UD-DIN asked:—

X.—(a) Will the Government be pleased to state its position in relation to the Jamalpur Railway Workshop?

(b) Does not the Government consider it desirable that selected successful students of the Sibpur Engineering College and the Bihar School of Engineering should receive supplementary training at the Jamalpur Workshop, and that every facility should be afforded for that purpose?

(c) Does the relationship of the Government with the East Indian Railway Company preclude any such arrangement?

(d) If so, will the Government be pleased to take steps to remove any bar that at present exists in regard to the carrying out of any such arrangement?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied:—

" The Jamalpur Workshops are the property of the East Indian Railway, which is under the control of the Government of India and the Railway Board, and is independent of the Local Government.

" Government has not considered the matter of giving these students supplementary training there, and can express no opinion on the matter."

XII.—Will the Government be pleased to state the percentage of Bengal Mussalmans (above the rank of Head Constable) in the Calcutta Police Force?

"It is understood that by the term 'Bengal Mussalmans' the Hon'ble Member means Mussalman inhabitants of the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions. The percentage of such officers (above the rank of Head Constable) in the Calcutta Police Force is 4 per cent."

BIHARI STUDENTS IN CALCUTTA.

The Hon'ble MAHARAJ KUMAR GOPAL SARAN NARAYAN SINGH being absent, the Hon'ble Mr. Dip Narayan Singh, by leave of the President, asked the following questions standing in his name :—

XIII.—(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the unusually large influx of students into the Metropolis from Bihar since the publication of the results of the University Examinations this year, owing to there being no arrangement in the Bihar Colleges for teaching certain combinations of subjects, and that several of these students have had to give up the group of subjects they would have best preferred to study, while several others have been compelled to go back to Bihar disappointed, because of there not being sufficient accommodation for them in the boarding-houses and certified messes attached to the different colleges, the greatest hardship being in the case of Hindu students ?

(b) Is the Government aware that the sanitary arrangements in several of the boarding-houses and messes attached to colleges in Calcutta are in a very incomplete condition, causing grave danger to the health of the students ?

(a) "The attention of Government has not been drawn to the defective provision for the students of Bihar during the current year. An inquiry will be made.

(b) "The Government is not aware that the sanitary arrangements of the boarding-houses and messes attached to colleges in Calcutta are so seriously at fault as to cause great danger to the health of the inmates. The sanitary condition of the institutions referred to is certified by a competent medical authority before they are licensed by the University."

REMOVAL OF THE DEOGHUR SUBDIVISION FROM NON-REGULATION CATEGORY.

The Hon'ble MAHARAJ-KUMAR GOPAL SARAN NARAYAN SINGH being absent, the Hon'ble Mr. Dip Narayan Singh, by leave of the President, asked the following question standing in his name :—

XIV.—Is the Government aware that great progress, materially and in matters educational, has now been made in the Deoghur Subdivision of the Sonthal Parganas, and that it would lead to the greater convenience and comfort of the public if this subdivision were removed from the non-regulation area and made subject to the general civil and criminal laws prevalent in the country ?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied :—

"Government has no reason to suppose that any inconvenience is occasioned to the residents of the Deoghur Subdivision owing to their residing in a non-regulation area. Government has no intention of converting any portion of the Sonthal Parganas into a Regulation district."

MUHAMMADAN REPRESENTATIVE FOR THE SERAMPORE MUNICIPAL BOARD.

The Hon'ble MR. GOLAM HOSSEIN CASSIM ARIFF asked :—

XV.—(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to two articles in the Mussalman of the 3rd and the 24th June, 1910, as also to the editorial paragraph in the Amrita Bazar Patrika of the 29th June, 1910, regarding the removal of a street light close to a mosque in the Konnagar Ward of the Serampore Municipality, in spite of strong protests by the Muhammadans and Hindus of the locality ?

(b) In view of the facts contained in the articles and paragraph referred to above, and of the notes in the Statesman (July 3rd) and the Indian Daily News (July 1st), and also in view of the fact that even the order of the Divisional Commissioner to restore the light was not carried out, will the Government be pleased to consider the desirability of nominating a non-official Muhammadan representative on the Serampore Municipal Board?

(a) "Government has seen the articles in question.

(b) "Before making the nominations, a list of which has been recently published, Government fully considered the question of nominating a Muhammadan representative."

PROPOSED WATER-WORKS IN THE SERAMPORE MUNICIPALITY.

The Hon'ble MR. GOLAM HOSSEIN CASSIM ARIFF asked:—

XVI.—Has the attention of the Government been drawn to an editorial paragraph of the Amrita Bazar Patrika of the 5th August, and also to a letter published in the Empire of the 23rd July, and the Statesman of the 22nd July last, and also to two letters published in the Bengalee of the 22nd and 23rd July last, and also to a letter in the Indian Daily News of the 10th August, about the proposed water-works within the Serampore Municipality?

"Government has seen the paragraph and letters in question."

DIVISION OF THE SERAMPORE MUNICIPALITY.

The Hon'ble MR. GOLAM HOSSEIN CASSIM ARIFF asked:—

XVII.—Is there any scheme at present before the Local Government or the local officials about dividing the Serampore Municipality?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied:—

"A scheme for the subdivision of Serampore Municipality was submitted to Government last year, and it was decided not to proceed with it for the present."

REALIZATION OF PENALTY FOR DEFAULT IN PAYMENT OF LAND-REVENUE IN CUTTACK.

The Hon'ble MR. M. S. DAS asked:—

XVIII.—(a) Is the Government aware of the two cases mentioned below, in connection with the practice existing in the Cuttack Collectorate of realizing a penalty for default in the payment of Government revenue?—

(1) A penalty of Rs. 20 was paid in cash on the 16th March, 1910, by Chintamoney Mahapator for arrears of Rs. 6-5-6, due in tauzi No. 2417 on account of kist November, 1909.

(2) On a petition presented on the 24th November, 1909, praying the Collector to "be graciously pleased to remit the interest and accept payment of the revenue" (due on 8th November, 1909), the Collector passed the following order:—

> "There is no reason why I should make an exception in this case. Penalty must be paid, as ordered. Accept payment on or before November 30th of the arrears offered, together with penalty of one anna in a rupee. Order regarding exemption will be passed on January 15th."

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the order of the Collector in case (2) does not contravene the provisions of section 2 of Act XII of 1841 of the Governor General in Council, which enacts that "There shall be no demand of interest or penalty upon any arrear of land-revenue"?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table the order, notification or other sanction of the Governor General in Council or of the Government of India in support of this practice?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to state the total amount which has been paid in the district of Cuttack during the twelve months ending June, 1910, by defaulting zamindars in consequence of this practice?

(e) In how many districts under the Bengal Government does this practice exist? Will the Government be pleased to name them, and state the amount paid in each district during the period mentioned in the last preceding question?

(a) "The attention of the Government had not previously been drawn to the cases mentioned.

(b) "The power of exemption conferred on the Collector by section 18 of the Revenue Sale Law is unfettered. He has only to record the reasons for an exemption. It is presumed that the Collector's action was in conformity with a Resolution of the Board of Revenue, a copy of which is placed on the table, advising that the severity of the sale law was capable of mitigation by the offer to a defaulter of the choice of payment of a penalty, as an alternative to the exposure of his estate to sale. The acceptance of the offer is entirely voluntary, and the payment of the penalty could not be enforced with reference to the provisions of section 2 of Act XII of 1841. The Resolution was issued in July, 1908. The percentage of the number of sales to the number of defaults which rendered estates liable to sale during the two years previous to the issue of this Resolution was 8·4 and 7·6 and during the two years subsequent to the issue of the Resolution 4·4 and 5·1. In the opinion of Government these results appear to justify the action of the Board of Revenue, and in so far as the abandonment of the procedure would apparently result in an increase in the number of sales, it is not proposed to introduce any change.

(c) "No order or sanction of the Government of India has been given and none is necessary.

(d) "Rs. 10,725-4-8.

(e) "The Resolution of the Board of Revenue was communicated to all Collectors, but information concerning each district is not available."

[Referred to in the Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY's Answer to Question No. XVIII, asked by the Hon'ble Mr. M. S. DAS at the Council Meeting of the 30th August, 1910.]

No. 2790A., dated Calcutta, the 15th July, 1908.

RESOLUTION—By the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces.

The Hon'ble MR. W. C. MACPHERSON, C.S.I.
The Hon'ble MR. R. T. GREER, C.S.I.

THE Board have had under consideration the question of reducing avoidable hardship to proprietors in the working of the Revenue Sale Law with special reference (1) to the responsibility of a proprietor for the default or negligence of his co-sharer when he has not protected himself by opening a separate account, and (2) to the admitted impossibility (under existing arrangements of the Tauzi Office in many districts) of a co-sharer finding out until after the kist day whether the demand for his estate or share has been fully paid.

2. This matter was discussed at the Conference of Commissioners held in October, 1906. At this Conference general approval was given to the practice which was introduced by Mr. Hare (now the Hon'ble Sir Lancelot Hare) into the district of Muzaffarpur of imposing a penalty, or fine (which was levied in Court-fee stamps affixed on petitions) on defaults in payment of land revenue before granting exemption from sale. It is believed that this practice has worked well in Muzaffarpur, and the Board noticed that in the year 1905-06 only 1 in 27 defaulting estates was sold in Muzaffarpur, whereas 1 in 10 defaulting estates was sold in that year in Saran and 1 in every 7 defaulting estates was sold in Shahabad. The inference drawn was that the Sale Law was worked with more leniency in Muzaffarpur than in Saran and Shahabad.

3. The Board have borne in mind the provisions of section 2 of Act XII of 1841, and they also noticed that the Revenue Sale Act, XI of 1859, makes no provision for such procedure as was introduced by Sir Lancelot Hare in Muzaffarpur. While, however, it must be admitted that the law does not provide for Sir Lancelot Hare's method, the Board are not of opinion that the procedure in question is illegal. They take the view that a Collector may properly make a condition that he will exempt from sale on payment of penalty, though he would have no power to realise the penalty, should it be left unpaid. No hardship is caused to the defaulting proprietor who may voluntarily accept a less disastrous alternative than that of sale of his estate or share.

4. The Board, therefore, desire to commend to Collectors the Muzaffarpur practice whereby a fine or penalty is imposed when such a course, according to their judgment, appears to be appropriate, as a condition of granting exemption from sale for an arrear of land revenue. The Board, however, do not consider it advisable to restrict the discretion of Collectors to a fixed scale of penalties. To prevent abuse it is necessary, on the one hand, that a fine should not be more than is really necessary and, on the other hand, that it should not be so small as to be a premium on default.

5. Collectors should bear in mind the necessity of the punctual payment of Government revenue, and the evil of countenancing avoidable defaults. They are allowed to exempt from sale only after the due record of reasons as section 18 of the Act requires.

6. It will be necessary that Commissioners of Divisions should supervise the action of Collectors in accordance with the above instructions.

APPOINTMENT OF HONORARY MAGISTRATES.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

XIX.—(a) Has the Government ever considered the legality of the Circular No. 3185 T., dated the 9th July, 1898, known as the Bolton Circular, under which the Government has taken power to appoint Honorary Magistrates ordinarily for three years?

(b) Is it not the case that section 14 (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898), under which the power above referred to has been assumed, refers only to special Magistrates appointed under section 14 (1) of the Code?

(c) Is it not the fact that appointments of Honorary Magistrates are ordinarily made under section 12 of the Code?

(a) and (b) "The answer is in the affirmative.

(c) "Appointments of Honorary Magistrates to sit singly are always made under section 14, Criminal Procedure Code. Since some date subsequent to 1907 those Honorary Magistrates who are to sit as Bench Magistrates have, in consequence of an oversight, the cause of which cannot be traced, been appointed under section 12. Before that they used to be appointed under section 14. The former procedure will now be reverted to, and all appointments of Honorary Magistrates will in future be made under section 14."

REORGANISATION OF THE PROVINCIAL SERVICE OF THE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

XX.—Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is in contemplation to reorganise the Provincial Service of the Education Department, and, if so, what steps have been taken in the matter?

"The Government of India were recently addressed on the question of the improvement of the Provincial Educational Service, and the matter is under their consideration."

APPOINTMENTS IN THE CALCUTTA MEDICAL COLLEGE.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

XXI.—Will the Government be pleased to announce what effect is proposed to be given to the Resolution of Lord Morley for throwing open some appointments of the Calcutta Medical College to private medical practitioners and to medical officers outside the Indian Medical Service?

"Government are not aware that any Resolution has been passed by the Secretary of State directing that any of the existing appointments of the Calcutta Medical College shall be thrown open to private medical practitioners or to medical officers outside the Indian Medical Service. The Professorship of Biology is not reserved for members of the Indian Medical Service, and the new Professorship of Anatomy will be filled from outside the ranks of that Service."

REDUCTION OF THE KRISHNAGAR COLLEGE TO THE STATUS OF A SECOND GRADE COLLEGE.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked :—

XXII.—Is it a fact that the Government have in view the reduction of the Krishnagar College to the status of a second-grade college ?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied :—

"A report on the subject has recently reached Government, and is at present under consideration. It is unlikely that the status of the College will be reduced."

TEACHING OF SCIENCE IN THE BETHUNE COLLEGE.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked :—

XXIII.—Does the Government intend to make arrangements for the teaching of Science in the Bethune College, in view of the fact that female candidates intending to take up the Science course after Matriculation are compelled to seek admission to the ordinary colleges ?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied :—

"Botany up to the Intermediate Science Standard is at present taught at the Bethune College. The cost of equipping the College completely for the teaching of Science would not be commensurate with the demand for such teaching."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BABU asked the following supplementary question :—

"If sufficient accommodation cannot be provided for in the Bethune College for the teaching of science to female students, can any accommodation for these students be provided for in any other Government College, for instance, the Presidency College in Calcutta ?"

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY said :—

I am unable to reply to the question without notice.

THE PRESIDENT said:—The matter will receive consideration by the Government.

MUHAMMADAN STUDENTS IN THE CALCUTTA UNIVERSITY.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked :—

XXIV.—(a) Is the Government aware that some lecturers in the University of Calcutta have refused admission to a Muhammadan student ?

(b) Does the Government intend to remedy this state of things ?

"The Government has no knowledge of the matter, which is one of University administration."

EXCISE REVENUE DERIVED IN CERTAIN DIVISIONS.

The Hon'ble MR. DIP NARAYAN SINGH asked :—

XXV.—Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement of the revenues derived, under different heads, from Excise during the last ten years in each of the districts of the Patna, Tirhut, Bhagalpur and Chota Nagpur Divisions ?

"Statements containing the information asked for by the Hon'ble Member are laid on the table."

[Referred to in the Hon'ble Mr. Stephenson's Answer to Question No. XXV, asked by the Hon'ble Mr. Dip Narayan Singh at the Council Meeting of the 30th August, 1910.]

APPOINTMENT OF COURT TRANSLATOR IN THE MUZAFFERPUR JUDGE'S COURT.

The Hon'ble MR. DIP NARAYAN SINGH asked :—

XXVI.—(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to a communication headed the "Muzaffarpur Jobbery," published in the Beharee of the 12th August, 1910, in which it is alleged that the son of the Judge's Court Sarishtadar, a junior muharrir on Rs. 20 a month, not conversant with Hindustani, has been appointed Court Translator on Rs. 90 a month, superseding the claims of several competent and qualified amlas, the said vacancy not having even been advertised?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to inquire into the allegations made, and take such necessary steps in the public interest as it may deem necessary?

(a) "The attention of Government had not been drawn to the communication referred to.

(b) "The appointment of the Court Translator is made at the discretion of the District Judge. It has been ascertained that the clerk referred to belongs to a Bengali family which has been domiciled in Bihar for three generations: he is fully conversant with Hindi. He acted as Translator on various occasions during the last two years."

THE SAMBALPUR REPEALING AND AMENDING (RATES AND CESSES) BILL, 1910.

The Hon'ble Mr. Levinge moved for leave to introduce a Bill to repeal and amend in the district of Sambalpur certain enactments relating to abolished rates and cesses.

He said :—"I beg to ask leave, Sir, to introduce a Bill to repeat, for the Sambalpur district, the provisions of Part E of the Schedule of the Repealing and Amending (Rates and Cesses) Act, 1907 (IV of 1907). By that Act, which was an India Council Act, certain enactments were repealed and others were modified in the Central Provinces, in consequence of the abolition of certain rates and cesses (namely, the additional rates on land imposed by Act X of 1878 for expenditure on famine relief and works of sanitary improvement, and the patwari cesses imposed by the Central Provinces Land-revenue Act, 1881 (XVIII of 1881). By an oversight no separate mention was made in the Act of the district of Sambalpur, which by that time had been transferred from the Central Provinces to Bengal, and was therefore no longer included among the districts under the Chief Commissionership of the Central Provinces referred to in Part E of the Schedule annexed to the Act. The result is that although the rates and cesses just mentioned were abolished in the Sambalpur district as well as in the Central Provinces, they are still legally payable in Sambalpur. It is desirable that all references to them in the enactments in force in Sambalpur should be removed, and for this the Bill before the Council provides, by enacting for Sambalpur, the whole of Part E of the Schedule of Act IV of 1907."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. Levinge introduced the Bill, and moved that it be read in Council.

The Motion was put and agreed to, and the Secretary accordingly read the title of the Bill.

THE CALCUTTA IMPROVEMENT BILL, 1910.

The Hon'ble Mr. Stephenson moved for leave to introduce a Bill to provide for the improvement and expansion of Calcutta.

He said :—

"I ask for leave of the Council to introduce a Bill for the Improvement and Expansion of Calcutta. It is intended, if the Bill is introduced and read, to publish it for public information, and not to refer it to a Select Committee until the cold-weather session.

"I may perhaps be expected to give a history of the circumstances leading up to the Bill and of the various stages through which it has passed.

"The starting point of the Improvement Scheme was the Report of the Calcutta Building Commission in 1897. In the Resolution appointing this Commission it was stated that the sanitary officers deputed by the Medical Board to inquire into the condition of Calcutta had shown to what an extent overcrowding prevailed in Calcutta, and how the construction of buildings in the older part of the town impeded or rendered impossible any effective conservancy, and the Commission was directed to inquire into the history and operation of the existing law and by-laws on buildings. They were further requested to inquire into the desirability of opening out the congested tracts of Calcutta and the most feasible plan of effecting this. On this point their recommendations were necessarily vague, and they could only insist on the desirability of opening out a number of fairly wide streets, and, where possible, creating open spaces as lungs to the locality. They could make no estimate as to the cost, but suggested various methods of financing the work, and it is noticeable that, with one exception, every source of revenue tapped in the present Bill was mentioned in the Commission's Report.

"The proposals were taken up by this Government, and in July, 1899 the Government of India were first addressed. The scheme set forth was to drive 15½ miles of roads through the congested portions in the north of Calcutta, and to provide incidentally open spaces where possible. The estimated cost was five crores, and it was proposed that the execution of these great works of improvement should be entrusted to a special and separate body or Trust, and that the Land Acquisition Act should be amended in certain particulars. The cost of the scheme was to be met half by recoupment, that is to say, by the taking up and sale of surplus lands lying along the roads, and the other half by loans on the security of a tax of 1 per cent. on jute, but guaranteed by the Corporation.

"This was the first proposal for the improvement of Calcutta, and it is desirable to notice certain features of it. In the first place, the proposal for 15½ miles of roads was not based on any survey or any definite scheme. It had its origin in a note pointing out that certain roads in certain directions were very desirable, and 15½ miles was taken as a convenient approximation. Secondly, the alterations were confined to these roads. The bustees were to be swept away to the width of the roads or of the land to be taken up, but no attempt was foreshadowed to improve the congested areas still remaining between the streets or to provide for the transfer of the congested population elsewhere. Thirdly, the estimate of cost was exceedingly uncertain. Until a scheme is prepared there can be no definite estimate of expenditure. All that could be done, and was done, was to take the cost of the only wide road that had been constructed—Harrison Road—and assume that the cost and recoveries would work out as they did in that case, and it is on that basis that the recoveries by recoupment—a principle which persists through all the schemes—are calculated at about a half of the gross cost. It is very important to remember this indefiniteness in the estimates because that is the factor which more than anything else has made it difficult to frame financial proposals, and is thus responsible for the delay that has taken place in giving the proposals their final shape.

"The Government of India at once accepted the main features of the scheme, but were unable, for reasons partly connected with the currency policy, to allow the tax on jute. Practically the whole correspondence of the next three years hinges upon the question how Calcutta could best meet the burden of the improvements, and how far and in what form assistance might properly be given to it. In 1900 the Government of India proposed to recommend to the Secretary of State that a grant of Rs. 50 lakhs be made from Imperial Revenues for the scheme, on the understanding that a Trust was formed to carry it out, and that the money which had to be raised by loan should be raised on the security of the rates; and this offer was subsequently approved by the Secretary of State on condition that a scheme was framed causing the cost of the improvements to fall upon the Municipality, and that adequate taxation was imposed to meet this cost. This offer did not remove all the difficulties, and the Government of Bengal proposed to reduce the scheme to more modest dimensions. Their proposal was not considered by the Government of India to meet the needs of the case, and further correspondence ensued, chiefly upon details of finance with which I need not trouble the Council, because although they cleared the ground for the present scheme, they are not now of practical importance. Finally, in 1902 the Government of India forwarded to the Secretary of State the first definite scheme that had been put before him. This was to construct 15½ miles of roads at a cost of Rs. 478 lakhs, of which 291 lakhs was expected to be recovered by recoupment and 50 lakhs was to be given from Imperial Revenues. The remainder was to be raised by loans for a term of sixty years, and the Corporation was to meet the loan charges from their own resources, supplemented by a tax on petroleum; and on the expiry of 20 years the Corporation should take over from the Trust all its liabilities and assets. The Secretary of State accepted the principle of the scheme with very considerable modifications, and insisted that the responsibility of the Corporation should be definitely fixed, and they should be bound by legislation to pay a certain sum annually to the credit of the Trust, and proposed that 1½ per cent. of the total rateable value of all lands and buildings in the city should be paid annually to the Trust; that the proceeds of the tax on petroleum should also be paid direct to the Trust, and that the Corporation should be made responsible for any deficit.

"At this stage the scheme was made public and criticisms were invited. This is the end of the first period, and it may be convenient to summarise the principles which had been worked out during the first five years. They were—

(i) that the opening up of congested areas was necessary;

(ii) that this could best be done by a Trust;

(iii) that the principle of recoupment could be relied upon to meet a large part of the cost;

(iv) that the balance should fall primarily upon Calcutta, and that a substantial contribution must be made by the Corporation;

(v) that Government would help with a grant of Rs. 50 lakhs;

(vi) that the Corporation must assume the liabilities of the Trust when the latter was wound up; and (vii) that some amendment of the Land Acquisition Act would be required.

"There was a considerable discussion on the published scheme, but nothing more of importance was done till the beginning of 1904 when, as matters were progressing very slowly and it was recognised that the machinery of official correspondence was in some respects ill-adapted to effect an expeditious settlement of questions so intricate as those which arose in connection with the improvement of Calcutta, an advisory Conference was held at which Your Honour and Sir Herbert Risley attended on behalf of the Government of India. This Conference felt acutely the difficulty already alluded to arising from the necessarily vague nature of the scheme, and limited their recommendations to the classes of work to be undertaken.

"The recommendations of the Conference are of the utmost importance in the history of the scheme. They differ considerably from the principles hitherto laid down, especially as regards the scope of the Trust, and they form the basis of the present Bill. The defect that the earlier proposals dealt only with a very limited portion of the overcrowding was clearly recognised, and the new scheme was much more comprehensive. The new scheme proposed to tackle the areas outside the alignment of these roads, which were still the backbone of the scheme, to provide for more open space and to clear overbuilt areas. This at once raised the question which had hitherto been avoided of what was to become of the ejected population. If the congested areas were opened out, the inhabitants must go somewhere, and not only that but care must be taken that the growth of population does not cause the areas to be again congested. The surplus present population as well as the growth of population in future must be provided for if permanent good was to be done. There are not sufficient areas in Calcutta itself to provide for their accommodation, and it was necessary, therefore, that the Trust should look to the future expansion of Calcutta, and should extend their operations to the suburbs in the direction in which this expansion would naturally take place. It follows therefore that the Trust must have power to make the suburbs, where the surplus population should be provided for, accessible by constructing or subsidizing trams or other means of cheap conveyance. Further, although it was hoped that private enterprise would provide suitable accommodation, yet the past history of the congested areas showed that it was essential that the Trust should be in a position to enforce the restrictions and regulations that are necessary for sanitation and the amenities of life. The Trust must then have power to acquire land in suburban areas which they could sell or lease, imposing suitable conditions, and they must also have the power given to the Corporation of Calcutta of regulating buildings. All this was provided for in the scheme drawn up by the Conference.

"The enlarged scope of the scheme necessarily meant a considerable increase in the cost. The amount required was roughly estimated to be Rs. 822 lakhs, but, there is no virtue in this particular amount, and no doubt a great deal more could be spent with advantage. This does not represent the actual cost of any definite scheme, but is roughly what is estimated to be required for any scheme of wide and permanent utility on these lines. It was proposed to spend Rs. 500 lakhs on new roads, 172 lakhs on open spaces and 150 lakhs on housing and expansion. Of this sum, 336 lakhs was to be recovered by recoupment, 50 lakhs was Government contribution, and the remainder was to be raised by loans.

"The current expenses and the Sinking Fund for the loans were to be provided by a contribution from the Corporation, supplemented by the proceeds from certain taxes, among which were—a ¼ per cent. tax on jute, a terminal tax on passengers, and a transfer duty on land in Calcutta.

"The municipal contribution was to be a first charge on the rates, and was to be paid even if it were necessary to raise the rates above the legal maximum. The Conference also discussed the composition of the Trust, and proposed a body of six Trustees in addition to a President. The Chairman of the Corporation was to be an ex-officio Trustee, and two of the other Trustees were to be Commissioners of the Calcutta Municipality and one a member of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, but all were to be appointed by Government.

"The proposals of the Conference were accepted by the Government of Bengal and forwarded to the Government of India. Some discussion as to the practicability of some of the proposed taxes followed, but eventually the sanction of the Secretary of State was obtained to the proposals generally on the understanding that the scheme of taxation would be for 60 years; and that although some of the loans would not fall due till after the expiration of 60 years, yet inasmuch as all the revenue would not be required in the first few years to meet interest and the sinking fund of loans, which would only be raised as required, the balance of the revenue would be invested, and thus be ready to meet all liabilities when the scheme of taxation was stopped. In 1905

the Government of India forwarded an analysis of the scheme as it then stood, and the opinion of the public was invited on it. This scheme reproduced all the recommendations of the Conference. The cost of management by the Trust was taken at Re. 1 lakh, and the annual charge for interest and sinking fund at Rs. 20,35,000. This was to be met as follows:—

	Rs.
The estimated recoveries from the land taken for the surplus population	3,00,000
Contributions by the Corporation, supplemented by special taxation	16,35,000

"The contribution of the Corporation was to be a fixed demand of Rs. 4,64,000, being the sum made available by the repayment of the Government loan in December 1908 plus 1½ per cent. on the rateable value, which was then calculated to yield Rs. 3,60,000. The Corporation were also held liable for default on the part of the Trust. In order to enable the Corporation to meet these liabilities, their revenues were to be supplemented by new taxes on petroleum and on transfers of immovable property. It was further proposed that the special taxation should consist of a tax on jute and one or more of various other taxes, including a railway terminal tax. The general summary of the scheme may perhaps be quoted:—

'The scheme involves a capital expenditure of 822 lakhs. The persons whose land is improved are expected to repay to the Trust 336 lakhs capital, while those who are served by the housing operations will pay 3 lakhs per annum, i e, 2 lakhs per annum (sufficient in 60 years to repay a loan of 42 lakhs), and the cost of management, 1 lakh. The capital outlay may therefore be regarded as thus distributed:—

Persons directly benefited	378 lakhs.
Residents of Calcutta	394 ,,
The general tax-payer	50 ,,

'Thus no part of the cost of management and less than half the capital charges fall on the local tax-payer.

'The comparative lightness of the burden in relation to the magnitude of the operations involved is the more noticeable when the scheme of taxation comes to be analysed. The repayment of 394 lakhs involves an annual charge of Rs. 18,35,000. Of this amount, it is contemplated that over Rs. 4 lakhs will be obtained from the Corporation without additional taxation and 5 lakhs from the tax on jute, by far the greater proportion of which will probably be borne by consumers beyond Calcutta. The special additional taxation falling ultimately on Calcutta represents in fact only about one-quarter of the whole cost of the scheme.'

"The opinions of the interested public were collected and carefully considered. On the whole, the scheme was well received, but there was some opposition to almost every proposed tax except, perhaps, that on jute. As a result of these criticisms, the constitution of the Trust was slightly altered, and they were given power to co opt temporarily experts or persons specially interested in any particular scheme that happened to be before the Trust at the time. Their hands were also strengthened by giving them power to construct roads in the suburbs. As regards the financial question, the opinions received disclosed a strong feeling that the contribution from Imperial Revenues might fairly be enhanced, and the Government of India were asked for a further grant of 1½ lakhs per annum for 60 years. As the best solution of the very vexed question of the proper amount of the municipal contribution, the following was proposed:—

(1) that the Corporation contribute to the Trust an annual sum equal to a 2 per cent. consolidated rate, estimated to yield 5·40 lakhs;

(2) that a transfer duty at 2 per cent. be imposed on sales, gifts and usufructuary mortgages of immovable property in Calcutta, estimated to yield 2 lakhs a year; and

(3) that if in any year the sum of these two sources of revenue fell short of 7·50 lakhs, the Corporation should make up the deficiency.

"As regards the taxes necessary to make up the required balance of the revenue, it was recognised that no increased taxation would be altogether popular, and after much discussion and consultation with the interests concerned, it was proposed to levy the jute tax and the terminal tax. This scheme of taxation appeared to Government to constitute as equitable a distribution of the general burden as was possible under the circumstances.

"This scheme was sent home, and the Secretary of State, in giving his sanction to it, directed that some of the members of the Trust should be elected. He also sanctioned the annual subvention of Rs. $1\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs on the condition that the scheme of taxation became law in its entirety and was made effective for the full term of 60 years. The improvement scheme thus received its present shape, and the subsequent delay has been due to its being cast into the form of a Bill and to the necessary criticisms on the wording and form of sections of that Bill.

"Such is the history of the scheme, and I trust that I have indicated sufficiently clearly the reasons for the delay in bringing it to fruition—a delay that may well have seemed intolerable to those who were necessarily ignorant of the cause. Perhaps I may be permitted now to set forth shortly and generally the nature and scope of the present Bill.

"The agency set up by the Bill is a body of Trustees. It has been recognised from the beginning that the hands of the Corporation are too full of their ordinary administration to allow them to take up a special scheme of this magnitude, which should be designed, executed and superintended by an independent body, and the precedent of the Bombay Improvement Trust has been taken. In Bombay the number of Trustees is 14, but so large a number is open to serious objections. The Trust is not a deliberative body; it is formed to execute works within certain defined lines: it is essential that their action shall be prompt, and their policy continuous and their decisions secret. A Board of seven, including a President, seems to be quite large enough from this point of view. To meet the objection that such a body cannot be sufficiently representative, it is proposed that the principal interests concerned—those of the Corporation—shall be represented by the Chairman being ex officio a Trustee and two of the remaining Trustees being elected by the Corporation. Another Trustee is elected by the Chamber of Commerce. To provide for other interests that may be concerned in any particular scheme before the Trust, it is proposed that the Trustees shall co-opt representative persons who shall take part in all the consultations of the Trust. The President of the Trust is to be a whole-time officer, appointed for three years on a salary of not more than Rs. 3,000; the term of office of the other Trustees is two years, and they are to be remunerated by fees. Rules of Business have been provided, based on the Bombay Trust Act and the Calcutta Municipal Act; and in view of the magnitude of their task, the importance of the interests concerned, the large amount provided from public funds and, above all, the necessarily uncertain financial nature of the operations, considerable Government control has been provided. All schemes are subject to Government approval, and all loans, and all contracts involving more than a lakh, must be sanctioned by Government. Government has also reserved the power to make rules, and to keep a constant check on the proceedings of the Trust.

"As regards the work of the Board, the Trustees may undertake either a general improvement scheme or a street scheme. The first will provide for the relaying out of a congested or insanitary area, and it is provided that when the scheme comprises an area of 40 acres, more than one-third of which is covered by buildings, the Trust may acquire land for the formation of open spaces. A street scheme will provide for the improvement of communications and sanitation and for the opening up of congested areas. Under such a scheme all main thoroughfares must be at least 60 feet wide, minor thoroughfares 40 feet, and bustee roads 20 feet. For the purpose of both classes of schemes the Trust may acquire land, demolish buildings and alter streets. But in both cases they are bound to provide for the construction of dwellings for persons displaced and for shops for their use. With this object they may acquire land either inside or outside the Municipality. It is not contemplated that the Trust will enter on a course of speculative building, but it is recognised that the provision of dwellings must precede the demolition of existing areas, and it may be necessary for the Trust to show the way before private enterprise steps in. When private enterprise is ready to take up the building, the Trust will either lease or sell on suitable conditions the land acquired for the purpose. For the purposes of their schemes the Trust may take over any existing street or open space, under certain restrictions necessary to safeguard the public, and on completion of the scheme they will hand over to the Corporation all the streets and open spaces comprised in it; but before doing so they are bound to provide all municipal conveniences—drainage, water, lighting, and the like. As it is necessary to prevent the evils, which this Bill is intended to remedy, arising in the suburban area, power has been taken to extend the Act and the whole or part of the Calcutta Municipal Act to any neighbouring area, and the Trustees are authorized to subsidize tramways to improve the communications with these areas.

"As regards finance, while there are necessarily no estimates and the Bill does not refer to any limit of expenditure, the proposals have been drawn up on the rough calculation that the cost will be 822 lakhs, of which 336 lakhs will be recovered by recoupment and 50 lakhs, will be granted from Imperial Revenues. There remains a sum of 436 lakhs to be raised by loan, for periods not exceeding 60 years in each case. For the service of these loans an annual revenue of 19·65 lakhs is necessary, and to this must be added 1·25 for working expenses and contingencies, bringing the total up to 20·90. To meet this revenue, the Bill provides for the levy of the following taxes:—

(1) An extra duty of 2 per cent. on the value of all immovable property situated in the Calcutta Municipality which is transferred by sale, gift or usufructuary mortgage; the money to be collected under the Stamp Act and paid at the end of the year to the Trustees. One result of the improvements must be the enhancement of the value of immovable property in Calcutta, and it is only equitable that the class of owners of property who are thus benefited should contribute directly to the cost of the scheme. The burden of a general raising of the rates might be passed on to the occupiers in whole or in part, and it is essential that some means should be devised to prevent the owners of land from evading their obligations. This tax is estimated to bring in two lakhs.

(2) A terminal tax of half an anna to be paid by every passenger by rail or steamer to or from Calcutta. It is fair that residents outside who visit Calcutta and are for the time at all events benefited by the improvements should pay some share of the cost. The tax is to be collected in the shape of a surcharge on the ticket by the Railway and Steamer Companies concerned, and paid by them at the end of the year. It is intended at all events at first to exempt passengers from within a radius of 30 miles on the ground that the ejected population must necessarily be driven to the suburbs, and it is unwise to do anything that might hamper their free coming and going; but power has been taken to abolish this concession with the sanction of the Government of India if at any time it is thought expedient to do so. This tax is estimated to yield two lakhs.

(3) A Customs and Excise duty, not exceeding 2 annas per bale of 400 pounds, on raw jute and jute cuttings and rejections exported from the Port of Calcutta or consumed in any mill in Bengal. It is not intended to impose the full duty at first, but to begin with 1 anna 9 pies per bale. The justification for this impost is the fact that though many of the mills are outside municipal limits, yet they do to some extent contribute to the overcrowding; moreover, the head-quarters of the industry is in Calcutta, the agents are all there, and the financing is there. It is in this sense peculiarly a Calcutta industry, and will benefit directly or indirectly by the improvements. The full duty of 2 annas is about a quarter per cent. on the value, and will practically not be felt. It is estimated to realise 8·40.

"We have then a revenue of 12·40 produced by special taxation on persons directly or indirectly benefited. It is estimated that the Trust may expect to receive another 3 lakhs a year from the lands it acquires for housing the surplus population, and from such buildings as it may erect on these lands. There remains the contribution of the Corporation. This will be a first charge on the rates, and will consist of a sum equal to a 2 per cent. consolidated rate with the stipulation that this sum, together with the transfer tax, shall not be less than 7½ lakhs. In addition to this, there is a further liability imposed by the Bill on the Corporation, viz., that if the Trust fails to pay the interest and sinking fund charges on the loans raised, the Accountant-General, Bengal, shall pay them and shall be reimbursed immediately out of the Municipal Funds by the Chairman of the Corporation. In such a case the rents and income of the Trust shall be attached and paid to the Corporation until the debt is liquidated.

"This makes up the estimated revenue of the Trust, and the grant of a lakh and a-half from the Government of India forms the reserve. It will be observed that the financial scheme is necessarily very uncertain. There is no defined estimate of expenditure; the working expenses may very likely be heavier than anticipated; the cost of the scheme may turn out very much in excess of the very rough calculations for which there is only a very shadowy basis. And on the receipts side the recoveries by recoupment may be considerably less than our anticipation. It is true that the required annual income is based on the supposition that the full loan of 436 lakhs will be taken from the first; but, on the other hand, the three lakhs taken credit for in revenue as the income from the lands taken up for housing will certainly not be received from the first. The receipts from the terminal tax and the tax on jute are estimates only and may be falsified. Further, if the loans are not taken at once, their term will extend beyond the period of taxation, and excess revenue in the first years must be put aside to meet this liability; and, lastly, the 336 lakhs it is estimated to recover by recoupment or some portion of them may have to be taken before the recoupment recoveries begin to come in, in which case a further charge for interest may be incurred. For all these reasons it is sound to have a reserve of revenue, and the Government grant of 1½ lakhs will provide this, and can be supplemented by an increase in the jute tax to 2 annas and by the rise in the value of the consolidated rate. At the same time the financial condition may turn out better than has been anticipated, and in that case it would be possible, when the position of the Trust is fully assured, to give some relief from the annual payments, and power has been taken to give this relief with the consent of the Government of India; the nature of the relief and the recipients would be determined when the occasion arises.

"Lastly, one word about the alteration of the procedure for land acquisition.

"A special Tribunal is set up to take the place of the Court under the Land Acquisition Act. This Tribunal consists of a President and two assessors. The President must be either a member of the Judicial Branch of the Imperial or Provincial Civil Service, of not less than ten years' standing, who has, for at least three years, served as District Judge or held judicial office not inferior to that of a Subordinate Judge of the first grade, or a barrister, advocate or pleader of not less than ten years' standing, who has practised as an advocate or pleader in the Calcutta High Court. The President and one assessor shall be appointed by Government and the other assessor by the Corporation, and this Tribunal will decide all questions in dispute regarding compensation under the Bill. In order to guard against loss to the public owing to unduly inflated prices having to be paid for the land acquired, precautions have been taken to prevent fictitious enhancement of values, and the definition of market value has been recast."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. Stephenson introduced the Bill and moved that it be read in Council.

The motion was put and agreed to, and the Secretary accordingly read the title of the Bill.

RESOLUTIONS ON MATTERS OF GENERAL PUBLIC INTEREST.

The PRESIDENT said:—

"The first Resolution of which notice has been given stands in the name of the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari. The Hon'ble Member has sent in a copy of his speech, and the hon'ble seconder of the Resolution has also sent in a copy of his speech. These two speeches will be taken as read; but I must call upon the hon'ble mover to move the Resolution which stands in his name."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI then moved the following Resolution:—

The Council respectfully recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that the question of improving the pay and status of the Subordinate Judicial Service be taken up, and that early representations be addressed to the Government of India with regard to such suggestions for improvement, made from time to time in this Council, in the Press and through other channels, as may commend themselves to His Honour's Government, in order that provision therefor may be included in the next Provincial Budget.

He said:—

"In connection with the last budget I gave notice of a resolution regarding the question of the improvement of the Subordinate Judicial Service.

"Before the resolution was brought on I had an opportunity of talking matters over with some members of the Government, and I realised that, though Government would be in sympathy with the objects of the resolution, if not with all its details, the resolution, even though carried, would serve no useful purpose at that stage. The budget for the year was too far advanced, and the Government would not have time to consider all the details of the resolution and submit its representations to the Government of India, and finally to the Secretary of State for ultimate sanction. It was not my purpose to raise a mere academic debate, altogether devoid of practical results. Such discussions we had in previous years, and they had not advanced matters much. It is not, perhaps, quite correct to say so, because the High Court and the Government of Bengal were good enough to agree to and accept some of the suggestions made in the course of those debates, though the action thereupon taken may not unfortunately have commended itself entirely to the Supreme Government. In connection with the budget debates of 1908 and 1909, I went into the details of the grievances of the service fully. I also submitted notes to the then Judicial Secretary, in which the ground not covered by the budget debates was included. But I felt that interviews with those directly in charge might clear up the ground and make the acceptance of some, at least, of our suggestions practicable. I accordingly withdrew the resolution at the time, and reminded those who did not approve of such withdrawal that the resolution could be brought forward at a more convenient time.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay has been good enough to give me an opportunity of discussing matters with him since the return of the Government from Darjeeling. I found him sympathetic and willing to meet me more than half way. But the objects in view are not likely to be attained unless matters are further threshed out.

"It will therefore be necessary to invite the attention of the Council to some of the salient considerations affecting the outstanding issues. Though I did not move my resolution in question on the previous occasion, the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay took the trouble of answering me in advance, which gives me an advantage of which I may be permitted to avail myself. Governments have their difficulties as well as individuals, and their powers may not always be as untrammelled, or their resources as unlimited, as outsiders are apt to imagine. It is expedient, therefore, to take note and count of these possibilities in dealing with situations like those involved in the resolution I have now the honour to move. I have made its terms more general than on the previous occasion, and my resolution is moved more with the object of calling attention to the whole question than of pressing specific suggestions, in the way of the acceptance of which there may be difficulties of which we know nothing. I am exceedingly grateful that Your Honour was graciously pleased to allow me to move the resolution, although, under the rules, my notice of motion, when actually sent in, was out of time.

"The chief recommendation is for the creation of a 500-rupee grade of Munsifs. These recommendations date earlier than the separation of the judicial cadre of East Bengal from that of our own Province, and by an irony of fate the recommendation that was primarily for the amelioration of the condition of the Bengal Service proper when it was made, was first adopted in East Bengal, and later on in far off Burma. We are yet without it here, and it needs a prophet of more than ordinary keenness and worldly wisdom to be able to foretell when we are likely to have it.

"The arguments in favour of this new grade have been shortly summarised as follows:—

(1) that the present grading of Munsifs is bad in itself;

(2) that it compares unfavourably with the grading of the Executive Branch of the Provincial Civil Service;

(3) that the sixth grade on Rs. 250 a month is disproportionately large; and

(4) that, as a result of this unsatisfactory grading, the promotion of Munsifs to the grade of Sub-Judge is unduly deferred, so that men only attain to that rank shortly before they are liable to be called upon to retire.

"There are other arguments in favour of the proposition, which will appear later on.

"The general replies to these arguments are supposed to be:—

(1) The existing grading of the Judicial Branch, taken as a whole, is more favourable than the standard grading laid down for a service consisting of seven grades.

(2) The existing number of appointments in the sixth grade on Rs. 250 a month is smaller than the number assigned to the corresponding grade in the standard grading.

(3) Although the Executive Branch has a larger proportion of appointments in the middle grades (Rs. 400 and Rs. 300), as compared with the lower grades (Rs. 250 and Rs. 200), than the Judicial Branch, and is in this respect more advantageously placed, yet it has only six appointments on Rs. 800 a month and none on a higher rate of pay; whereas the Judicial Branch has five appointments on Rs 1,000 and ten on Rs. 800 a month. The average pay of a member of the Judicial Branch is Rs. 372·3 a month, and of a member of the Executive Branch Rs. 369·7 a month.

(4) The average age of the Senior Sub-Judges on the Bengal list, when they attained that rank, was about 50½ years, and their average service about 20½ years. Looking at the length of service which most Government servants render before they retire on pension, this is not an unduly long period for a Munsif to serve before being promoted to be a Sub-Judge. The Junior Sub-Judges have attained that rank after a considerably shorter period of service than the men now at the top of the list, and there are therefore grounds for anticipating that promotion will be more rapid in future.

(5) The average pay of Subordinate Judges and Munsifs taken together is already higher, and in most cases much higher than, the average pay of similar officers in other provinces, with the exception of Eastern Bengal, where a Rs. 500 grade was added on special grounds.

"I hope I have not done the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay's case any injustice in the above summary, and may really have overstated it. I have not had an opportunity of testing whether the last argument in all its aspects is sound or not. There are, they say, parts of the country where it is still possible for a Munsif to become a Sub-Judge in 10 or 12 years. There are parts of the country, again, in which the 'Village Munsif' is nothing like the officer going under a similar name here. Arguments by analogy like this should not be permitted to affect the present proposition even if they were locally sound. The conditions of each service under different administrations must determine its treatment, and the premier subordinate service of India, hardly inferior to any in the world, whether Covenanted or not, ought not to be told that back-wood averages are good enough for it. It is well known that work in Bengal is heavy, intricate and exacting.

"In trying to meet this argument by analogy on its own ground, as to the existing grading, it does not appear how it is more favourable than that in any other service. The fact that the existing number in the sixth grade (of Rs. 250) is smaller does not prove anything. There are 52 Munsifs in that grade and there are 50 Deputy Magistrates in the grade of Rs. 250. But the total number of the Deputy Magistrates is much larger (nearly double) than that of the Munsifs and Sub-Judges taken together. The percentage is therefore larger in the judicial services in this grade than in the executive services. The number of Sub-Judges is far less than the number of Deputy Magistrates of grades of Rs. 500 and above. The grade of Rs. 1,000 for Sub-Judges is merely ornamental, as few can remain in that grade for even a year, and even after extension is granted. The tragic fate of the king-consort in a well-known work of fiction soon after his ascent to the giddy height is often recalled to mind by outgoing members of this grade.

"It is admitted that the average age of the judicial officer up to which he draws pay up to Rs. 400 is 50½ years. The average period of service is 20½ years, which rises to 22 in some cases, while the average age of the Deputy Magistrate up to which he draws the pay of Rs. 400, i.e., remains in the fifth grade, is about 40 years, and the average period of service during which such preferment occurs, only 16 years. Thus, the judicial officer has the chance of remaining in the higher grade above Rs. 400 now only is 4½ years (not taking the extension into account), while the Deputy Magistrate works in the higher grade for 15 years.

"Except in one or two cases junior officers have not attained to the rank of Sub-Judge before the age of 50½ years, and no inference can legitimately be drawn from this, nor any expectations based.

"I would not do the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay the injustice of thinking that his observations on the last occasion imply that the grievances of the Provincial Judicial Service are more imaginary than real, or that the good work of the service is not appreciated. Such suggestions would indeed be distinctly contrary to acknowledged authorities like Justices Prinsep and Rampini and Messrs. Streatfeild and Richardson. But in presenting 'another side' of the question his arguments happened to be one sided, possibly because he had not much time to examine his and my grounds. But for this he could not have made palpable mistakes like those in calculating the period of holidays enjoyed by the Executive and Judicial officers, and the pay and prospects of those officers, as will be seen later on.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay observed that there should be some general principles upon which the improvement of the service should be considered. There is no gainsaying this, and upon such general principles, indeed, do I venture to urge the necessity of the creation of a new grade of Rs. 500 for Munsifs who exercise jurisdiction up to Rs. 2,000, or in the alternative, the provision for a personal allowance of Rs. 100 for officers exercising such jurisdiction. I urge it not merely upon the ground that there is a grade of Rs. 500 in Eastern Bengal and Assam and Burma which the earlier discussions in this Council really brought about, or that there is such a grade amongst the members in the Provincial Executive Service, but upon far stronger grounds still of expediency and justice that influenced the High Court in pressing for this reform at the time of the separation of the Provincial Judicial Service, after the question was raised in Council in 1908. I would be very much mistaken and disappointed, indeed, if, having regard to all the facts and circumstances, the proposal did not strongly appeal to our Local Government at the time. Whatever may have stood in the way of its acceptance, it was singularly unfortunate that this grade of Munsifs was not created. Those interested in the improvement of the service can give themselves no rest till this bare act of justice is vouchsafed.

"Munsifs have ordinarily to try regular suits up to the value of Rs. 1,000. Suits over the value of Rs 1,000 are triable by Subordinate Judges. In course of time the work of Subordinate Judges in some districts increased, but not so as to necessitate the addition of another Subordinate Judge. It was then thought expedient to vest a few of the senior Munsifs with the power to try suits up to the value of Rs. 2,000, and the Bengal and North-Western Provinces Civil Courts Act, 1887 (XII of 1887) was passed chiefly with this object. In earlier years this power used to be vested but sparingly, and only in a few districts; and where the increased work was sufficient for another Subordinate Judge, a second or an Additional Subordinate Judge used to be appointed. Thus, then, there were very few Munsifs vested with this power, and this did not interfere with the addition of Subordinate Judges to the cadre whenever necessary. The Munsifs also, under the circumstances, considered this addition to their power as a privilege, and did not complain about the additional burden.

"This state of things however gradually altered. A larger number of Munsifs began to be vested with this power to cope with the increase of work, but I hope not to avoid the creation of new Subordinate Judges. At the present time quite a large number of Munsifs of the first grade is vested with this power. This is therefore no longer considered as a distinction or privilege but a burden—a burden that is not but ought to be paid for. In this Province, in almost every district, one or two Munsifs in the Sadar, and even in some mufassal stations, are vested with this power. Practically most of the suits from the value of above Rs. 1,000 up to Rs. 2,000 are now tried by Munsifs with this power, and not by the Subordinate Judges, whose ordinary function it is to try them and whose judgment the litigating public is ordinarily entitled to. To go more into details: of about 5,750 suits yearly triable by the Subordinate Judges in this Province, nearly 3,000 suits are of the value of Rs. 1,000 and upwards up to Rs. 2,000 Of these, about 1,500 suits are now tried by the Munsifs with this extraordinary power. And if provision had to be made for their trial in the ordinary way by Subordinate Judges, at least six such Judges would have to be added to the cadre. Twenty-six Munsifs of the first grade in this Province, who are vested with the power, are thus doing about one-third of the ordinary work of the Subordinate Judge, and by this arrangement the necessity of adding to their number has been avoided. Many of these Munsifs have again to do heavy duties under the Land Acquisition Act and the Probate and Administration Act as District Delegates. Therefore it is quite reasonable that these Munsifs for this additional special work should have an additional allowance, which I venture to assess at Rs. 100. Or, if this is considered objectionable, the amount of the allowance may be added to their pay to create a new grade of Rs. 500. Additional allowance like this for special work, and even for training for any special work, is granted to the members of many other services, and it is but just that members of the Judicial Service should be permitted to have this allowance. By the prevailing arrangement the Government has made considerable saving, but the service has received no advantage. If anything, the advantage has been of a negative kind, for Munsifs have been deprived of the possibility of being made Subordinate Judges sooner.

"There are now 208 officers in the Provincial Judicial Service, of whom only 38 are Subordinate Judges, and the period of service is on an average 25 years. Each officer can remain as Subordinate Judge for about 4½ years. If the number of Subordinate Judges was increased by six, as it ought to be, and must be if Munsifs have not to do this work, the period of service as Subordinate

Judge would have been five years and three months. Thus, by this arrangement, each Munsif loses about nine months of his service as Subordinate Judge, which is certainly a great loss to him. This loss would not be compensated even if the grade of Rs. 500 is created. And there is a strong feeling in some quarters that, instead of proposing this grade, the creation of an adequate number of Subordinate Judges on the usual scale of pay, to try suits of the value up to Rs. 2,000, should be urged. I do not urge this because the Government has, at the instance of the High Court, recently added two Subordinate Judges to the cadre, for which we are grateful. One other reason why I do not urge this is because my present proposal would benefit a larger number in the service who have long been doing good work. If this proposal is accepted, and if there are no valid reasons to the contrary, there may, having regard to the views that I have indicated, preferably be a 500-rupee grade of Subordinate Judges and not Munsifs, which would appeal to the sentiments and the imagination of the Service better. The strength of the grade may be 14, as was proposed in the case of the Rs. 500 grade of Munsifs.

"These arguments apply, mutatis mutandis, to Subordinate Judges who are vested with powers of Sessions Judges. In their case also, some allowance should be given for their additional work, especially as it involves additional expense to keep up dignity as an Assistant Sessions Judge.

"Next, the question of reduction of the number of third grade Subordinate Judges from 25 to 15 and proportionate increase in the number in the second and first grades. This proposal also has been made upon general principles. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu indicated these principles in connection with my resolution at the last budget debate. Much was made by the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay on the previous occasion of the fact that in the Provincial Judicial Service 18·25 per cent. of officers are Subordinate Judges. Of these, however, 11·06 per cent. are in the third grade, and only 7·21 are in the first and second grades taken together. The Hon'ble Babu Braja Kishor Prasad, in his speech in this Council on 2nd April last, showed that in no other service except the Provincial Executive and Judicial services, is the number of officers in the upper grades so small. I think he might have excepted the Educational Service also. He was then advocating the cause of the Provincial Executive Service only. But the figures given by him show that, while amongst the Deputy Magistrates those in the grades of above Rs. 400 are 23·30 per cent., in the Judicial Service there are only 18·27 per cent. of officers in the superior grades of above Rs. 400. His observations may apparently support the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay. But he included the Deputy Magistrates and Sub-Deputy Magistrates under one service to show that the percentage in the superior grades over Rs. 400 in this service was 15·61. This inclusion of Sub-Deputy Magistrates within the Provincial Executive Service is not warranted, as the Sub-Deputy Magistrates are always included in the Subordinate Executive Service consisting of five grades from Rs. 100 to Rs. 250.

"In the case of Deputy Magistrates, it should be noted, there is not much distinction in the powers exercised and the work done by members of the different grades. Even many of the Deputy Magistrates of the grade of Rs. 200 are vested with the powers of a Magistrate of the first class, and an officer of the seventh grade does in many cases the same work as an officer of the first grade, while the Munsifs and Subordinate Judges form in reality two separate services, with altogether different work to do. Not only is the jurisdiction of the Subordinate Judge higher than that of the Munsif, but he hears appeals against the decision of Munsifs. Therefore the comparison of the number in the higher and lower grades of the Judicial Service, with that in the higher and lower grades of the Executive Service, is not sound.

"As has been shown above, 11·06 officers of the Judicial service are in the third grade of Subordinate Judges, and only 7·21 in the first and second grades taken together. So that, if the period of service be distributed in each grade in proportion to number in the grade, which is a rough but workable principle for the calculation, it will appear that the Subordinate Judges have the chance of working as such, for only about 4½ years out of 25 years of service, out of which they will be in the first and second grades taken together for only about one year and nine months, up to the time of their retirement at the age of 55. This could be verified from the history of services of those who are now in the higher grades or who have recently retired. The increase in the number of first and second grade Subordinate Judges, is therefore proposed on strong and practical grounds.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay seems to think that on comparison the prospects of the Judicial service would not appear to be worse than those of the Executive service. The contrary however is the fact, and the members of the Executive service are in many respects better off than their brethren in the Judicial service which, by itself, I, for one, do not grudge.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay has not attempted full comparison on account of its difficulty. He simply compared the average pay of an Executive officer with that of a Judicial officer. This is not quite a correct principle of comparison. I have a statement of the actual calculation of the pay and prospects of the first six officers of both services as found in the Civil List of October last, from the date of their entrance into the service till they completed 55 years of age :—

"The difference would be more accentuated if the period of extension granted be taken into account. While the Sub-Judges get extension of two years only unless they happen to be District Judges, the Deputy Magistrates of the 1st grade get extension generally of four years.

"What is the reason of this difference? Most of those that find entrance into the Executive Service do so at an early age, say, 22 years on an average, that is, as soon as he finishes his education. But he who enters the Judicial Service must pass his law examination, complete his practice as pleader for three years, and await his turn. He has then to serve his apprenticeship as officiating Munsif for another period of about three years. His entry will be now further delayed because of the change in the Law Examination Rules under which he will have to study for Law for three years instead of two as heretofore, and it is doubtful if by reason of this later entry he will be able to put in the full pension period. This late entrance partly accounts for his short period of service. His brother officer in the Executive Service gets his start at least six years earlier, and he cannot compete with the latter in the long run. It may be different later on if we insist upon our Deputy Magistrates being holders of the M. A. and B. L. degrees, as is the case of Munsifs, or if the period of pleader-apprenticeship be reduced, as it well may now that the Law Examination is going to be even more strict and exacting.

"There is another reason, which is admitted by the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay and was pointed out by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendranath Basu. 'The promotion of the officers of the Judicial Service in early years is not so good as that of the Executive Service. Even in former years the promotion was slow.' The first six officers mentioned in table B remained on an average for three years in the 4th grade for Munsifs, seven years in the 3rd grade, as many years in the 2nd grade, and five years in the 1st grade, that is, for 22 years out of the 27 years of service, and they did not draw more than Rs. 293 for pay on an average per month. This state of things still prevails. It was not much altered by the addition in the service made in 1892 (as greater additions were made in the lower than in the upper grades) or by the division of cadre between the two Provinces. A cursory examination of the history of these gazetted officers would show this. Taking the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay's method of calculation, the period of service in any grade is, other things being equal, proportionate to the number in the grade. If the total period of service of the officers of the judicial line be taken in an average to be 26 years, then there would be eight vacancies per year, and each officer would have to remain in the fourth grade of Munsifs for 3¾ years, in the third grade for 5¾ years, in the second grade for 6 years, and in the first grade for 6¼ years, total 21⅜ years, in the grades of the Munsifs. They would work as Sub-Judge in the third grade for nearly three years, in the second grade for 1¼ years, and in the first grade only for about seven months, after which they complete 55 years of age. One is therefore entitled to say that the prospect of the Judicial service has not improved within the last 30 or 40 years.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay said that, according to his calculation, the present average monthly pay of a Judicial officer is Rs. 375, while that of an Executive officer is Rs. 370, or five rupees less. This may or may not be nearly correct, and the calculation is more liberal than that set out in the summary of objections to my arguments, according to which the average pay of Judicial officers is less than Rs. 3½ better than that of Executive officers. This method of handling the question is open to serious objections. But even supposing that the correct figure is Rs. 5 and not Rs. 3½, is this nearly enough, considering the relative importance and responsibility of the two services? The answer must be 'No,' and even the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay's figure supports my plea for betterment of the Judicial service. Moreover, he has not considered the fact that while the Executive officer remains in the service for 33 years till he completes his 55 years of age, the Judicial officer can serve only for 26 years, or six years less. Executive officers have often been known to be for 15 years in and above the grade of Rs. 400, which gives them an opportunity of making more money. While the Judicial officer draws in all, on an average, Rs. 1,17,000 for pay during his service, the Executive officer draws Rs. 1,46,500; and the difference is large. The Quarterly Civil List for January shows that the most senior Deputy Magistrate began service in 1873, so that it is possible for him to draw that 'average pay' for 37 years. But the most senior Sub-Judge began service in 1884.

This difference of 11 years would also make a considerable difference in his total earnings in the service (by about Rs. 40,000), though the Judicial service has the advantage of a few appointments in the first grade at Rs. 1,000 per month on which so much stress is laid. Still, calculating on the line of 'average pay,' it will be seen that the Executive service is the better one. And, if the period of extension and extraneous advantages like free housing accommodation, better travelling allowance, etc., are taken into account, the advantage on the side of the Executive officer would be much greater. It is only by injurious thrift for which it is getting notorious that members of the Judicial service can make the two ends meet.

"It may be urged that, if the Judicial officer cannot serve the Government longer, he cannot expect to draw more as pay during the period of his service. That no doubt is commonsense. But this is not his fault. For reasons pointed out before, he cannot begin his service earlier. Even if he could, it would have been very hard if he were made to serve very much longer than 25 or 26 years. It is notorious that, due to excessive brain work amidst unfavourable environments, many judicial officers die early. Their average longevity is much less than that of officers in many other services. In many cases their health is shattered before they become Sub-Judges; most of them suffer from brain complaint, nervous exhaustion, chronic indigestion and other serious maladies. Administration of justice under higher pressure would be unsatisfactory. High Court pension periods were recently reduced on the initiation of Sir Comer Petheram because it was felt that the best judicial work could not be indefinitely eked out of a Judge's life. A consideration like this ought certainly to prevail in the case of a service doing as difficult and important work on a much lower pay and more stringent conditions and amidst far worse environments.

"The prospect of the service has not therefore improved. On the other hand, several important privileges enjoyed before have been taken away. I would refer to a few of these—

First, Sub-Judges who retired from the service from 15 to 30 years ago worked as a Sub-Judge for about half the period of their service. Many of them were in the first grade alone for about eight to ten years. Now the period of service as Sub-Judge is reduced to less than five years.

Secondly, the Judicial service used to be held superior to all other uncovenanted services. It was only the Sub-Judge who was allowed on retirement, after full period of service, the pension of Rs. 5,000 yearly; while officers of no other uncovenanted services, including the Executive service, could aspire to a higher pension than Rs. 4,000 per year. In this respect the members of both services are placed on the same footing now.

Thirdly, members of the Judicial service were formerly, though long ago, allowed to retire on full pension after only 22 years of service on medical certificate. They are now required to complete 25 years of service before they can claim full pension. Many officers could, at the age of 55 years, complete 25 years of service after the date of their confirmation; and, in many instances, extension was granted to them to complete this period only. It was therefore considered necessary to include the officiating period as part of the service. This is certainly an improvement, and it has been highly appreciated by the service.

Fourthly, the pay of the last grade of Munsifs in former years was Rs. 250, but now the pay is Rs. 200.

Fifthly, notwithstanding the long Dussera vacation, the members of the Judicial service were entitled to privilege leave on full pay. This privilege has been long withdrawn, and only privilege leave on half pay is allowed.

"This question of privilege leave is very important and should be discussed at length. The Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay has referred to it. He admitted that the prospects of any service depended much on the amount of leave to which an officer is entitled. The Hon'ble Member has compared the period of leave enjoyed by the Judicial officer with that enjoyed by the Executive officer. In this calculation he has made obvious mistakes. It is not a fact that, excluding Sundays, the Judicial officers enjoy 97 holidays in the year, while the Executive officers enjoy only 33 holidays, as the Hon'ble Member has calculated. A cursory perusal of the list of holidays enjoyed by both services would show the mistakes. It is evident that the Hon'ble Member has included within civil court holidays all the holidays in the notification, without excluding those that are allowed only in the alternative in particular districts. For example, the holiday table of 1910 would show (1) Uttarayan Sankranti is observed as holiday in the Noakhali, Sylhet, and some other districts, in place of Dashahara Ganga Snan or Baruni Ganga Snan or Ultarath observed in other districts (2) Makur Amabasya is observed in Saran alone instead of the second day of Sri Panchami, (3) Baruni Ganga Snan, (4) two days previous to Ramnavami, (5) Ashtami Snan, (6) Sital Susti, (7) Dashahara Ganga Snan, (8) Snan Jatra, (9) Ambubachi, (10) Ratha Jatra holidays, (11) Mansa Puja, (12) Rakhibandhan, (13) Ganesh Chaturthi, (14) Nabanna, (15) Chutt, (16) Kole Jatra, (17) Ras Purnima, (18) Chhatra Mela are holidays observed in particular districts in lieu of some other holidays. In fact, a perusal of the table would show that on an average the total number of civil court holidays observed in any particular district is 75 only (which include some Sundays), while the number of Executive holidays notified for any district is 42. Besides, under the Board rules, the officers in the Executive service generally get a holiday on the last Saturday of every month. There are also local holidays for each district from 7 to 12 days in the year, which on an average may be taken as 7 days for each district. Those last Saturdays of every month and local holidays thus make up 19 days, and, including them, the total Executive holidays would come up to 61 days or thereabouts. The difference in the holidays of the two services is therefore only 14 days, and if the Sundays falling within the Dusserah vacation be excluded from both sides, the difference would be only 11 days. It can hardly be urged that the Executive officers alone may have to work during the holidays while the Judicial officer is usually free from care on these holidays, for the holidays of the Judicial officers are generally employed in writing judgments or studying cases.

"Therefore to compensate this difference of 11 days in the total number of holidays, Executive officers are allowed privilege leave on full pay for one month, which is practically equal to the Dusserah vacation of the Civil Courts, with this difference, that while the Judicial officer must enjoy the vacation at a particular time only, whether he requires it or not, the Executive officer is entitled to enjoy full pay leave whenever he requires it, besides having Executive holidays during the days of the actual Pujas. No doubt in former years exigencies of services very often interfered with this privilege. But at present this difficulty of getting the leave is largely removed on account of the addition to the cadre.

"This privilege leave is, therefore, a long vacation, and if this be added to the number of Executive holidays, there would remain 19 days to the advantage of the Executive officer. Privilege leave on half pay given to the Judicial officer is not practically a privilege. It is for ordinary purposes of the same kind as medical leave or furlough on half pay, with this difference that the period of these leaves is counted as service. As the Judicial officer is thus deprived of the benefit of real privilege leave, he does not as a rule take the leave unless very urgently required. Judicial officers generally continue to work without taking any leave, to the cost of their health and efficiency. This is one of the reasons why they lose their health soon and meet with premature death. Some relaxation to their hard mental strain should be allowed to enable them to recoup their health and capacity for work. The Puja vacation is not sufficient for this purpose.

"Privilege leave on full pay is not granted to the Judicial officers only on the ground that they enjoy long vacation. The only other service in which this is the case is the Educational Service. But the members of the superior grade for Educational service enjoy long vacation twice in a year and the Summer vacation extends from two to three months, so that there cannot be any comparison in point of long vacation between these two services. Considering all these circumstances therefore, privilege leave on full pay can be very reasonably urged on behalf of the Judicial Service.

"When dealing with the question of leave it may be noted that Judicial officers are not allowed to join their privilege leave or any other short leave with the Puja vacation, under ordinary circumstances. If this concession were allowed, it would not entail any loss to Government or any disadvantage whatever to the service, but it would be of very great advantage to the officers themselves, and they would take privilege leave oftener owing to this advantage. During the vacation or holidays which they want to join with their leave the charge of the office may be left with the Sarishtadar or other officer, and only for the working days there would arise the necessity of appointing an officer to officiate for him. The District Judges avail of this advantage, and it does not appear why the Subordinate Judicial officers are deprived of it.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay referred to the prize appointments of both the services. He said that of the seven prize appointments, four are held by the judicial officers and only three by the executive officers. Here also the Hon'ble Member has erred. As the Hon'ble Mr. Duke later on admitted, in the Executive Service there are about half a dozen prize appointments, which also seems to be an error. The list of prize appointments of both services would be something like the following:—

JUDICIAL SERVICE.	EXECUTIVE SERVICE.
4 District Judges.	3 District Magistrates.
1 Calcutta Small Cause Court Judge.	1 Calcutta Collector.
	1 Inspector-General of Registration.
	1 Junior Secretary, Board of Revenue.
	1 Under-Secretary, Financial Department.
	2 Presidency Magistrates.
	1 (recently created Personal Assistant to the Legal Remembrancer who is in charge of the Judicial Department).
5 in all.	10 in all.

"Comparing the pay of the District Magistrate with the District Judge in their prize appointments, we see that the District Magistrates recruited from the Subordinate Executive Service get two-thirds of the pay of Civil Servants, viz., Rs. 1,000 in the third grade, Rs. 1,200 in the second grade and Rs. 1,600 in the first grade; while the District Judge recruited for the Subordinate Judicial Service gets Rs. 1,200 in the third grade, Rs. 1,600 in the second grade and Rs. 2,000 in the first grade, to which grade the Judicial officer hardly ever attains. If the pay was two-thirds of that of the Civilian District Judges, then the proper figure would be Rs. 1,333 in the third grade, Rs. 1,666 in the second grade and Rs. 2,000 in the first grade. Moreover, in the Executive Service there are other openings, such as Managerships to large zamindari estates and encumbered estates and under the Court of Wards, Secretaryship to the Calcutta Corporation, and other appointments which carry good allowances, while Judicial officers have no such openings.

"The case for improvement is therefore clear, and some of the more important heads under which these improvements would fall would be as follows:—

"1. District Judgeships.—Only four are now reserved for the Provincial service, of which one is now held by a Statutory Civilian. More appointments should, we submit, be reserved for the Provincial service. Several new District Judgeships have been created of late, such as at Darbhanga, Khulna, Purulia, and Sambalpur. Some of these might have been reserved for the Provincial service, and if this proposal be accepted, it would not affect the Indian Civil Service in any way.

"The appointments are graded as follows: 1st grade, Rs. 2,000; 2nd grade, Rs. 1,600; 3rd grade, Rs. 1,200. It is noteworthy that not a single officer has yet got into the 1st grade. For the purpose of appointments to these reserved posts, they practically form a separate service, and no new Sub-Judge can get in till one of these four posts falls vacant. As regards promotion from one grade to another, the posts form one service. None of them can get into the 1st grade till all Indian Civil Service Judges, who are senior to them, have been promoted to the 1st grade, and none can get into the 2nd grade till all the Indian Civil Service Judges, senior to them, have been promoted to the 2nd grade in their service. It is well known that Sub-Judges became District Judges when very old, so that the Indian Civil Service Judges in the same grade are all younger in age, though senior in service. The result is that the District Judges from the Provincial service have to retire early, though low in the list, and in course of time it will be impossible for any of them to get into even the 2nd grade, if the existing practice continues. Messrs. Tej Chunder Mookerjee and Jogendra Nath Mookerjee, the other Provincial Service District Judges, are low in the 3rd grade, and will have to retire shortly; and as there are many Indian Civil Service District Judges younger to them in age who are senior to them in service they have no chance even of getting into the 2nd grade. The 1st grade is absolutely beyond their reach. Promotion of these officers from one grade to another should be independent of the promotion of the Indian Civil Service District Judges. Let there be one post in 1st grade, one in 2nd grade and two in the 3rd grade always filled up by members of the Provincial Service, so that one will be drawing Rs. 2,000, one Rs. 1,600 and two Rs. 1,200 (unless the more equitable figures indicated by me before are accepted) because they are not and can have no hope of being senior to the Indian Civil Service District Judges. It would not be out of place to draw attention to the growing and unaccountably weakened condition of the District Judiciary. Of late years the strongest members of the Civil Service have, for some reason or other that ought to be carefully inquired into and guarded against, drifted away from the Judicial branch of the Service; and as the District Judiciary cannot be otherwise strengthened immediately, picked men from the Subordinate Judicial Service should be drafted on to it. Another way of immediate strengthening would be direct appointment of picked and able members of the Bar to the higher appointments on reasonable pay. Somehow or other a suggestion like this that was made some time ago has not yet commended itself to the authorities, though two additional Sub-Judges have been allowed by the Government of India of late. In order properly and really to strengthen the District Judiciary for all time, the existing modes of recruitment, right at the beginning, will have to be radically changed. It is a large and important problem that will soon have to be handled and faced, and cannot be treated as a side issue here. Till this is done more Sub-Judge appointments and local Bar appointments may well be pressed on the attention of the authorities.

"2. Officiating District Judgeships.—When District Judges take short leave the officiating appointment is never given to a Sub-Judge, and only if the District Judge was a member of the Provincial Service, is it given to an Assistant Sessions Judge. But in the case of District Magistrates, such appointments are given to Deputy Magistrates freely. The same practice may be followed in the case of the Judicial Service.

"3. Calcutta Small Cause Court Judgeships.—Only one is now open to the Provincial Service. Some more of these Judgeships may, with advantage, be reserved for the Provincial Service.

"4. Personal Assistant to the Registrar, Appellate Side, High Court, or Deputy or Assistant Registrar.—A Sub-Judge may well be appointed to one of these posts. In that case the High Court will be able more effectively to control and supervise the work of the Mufassal Courts, and the grievances and inconveniences of the Provincial Service would be much better represented to the High Court.

"5. Personal Assistant to the Legal Remembrancer.—Anybody who has experience of Mufassal Courts knows how Government civil suits are unsatisfactorily managed there. Creation of such an appointment and appointment of a Sub-Judge to the post is sure to result in improvement. It is noteworthy that within the last few days an important and far-reaching change has been made in the Bengal Secretariat. Owing to severe stress of work, the Chief Secretary had to be relieved of some of his work which has gone to the Judicial Secretary, and a portion of his work has been transferred to the Legal Remembrancer. The Legal Remembrancer is always a District Judge of experience and standing, and, under this new arrangement, which is a constitutional change of vital importance, which has not been adequately noticed by the public, the interests of the Service ought to be better cared for. The Personal Assistant, who has been deputed to assist the Hon'ble the Legal Remembrancer in his new work, is a capable and experienced member of the Provincial Executive Service, who must have been selected in view of his power of organisation and experience of office work. When the new department is in full working order—as it no doubt will soon be—the reasons would have to be very strong indeed for not deputing to the new office an equally capable member of the Provincial Judicial Service. Apart from this new creation, there is a strong case for appointment of a Personal Assistant to the Legal Remembrancer to assist him in his work proper, and he may well be a Subordinate Judge.

"6. Assistant Sessions Judges and Munsifs vested with powers to try suits up to Rs. 2,000 should be given an allowance, say Rs. 100 per month, unless in the case of the latter a new grade is created as claimed above. Deputy Magistrates on special duty or in the Excise or Settlement Department always get such allowances, as also some employed in batwara and land acquisition work.

"7. Rupees 250 should be the pay of the last grade of Munsifs, and only Officiating Munsifs should get Rs. 200. The pay of the lowest grade of the Deputy Magistrates was Rs. 250 only a few years back before the 'levelling down.' As a Deputy Magistrate may begin service just after passing his B.A. examination, it is no hardship if he begins with Rs. 200. A Munsif can only get a permanent appointment when he is about 30 years of age as shown above, at which age a Deputy Magistrate would be drawing Rs. 300.

"8. Temporary promotions.—In other departments temporary promotions are allowed when any officer in the upper grade takes leave, but members of the Judicial Service never get it.

"9. Travelling allowance on transfer.—No distinction is made in the rates of the travelling allowances, in case of 'transfer' and 'tour.' But when transferred one has to take his family with him and heavy luggages, which entails heavy expenses. Here, again, the Executive Service, the members of which have mostly to move about alone on tour, has great advantage over a judicial officer, who seldom moves except on transfer, and some higher rate of travelling allowance is necessary in cases of transfer. A Deputy Magistrate who is in charge of a sub-division, however junior he may be, even if a member of Rs. 200 grade, gets 1st class travelling allowances, that is, double of what is allowed to a Munsif drawing Rs. 400.

"10. Munsifs' quarters and house allowance.—Where Government has built quarters, very high rate of rent is charged, as I pointed out in previous years, though Sub-divisional officers get free quarters. Even in Calcutta house allowances are allowed to highly-paid officers, but nothing to Judicial officers even at stations where house-rent is quite prohibitive.

"11. Joining time.—Sometimes Judicial officers transferred are ordered to join within a specified time. This causes great inconvenience. Such transfers are often sudden and quite unexpected, and officers have to sell their things at a loss and start at short notice, 'sometimes even leaving their clothing behind with their washerman,' as a Munsif once pathetically remarked to me. They should either be allowed to avail themselves of full joining time or be given at least three weeks' notice of the intended transfer.

"12. Government officers are entitled to free medical assistance, but much hardship is caused, as similar concessions are not allowed to their wives and children. It would cause very little extra expense to Government, and it would give much relief to the officers.

"13. Tacking leave with Vacations.—It would cause no loss or extra expenditure if Judicial officers are allowed to prefix and affix leave of all kinds to the vacation. Cases are not rare in which Judicial officers at home during the vacation are unable to join after the holidays owing to illness or such other causes and finds his vacation compulsorily converted to leave on half pay and has to refund pay already drawn. They are not now allowed to join the privilege leave with the Puja vacation. If this is allowed as in the case of District Judges, there cannot be any additional cost to the Government. The officiating officer will have to work only during the period of leave of the permanent incumbent, and during the vacation the Sarishtadar or any other officer may remain formally in charge as has been pointed out previously.

"14. Extensions of service.—Sometimes an officer who has completed the full period of service for pension and has been drawing the maximum pay for years get extension after extension, while other officers who have not even completed full 25 years' service are compulsorily retired.

"15. The number of Munsifs.—At almost all stations the number is short, and officers have to overwork themselves to the detriment of their health. In the case of peons the High Court has laid down a scale according to which they are required to serve a fixed number of processes. In the case of muharrirs, the report of Messrs. Toynbee and Stevens laid down a similar scale under which each of them was required to deal with over 1,200 records a year, and additional muharrirs are entertained when work is heavier. The result of the latest commission for the reorganisation of their service has been still more liberal to them as regards the quantity of work to be done. But in case of Judicial officers there is no such scale laid down and all are overworked, and there are officers who have to decide more than 5,000 cases in a year.

"16. Confidential reports—About which an officer is allowed to know nothing and in respect of which the officer gets no opportunity of explaining—are another cause of very great hardship.

"17. Decorations.—A number of Executive officers have been 'decorated' with titles, but not a single member of the Provincial Judicial service while in service.

"18. The designation 'Munsif' is associated with old time officers, whose status and traditions were not high, and the designation is still not held in high esteem. Could not some other name be thought of ?

"19. Appointment of Amlas and Peons.—The privilege has been taken away from the Judicial officers and given ostensibly to the District Judges, but it is really exercised by his Sarishtadar, Head Clerk or Nazir, and has become the cause of much complaint which can easily be removed if the appointments are made on the nomination of the Judicial officers instead of the report of some ministerial officer. The Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay's comparison with the Executive service is not convincing, for the Munsifs and Subordinate Judges' office are and ought to be self-contained.

"20. Orderlies.—At present the Sub-Judges have got two orderlies and Munsifs have one each. The number is quite insufficient and inadequate, considering the duties they have to perform, viz., (1) punch court-fee stamps, (2) stamp all papers filed with dates and court seals, (3) call parties, (4) call witnesses and administer oaths, (5) call pleaders often from a distance, (6) take order-sheets and deliver to the pleader to get them signed, (7) carry records and papers from one office to another, and (8) maintain order in the Court-room. It is impossible for one or two orderlies to do all this work. The officers have therefore to depend on the Nazir for favour of having some peons deputed to do such work. Any one who has got some experience of the Courts knows what a source of trouble it is, and how often the presiding officers are put to great inconvenience for want of peons. The number of orderlies should be increased, and as there is a large saving of process-fees to Government, the extra expense can be met out of that fund.

"21. Promotions and the filling up of vacancies ought to be sooner notified so that full and timely benefit may enure to those concerned. Cases are not unknown when the officer that would have been benefited by the change had to retire before its announcement.

"I have to apologise for the length of my observations which was inevitable, having regard to the importance of the subject and its attendant difficulties. The improvements will all be costly; but if they are necessary they have to be effected somehow and from time to time. Civil litigation entails no expenditure on Government, and the machinery and agency that administer justice have a first lien on its profits, in its own interest, in the interest of the Government and in the interest of those that contribute such profits—nearly 42 lakhs of rupees a year. If there be, as I submit there is, a clear case for improvement, these funds ought to be partially at least available for such improvements. And a portion of the profits may well go towards reducing the costs of litigation, and increase of such costs ought not to be suggested the moment that necessary improvements are suggested. There are, for example, disquieting rumours about raising Original Side fees under colour of framing fresh rules under the Civil Procedure Code. Should such a step be contemplated and should the costs of this particular form of litigation be further increased, better far that Calcutta should soon have a District Court. The Hon'ble Mr. Duke observed—in reply to me—in another connection during the last Budget debate, namely, the improvement of the Executive service:— 'I would point out that all improvement is a question of money, and that the money required is to be obtained not from any mere abstraction called the Government but from the general tax-paying public.' This particular observation is fortunately not available to the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay for the present purpose. It is not the mere abstraction called the Government that we call upon to pay for these improvements, which the litigating public want as badly as any one else. They who are the 'tax-paying public for the particular purpose' have long been putting into the Exchequer much more than the requisite funds which cannot and ought not to be otherwise diverted. Have they therefore not more than a claim?"

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKR-UD-DIN said:—

"IT gives me great pleasure in supporting the resolution so ably moved by my friend, the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari. I respectfully seek the indulgence of the Council to permit me to add a few observations to those already made by the Hon'ble Mover. It can hardly be doubted that the members of the Judicial Service have been entrusted with extremely responsible duties, and the public is naturally vitally interested in an efficient maintenance of the service, but the question is whether the service, as it stands at present, is in that efficient condition. If we are to look into it in the light of the recent discussion in the Press and in the light of the official admission made on the 4th of April, 1908, by the Hon'ble Mr. Streatfeild, the late Judicial Secretary to Your Honour's Government, in this very Council, it is obvious that we cannot own that the condition is efficient, though the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay was pleased to paint the picture in a different colour in his reply to the discussion of the resolution by the present Hon'ble Mover himself during the last session of this Council. The admission made by the Hon'ble Mr. Streatfeild was in the following words:—

'I can only say that the Government is fully aware that the officers of this service have genuine grievances; that their case is receiving consideration, and that any reasonable proposals for the removal of hardships will receive sympathetic attention.'

"Now, may I take the liberty of inquiring whether since the time this candid admission was made in this very Council anything practical has actually been done or even contemplated either by Your Honour's Government or by the Hon'ble High Court, which is chiefly responsible for the efficient maintenance of the Subordinate Judicial Service, for the removal of any of those 'genuine grievances'? I am afraid nothing of the kind appears to have been done, though I may be permitted to say that, in view of the admission of the 'genuine grievances,' it was highly necessary that something should have already been done.

"On the occasion of the last discussion on the subject, the Government through its Judicial Secretary, no doubt, considered it advisable to practically assert the non-existence of any need for any reform and improvement, but I may humbly assure Your Honour that the assertion has failed to create the impression which it evidently sought to do, so far as the public solicitude for a continuity of efficient condition of this service is concerned. On the other hand, it would be found that the official attempt to minimize the matter has only led to a pretty wide discussion of it in the public Press throughout the country.

'The Amrita Bazar Patrika remarked in one of the issues:—

'It is, however, to be regretted that the debate initiated by him (The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari) proved infructuous, and the reply given by the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay, the present Judicial Secretary to the Government of Bengal, was most disappointing. The Hon'ble Mover pointed out the necessity of reform, basing his arguments on the candid admission of "genuine grievances" by the late Judicial Secretary, Mr. Streatfeild. But the present Judicial Secretary denied the existence of any need for improvement at all, which, in other words, meant that he contradicted his own worthy predecessor in office as to the genuineness of the grievances.'

"Then, again, the same paper in another issue remarks:—

'An impression has somehow come to prevail that the Government is not so attentive to the grievances of its Judicial Service as it is to those of its Police and Executive Services, though, as we observed the other day, the Judiciary in this country may well be considered to be the very keystone of the arch of the British Indian Empire.'

"The monthly journal, Muslim Review, in one of its issues remarks:—

'But notwithstanding the sympathetic attitude of the Hon'ble Mr. Streatfeild and his subsequent reminders in an unofficial way, he is not aware that any notice of them has, within the last 12 months, been taken either by the Government or by the Hon'ble High Court, except with regard to some minor matters. It is not therefore surprising that an impression should prevail that the Subordinate Judicial Service is the Cinderella among Government services, and that it is made to starve ere any other branch of Government service is permitted to want.'

"It may be argued that since for years past the present scales of pay of the officers concerned have continued without any apparently serious protest from any quarters, why the same should now be changed and increased. Indeed, a very few words are needed to carry conviction as to the imperative and absolute necessity for the alteration in the existing scales of pay. Since it is well known to all of us that about a quarter of a century back our needs of life were smaller, and we could get all the necessaries of life at much cheaper rates and we could educate our children at much smaller costs, there is to my mind nothing extraordinary in the demands for higher remuneration for every kind of labour. Like private individuals, the Government officials too in years past had smaller needs of life and could do anything and everything under their old rates of income, together with probably a ready decent balance to their credit at the bank. Unfortunately the same happy state of things cannot be said to exist in these refined days. Even the official answer, I fear, cannot be in the negative. It is true the State has every right to observe, every economy in securing hands for its labour, but at the same time I submit to Your Honour that while observing the principles of economy, the State has various matters to take into consideration. As the governing authority, it cannot afford to shut its eyes to the increasing demands in the directions of expenditure for leading a decent existence. Any attempt or desire to ignore this fact while securing hands for public duties can legitimately be characterised as wholly inconsistent with higher functions and higher responsibilities that the State necessarily has got upon itself. Without, however, attempting to trace the causes which are responsible for the existing differences in the cost of past and present living, I may at once say that the demand for the higher rates of salary is in no way unjust; its reasonableness is manifest on the very face of it, and as such the Government should be pleased to give its earnest and most sympathetic consideration to the whole matter, and need not regard the discussion of the same in the Press or in this Council in the light of a political agitation.

"Specific proposals for regrading the whole service have been made by different writers in the Press and in the pamphlets, and I have no doubt attention of Your Honour's Government must have been drawn to them; so it rests with Your Honour and the Hon'ble Judges of the Calcutta High Court to choose and select any one most suited to the financial conveniences of the Government. Permit me, Your Honour, to respectfully observe that financial difficulties have too often been urged in delaying many useful reforms which we stand in very urgent need of, but in this special case, it will have to be admitted, a reasonable demand for an additional annual expenditure should not be refused, especially in view of the fact that the administration of civil justice yields a considerable income to the Financial Minister.

"In the matter of reorganisation of the whole service, my opinion is that if it is sanctioned and this service is placed on a footing similar to the Executive Branch of the Provincial Civil Service, it would be far more desirable. The present system under which Munsifs are trained for higher functions, such as those attached to the posts of Subordinate Judges, Assistant Sessions Judges and of the District Judges, respectively, is hardly one that would meet the requirement of a good training.

"Under the present arrangement Munsifs are to deal with suits of the value of Rs. 1,000 for the major portion of their service life, i.e., not less than 15 to 20 years and after having decided for so many years comparatively petty cases, some of them, who are fortunate enough to become Subordinate Judges are suddenly called upon to handle some of the most important cases and hear appeals from Munsifs' judgment. The illogical and anomalous character of the existing system is manifest by the fact that Munsifs of all the four grades have to exercise the same powers. An officer appointed to-day exercises the same power as an officer of 15 years' standing; then one day he is called upon to handle some of the important cases of unlimited value.

"At the initial stage it is no doubt unsafe to trust an officer with high powers, but there should be a reasonable limit to such initial stage or else there can hardly be a proper training for higher functions. If the whole Judicial service be classified into several grades and each of the officers be vested with power to try suits of certain value graduated for that purpose according to his seniority, I believe that the gradual training will make these officers more efficient.

"There are many grievances of the Judicial officers and I had the fortune of enumerating a few of them in my speech on the occasion of the final discussion on the Budget during the last session in this Council, and as they have been so fully and elaborately discussed by the Honourable Mover of the Resolution to-day, it is needless for me to discuss each of them specifically, but, with your Honour's permission, I may draw your Honour's attention to the unfair rules in the Civil Service Regulations affecting the rights of the Munsifs and Subordinate Judges to one month's privilege leave.

"It is hardly conceivable why these gazetted officers should be denied the right of 'privilege leave' for one month after a laborious mental service for the long course of a year. I understand this has been denied because of the annual Puja holidays, but it will have to be admitted that the Puja holidays are the religious concessions to the people and yet the officers have to suffer. The necessity of privilege leave to judicial officers can be more keenly felt in this service than in other graded services for the simple reason that continuous labours should necessarily be followed by a short rest which need not be necessarily required by all at a fixed period in the year.

"We have learnt with satisfaction that some liberal concessions have been made in favour of the Bengal Opium Service in the matter of leave rules and regulations governing the Sub-Deputy and Deputy Opium Agent. We hope that when one Department under Government has received liberal concessions, similar treatment should be accorded to the officers of Judicial Department who are more hardworked than the opium officers.

"Sir, there is one more point to which I wish to allude and which will show that the members of the Provincial Executive Service are far better off than those of the Judicial Service. In the former, only the degree of Bachelor in Arts is a sufficient qualification for the appointment, while in the latter to make one-self eligible for the post of a Munsif he has not only to obtain the B. A. degree, but he has further to study law for three years under the present University Regulation, and even then the degree of B.L. is not enough for him, he has to practise as a lawyer for more than three years before he can expect a probationary appointment as a Munsif, and it is only very rare that a pleader is able to get the first appointment before he has practised for about five years.

"Then again the officiating Munsif has to serve on probation for about two or three years, before he can hope to be confirmed. Thus a Munsif does not get his permanent appointment, before he is over 30 or 31 years of age. Under the present rules of the Calcutta University it is impossible for one to obtain a degree of Bachelor in Law before he attains the age of at least 22 years, and as he has to practise for more than three years to make himself eligible for the appointment it is impossible for the majority of the pleaders to get admission into this Department.

"Then again the age given in the certificate of the University Entrance Examination however wrong it may be is very strictly taken into consideration in the appoinment of a Munsif while in the Provincial Executive Service, on sufficient proof of the real age of the candidate the age given in the University certificate is not taken into account.

"With these remarks I conclude and hope that the genuine grievances of the Subordinate Judicial Service will receive full attention by your Honour's Government, and an early removal thereof will only be an act of bare justice to the hard worked officers of the service for an efficient maintenance of which I respectfully assure Your Honour the whole country has always been and will ever be most anxious, for it is to the Subordinate Judiciary, Executive and Judicial both, that we have to look up to for justice at the initial stage of our requirements. Unless our officers are content with their lots they can hardly be expected to dispense British justice in that judicious temperament which is so indispensible for them to possess."

The PRESIDENT then called upon the Hon'ble Mr. Saiyid Wasi Ahmad to move the following amendment to the foregoing Resolution, of which the Hon'ble Member had given notice, so that the Resolution and the amendment might be discussed together.

The Council respectfully recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that the question of improving the pay and status of the Subordinate Judicial Service, as well as of the Provincial and Subordinate Executive Services, be taken up, and that early representations be addressed to the Government of India with regard to such suggestions for improvement, made from time to time in this Council, in the Press and through other channels, as may commend themselves to His Honour's Government, in order that provision therefor may be included in the next Provincial Budget.

The Hon'ble MR. SAIYID WASI AHMAD said:—

"Your Honour—The amendment that I have the honour to move is a mere addition to the Resolution of my hon'ble friend, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari. It aims to draw Your Honour's attention to steps being taken by your Honour's Government for the amelioration and improvement of the Executive Branch of the Provincial and Subordinate Services. So both of us are practically pressing for the improvement of the same service, though of different branches. I have, therefore, no reason to differ from the Resolution in the main. On the contrary, it has my full sympathy and hearty support. It was for this reason that I have intentionally kept in my amendment the wording of the Resolution intact, the amendment being introduced in the midst of the Resolution at its proper place and shown in italics. It was after I sent in my amendment that I received a copy of the speech of my hon'ble friend, the mover of the Resolution, and after a careful reading of it I must say that I was disagreeably surprised to find the method he has adopted throughout his speech in support of his Resolution. He has, Sir, to my mind, built up a case at the sacrifice of the Executive Branch of the Provincial Civil Service.

Almost throughout his speech he has compared the two services, and thereby shown that the members of the Executive Branch of the service are better off than the members of the Judicial Branch, and hence he advocates for improvement in the latter service. Sir, comparison is always odious, and I have never built up a case on the weakness of the other party. I have a firm belief in the well-known dictum that a case must stand or fall on its own merits. And in enunciating my amendment for the sympathetic consideration of Your Honour, I hope I shall be able to satisfy Your Honour and this Council that improvements are absolutely necessary both in the Provincial and Subordinate Executive Services, independent, of course, of any comparison with any sister services of the Province.

"Your Honour, first of all I have to offer a few observations on the speech of my hon'ble friend. He has, to my mind, omitted to draw Your Honour's attention to one important grievance of the Munsifs and Subordinate Judges. A District Judge has now no power to grant even one day's leave to them, and in cases of emergency it causes excessive hardship and inconvenience if these officers have to wait for the High Court's permission to leave their stations. I, therefore, suggest that the District Judges be empowered to allow casual leave to Munsifs and Subordinate Judges in the same manner and for the same period as the District Magistrates can allow casual leave to the Deputy Magistrates at present.

"Again, his comparison of the two services shown in Tables A and B referred to in his speech, if not inaccurate or incorrect, is at least exceedingly unfair on the following grounds:—

(a) A Deputy Magistrate does not enter service with the same advantages as a Munsif. He cannot be confirmed unless he passes the two departmental examinations, which usually take about two years, failing which he is liable to be dismissed from the service.

(b) Table A in the speech of the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari takes the cases of Deputy Magistrates who were appointed at a time when it was not necessary that they should be graduates, and therefore we find that none of the six Deputy Magistrates named in the table are graduates. It is no wonder, therefore, that they could enter service so early in life.

(c) The Deputy Magistrates mentioned in Table A were appointed at a time when the number in the lower grade never used to be so large, and therefore they were promoted to higher grades in much shorter time.

(d) The number of years of service taken in striking out the average is not the same in both the cases.

(e) The period of the extension of the Subordinate Judges when they draw more pay than the Deputy Magistrates on extension is not taken into consideration.

(f) The three years' income from practice of the Pleaders before joining service has not been taken into account.

"A careful calculation of the pay and the prospects of the officers in both the services drawing Rs. 600 a month will clearly show that the arguments advanced by the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari and the analogy drawn from his two tables are not sound, and that promotion in the Executive Branch of the service is practically blocked up, and I draw Your Honour's attention to the following tables which I have prepared for this purpose. I have taken the cases of the last five officers who at present draw Rs. 600 a month in both the Judicial and Executive Services.

JUDICIAL BRANCH.

NAMES.	Year when born.	Year in which joined service.	When confirmed in the service.	When promoted to the 3rd grade, Rs. 600.	It took how many years from joining the service.	It took how many years from the time of confirmation in the service.	Age when promoted to this grade of Rs 600.	REMARKS.
Babu Charu Chandra Mukherjee, B.L	1860	1891	1892	1909	18	17	49	These officers will take only three years in reaching the next grade of Rs. 800, and one or two years in reaching the first grade of Rs. 1,000 on the anology of three of the officers who are now District and Sessions Judges, namely— (1) Mr. Shoshee Bhusan Chaudhuri, M A., B.L. EXECUTIVE BRANCH.

NAMES.	Year when born.	When joined service as Deputy Magistrate.	When confirmed as Deputy Magistrate.	When promoted to 3rd grade on Rs. 600.	It took how many years from joining the service.	It took how many years from the time of confirmation in the service.	Age when promoted to this grade of Rs. 600.	REMARKS.
Babu Chandra Sekhar Kar, B.A.	1862	1885	1890	1910	25	20	48	In what time these Executive officers are likely to reach the corresponding grade of Rs. 800? On the analogy of Babu Khogendra Nath Mitra, Maulvi Bazlal Karim and Babu Kumud Nath Mukherjee, they will take eight or nine years. But the first four have only seven or eight years to serve (the fifth not having any chance at all); unless they are suffered to serve after they have reached 55 years of age, they cannot expect to draw Rs. 800 at all, while the members of the Judicial Service will draw Rs. 800 as well as Rs. 1,000. This is the case of the officers who entered the Executive Branch as Deputy Collectors in 1885 and 1886 when they drew Rs. 250 as soon as they were confirmed in their service and when there were fewer officers in the lower grades. Those who are now appointed as Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors have to pass through a new grade, the eighth grade, of Rs. 200, and have many more officers above them than there were before. It follows that by the time they reach the grade of Rs. 500 or Rs. 600, they must prepare to retire. When the Executive Branch has 362 officers divided in eight groups with only 33 in the first three groups, and the Judicial Branch only 185, excluding the probationary grade with 41 in the first three grades, the above result is bound to follow.

"Now, for the purposes of my amendment, I shall take up the members of the Executive Branch of the Provincial Civil Service—

Deputy Magistrates.

"According to the latest Civil List of July, 1910, we have got 399 Deputy Magistrates, including the probationers. The number of appointments in different grades is :—

Grade.		Number.
1st	... ...	6
2nd	... ...	8
3rd	... ...	19
4th	... ...	57
5th	... ...	84
6th	... ...	86
7th	... ...	50
8th	... ...	52
	Total ...	362
	Probationers ...	37
	Total ...	399

"The number of Deputy Magistrates actually in work, for the probationers hardly do any substantial work, is 362, and they may be divided into four classes :—

1st.—Deputy Magistrates working as Personal Assistants to Commissioners.

2nd.—Deputy Magistrates holding charge of subdivisions, including Magistrates in charge of Sadar subdivisions.

3rd.—Deputy Magistrates working in special Departments, such as—

(b) Land Acquisition.
(c) Excise.
(d) Settlement, etc., etc.

4th.—Deputy Magistrates working in general line, that is, doing case-work in addition to other Miscellaneous Departments, including Treasury, attached to them.

"It will thus appear that Deputy Magistrates as a class have not got uniform and the same kind of work. It would, therefore, be just and proper to regulate their pay and status according to the class of work allotted to them.

"Taking the service as a whole, there is no gainsaying that its members have got legitimate grievances of the nature that improvements are absolutely necessary, and they ought to be attended to without much further delay. In this connection, Sir, I cannot do better than to quote the words of the Hon'ble Mr. Duke from his speech delivered in this Council during the Budget discussion on the 4th of April, 1910. In reply to the Budget speech of my hon'ble friend, Babu Braja Kishor Prasad, he said :—

'I am not happy that I have been put in the position of arguing against the Provincial Executive Service. I do not suggest that they have no grievance, but I do assert that these grievances must be brought up in a reasonable and considered manner, if Government is to accept them. There is no evidence that discontent is prevalent, and I deny altogether that any inference of ill-treatment of the service can be drawn from the sort of arguments from figures which have been produced just now. It is quite possible that an examination of the figures may prove that in proportion to other services the number of high prize appointments is too limited; but if that is to be established, it must be established on quite different grounds and on quite different data than those which have been put before us to-day.'

"Your Honour, the above statement of a high and trusted officer of your Government discharges me at least from one important onus, viz., that the members of this service have got grievances. All that the Hon'ble the Chief Secretary then thought was that from his point of view they were not brought up in 'a reasonable and considered manner' for the Government to accept them.

"It cannot be disputed that of late we have been witnessing a revolutionary change in the mode of living here. It has now become exceedingly difficult to live decently on limited and small incomes, and I would not be exaggerating if I say that quarter of a century back a respectable gentleman lived more comfortably and happily on Rs. 200 a month than one who now gets Rs. 500 or Rs 600 a month. It is inconceivable, Sir, how a Deputy Magistrate on Rs. 200 or Rs. 300 a month can now live in the same style and command the same respect and position in society as a Deputy Magistrate on the same pay lived, say, 20 or 25 years back. Constant famine and scarcity, extraordinary medical expenses, rise in price of food-grains, wages of servants and house-rent, expensive bringing up and education of children—especially after the passing of the University Act—expensive clothing,—all contribute to the living of a poor Deputy Magistrate from hand to mouth, and in most cases they die penniless and in debt and leave their children destitute to starve. Sir, on these grounds, Your Honour's predecessor, Sir Andrew Fraser, very justly considered the grievances of the Police Force and increased their pay, involving an expenditure of a large sum of money every year. The salaries of even the Ministerial Officers have been increased during your Honour's time. And I for one do not see why the pay of poor Deputy Magistrates should not be increased. The sort of work they are called upon to do, I mean the performance of criminal administration, the peculiar position they hold in a sub-division or a district, the contact they have with the people and public, almost force them to a fairly expensive living, so that they may keep up their position and dignity to an extent befitting an officer administering criminal justice. I hope I will not be charged with mere sentiment. Any one who has lived in mofussil towns and carefully studied and watched the life these must come to the conclusion that I have arrived at. And, Your Honour, on whom does the bulk of Revenue Administration lie, who is responsible for the efficient administration of important Departments like Certificate, Cess re valuation, Partition, Excise, Income-tax, Stamps, Land Registration and Record-room, Tauzi, etc., etc., who knows more, Sir, than you yourself that it is on sound and tactful organisation and working of the Revenue Departments that the healthy financial condition of a country depends, and what will this Council and Your Honour's Government do if we have not got efficient, able, hardworking and, above all, contented officers to discharge the duties of Revenue Departments.

"We further find it, Sir, that while scarcity and famine continued to be almost persistent since 1896 and 1897, and hence an abnormal rise in food-grain, there has been in 1900 a reduction in the pay of the Deputy Magistrates from Rs. 250 to Rs. 200.

"My humble suggestions before Your Honour, therefore, are these :—

(1) That the 8th grade of Deputy Magistrates should be abolished altogether, as it unnecessarily blocks the promotion to the higher grade.

(2) That the pay of the seven grades should be as follows:—

Grade.	Pay. Rs.
1st	1,000
2nd	800
3rd	600
4th	500
5th	400
6th	300
7th	250

(3) That the pay of probationers should be Rs. 200.

(4) That the percentage of the number of appointments in the different grades should be as follows:—

Grade.					Percentage.
1st	...	...	...	...	5
2nd	...	...	...	...	7
3rd	...	...	...	...	10
4th	...	...	...	...	15
5th	...	...	...	...	18
6th	...	...	...	...	20

"With the above four changes in pay, grade and percentage in the number of appointments, there should also be alteration in the amount of work a Deputy Magistrate has to do in his grade. It does not seem quite proper that a Deputy Magistrate drawing Rs. 200 or Rs. 300 a month should be made to do the same amount of work as a Deputy Magistrate in higher grades has to do. We find, for instance, that a Deputy Magistrate in the lower grade is vested with almost all the powers under the Criminal Procedure Code. Being vested with first class powers he has to try all kinds of serious and contested cases, including inquiries under Chapter XVIII, Criminal Procedure Code. Invariably he is placed in charge of a sub-division, where mature experience, practical knowledge, tact and administrative skill are absolute necessities. In short, we find no difference in the class and amount of work done by him and a senior Deputy Magistrate, Your Honour, much improvement is needed in this connection, and I press the subject firmly but respectfully upon the attention of the Government.

"Now, Sir, I take up the case of the members of the Subordinate Executive Service, which forms the second part of my amendment, and I may at the outset be permitted to say that this is a most wretched, ill-treated, uncared for and unfortunate class of service in the whole Province. This service is divided into five grades and the number of the members is 192+24 probationers=216 in all, and they draw from Rs. 100 in the fifth or last grade to Rs. 250 in the first grade: except from 5th to 4th grade and from 2nd to 1st grade, where the rise is of Rs. 50, the three intermediate grades get on promotion an increment of Rs. 25 only.

"A perusal of the appointments in the service made since 1908 will show that out of 24 probationers 15 are B. A.'s and 4 M.A.'s, and out of the remaining five who are not graduates, we have—

		1 European.
		1 Bhutia.
		1 Bengali Hindu.
		1 Behari Hindu.
Total	...	5

"It will thus be seen that the standard of the educational qualifications for appointment in this service is the same as that in the Provincial Executive Service, and, if I mistake not, they have to equally satisfy the Government about their respectability, family connections and good moral character. These men on being appointed have to undergo a probationary period (of course on a nominal pay of Rs. 30), and have to pass the departmental examinations just in the same way as the Deputy Magistrates. Many of them exercise second-class powers and have to do almost the same kind of work as the members of the other service. And though in status and position they are supposed to be superior to Ministerial Officers, they are allowed less pay than even some of those men, not to talk of Deputy Magistrates. I, therefore, suggest very humbly that this service should be abolished altogether and amalgamated with the Provincial Executive Service. With these few remarks, I beg to move my amendment."

The Hon'ble RAI SITA NATH RAY BAHADUR said :—

"Your Honour, after a careful perusal of the very able speech of the Hon'ble Mr. Sarbadhikari, supported by a large array of incontrovertible facts and figures, it seems to me that the picture he has drawn of the present unsatisfactory condition of the Subordinate Judicial Service has not at all been overdrawn. In my opinion he has delineated the picture in its true colour, painting it as it is, extenuating nothing nor setting aught in exaggeration.

"His main suggestion is for the creation of another grade of Munsifs on a pay of rupees five hundred a month. Well, Sir, it seems to be a great anomaly that even a well-qualified Judicial officer with brilliant educational attainments dispensing justice and performing high judicial functions should, at the end of 20 or 21 years, even at the fag-end of his life, be still drawing Rs. 400 a month and still continuing to perform the same functions and exercise almost the same powers with which he was vested at the beginning of his official life. The anomaly becomes all the more glaring when it is remembered that the Government of Eastern Bengal which, ushered into existence only five years ago, has, on coming to realise the anomaly of the situation, been pleased to create a five-hundred rupee grade of Munsifs, which has later on been also adopted in Burma.

"With a view to remove this disparity of treatment which, I fear, may tend to create heart-burning among the Judicial officers of Bengal, it is very desirable that Your Honour's Government should be pleased to accept this very moderate recommendation; but instead of creating a five-hundred rupee grade of Munsifs, it would be more pleasing and more dignifying to the whole service to create a fourth grade of Subordinate Judges on a pay of rupees five hundred a month, who should only be vested with limited powers, that is, with powers to try original suits up to the limit of Rs. 10,000. In my humble opinion, it is somewhat of an anomaly, and, I say, it is somewhat unsafe to the litigant public that a Munsif so long vested with limited powers and empowered only to try suits up to the value of Rs. 2,000 should suddenly be called upon to try original suits of unlimited value. In my opinion, instead of exercising the same powers for about 18 to 20 years, Munsifs of different grades should be allowed to exercise progressively higher powers according to seniority and qualifications.

"Without, however, reiterating the several other recommendations made and so ably supported by undisputed facts and figures and by cogent reasons, and, as the time-limit assigned for the discussion of the subject is so short, I would, with Your Honour's permission, content myself with making general observations about the desirability and expediency of improving the pay and status of the Subordinate Judicial Service.

"Sir, I mean no disrespect to the Hon'ble Judges of the High Court in saying that the members of the Subordinate Judicial Service—I mean only those who go under the designation of Subordinate Judges—have, so far as Original civil suits are concerned, to do nearly the same work and perform the same functions and exercise the same powers as are done by the Hon'ble Judges of the High Court sitting on the Original side. Like the Hon'ble Judges of the High Court, they have to try suits of unlimited value, extending, it may be, to some crores of rupees, and they have to try civil suits of all sorts and kinds without any limitation whatsoever. It was only the other day that a distinguished Subordinate Judge, undoubtedly an ornament to his service, had to decide issues relating to the succession to an important Raj, valued at some crores of rupees. It was about 32 years ago that another equally distinguished Subordinate Judge and possessed of great independence of character had to try intricate questions affecting the rights of several parties relating to a well-known estate in Eastern Bengal, valued at some crores of rupees. It must be a terrible temptation to weak-minded Judges on comparatively low pay to be called upon to decide questions relating to vast estates and Rajes. But, Sir, it must be said to the credit of the service that, following the glorious traditions of the English Bench, the Indian Judiciary here have invariably been able to resist all allurements and temptations and maintain the purity and glory of the services. Excepting in one or two rare cases; never perhaps to recur again, not a breath of scandal has ever been whispered against the snow like purity of the service. Whatever that may be, while the Subordinate Judges have to work so hard and to perform onerous duties and to try suits of unlimited value, and when the temptation, in not a few cases, is almost irresistible, it is of the utmost importance, and I say it is expedient and fair that, with a view to maintain the purity of the service, immediate steps should be taken to improve its pay and prospects which will have the effect of adding to the dignity of the service.

"The several heads of grievances of the Judicial Service have been so ably and clearly set out by the Hon'ble Mr. Sarbadhikari that it would be an act of supererogation to recapitulate them, but some of them are so palpably glaring and so genuine that it is a matter of regret that ere long they should not have attracted the kind attention of Your Honour and His Lordship the Chief Justice, that no attempt should have been made to remove and redress some of these grievances.

"On paper it looks all very well that the pay of a first-grade Subordinate Judge is Rs. 1,000 per month, but how many Subordinate Judges there are who, on being promoted to the first grade, can enjoy the emoluments of the grade for more than a year or so before the death-knell of his official life is sounded, and, if he is still allowed to remain in his office, it is only by sufferance and extension of service.

"Beyond the very few Statutory Civilians, whose race unfortunately is now almost extinct, I do not know of more than a very limited few who had ever attained to the rank of a second-grade District Judge: as for a Subordinate Judge becoming a first-grade District Judge, it is an impossible feat.

"If the Government is really in earnest in improving the pay and status of the Subordinate Judicial Service, it would be well if the Government were kindly disposed to accept the following recommendations:—(1) That the pay of the last grade of Munsifs should be Rs. 250 a month, (2) that the fourth grade of Subordinate Judges should be created on pay of Rs. 500 a month, and (3) that six District Judgeships should be exclusively reserved for Subordinate Judges, that is, one in the first grade, two in the second grade and three in the third grade.

"With these remarks, I beg to support the Resolution of the Hon'ble Mr. Sarbadhikari."

"Your Honour,—When I spoke last in the Council on the subject of the Provincial Judicial Service, I expressed the hope that the Hon'ble Member in whose name the motion stands would give me the opportunity of discussing the question with him before it came up again in Council, and I have to thank him for the opportunity which he gave me, and to thank him for the assistance which he has given me during our conversation, and to acknowledge also the acknowledgements which he has made of any assistance which I was able to render him in the matter.

"In the speech which has been laid upon the table the Hon'ble Member asks that the Provincial Judicial Service should be improved by the creation of certain new appointments and by the grant of certain concessions. In practically every case the ultimate sanction rests not with the local Government but with higher authority. The proposals of the Hon'ble Member may be roughly divided into three classes—

"First of all, he has made certain proposals which concern the Bengal Provincial Judicial Service alone; secondly, he has made certain proposals for granting concessions to this service which are not possessed by others, and the grant of which to one service would cause discontent in other services, and, thirdly, there are certain proposals for the grant of concessions which, so far as I am aware, are not possessed by any service under Government, on the ground that they are against the fundamental principles of the regulations of the Civil Service.

"In the first category, I would place the proposal for the creation of a new grade of Munsifs on Rs. 500. The lowest grade of Sub-Judges is Rs. 600 and the highest grade of Munsifs is Rs. 400. The Hon'ble Member has proposed that between these two grades there should be a grade of Munsifs on Rs. 500. He also brings up the question of the re-arrangement of the numbers and the raising of the pay of the lowest from Rs. 200 to Rs. 250. These proposals are really the backbone of the Hon'ble Member's speech.

"The first of these proposals, viz., that for creating a new grade on Rs. 500, which I believe still has the support of the Hon'ble Judges, was advocated by the Hon'ble Judges of the High Court, and was supported by this Government in 1908. The proposals, however, did not meet with the approval of higher authority, and we have communicated this opinion to the Hon'ble Judges, and this Government, therefore, does not propose to move in the matter until further representations are made by the Judges.

"When such representations are made they will receive the same careful consideration as on former occasions. The same remarks apply to the items in this catagory and the re-arrangement of the numbers within the different grades, and the raising of the pay from Rs. 200 to Rs. 250.

"Another matter which might be said to concern the Bengal Judicial Service alone is the statement that their health is upset by overwork. As a matter of fact, when there is too much work for the Munsifs in a particular district, application is made to the High Court for additional help, and I believe that application has been invariably complied with. It is not overwork that upsets the Munsifs; it is the sedentary life they lead to a great extent. If every Munsif was to run round his house two or three times before and after he completed his work, he would not suffer from ill-health. Executive officers lead a much more active life, and they enjoy better health for this reason.

"In the second category I would put the proposals of the Hon'ble Member with regard to privilege leave and temporary promotion. Munsifs and Sub Judges, officers of the High Court and officers of the Education Department under the Civil Service Regulations are not allowed privilege leave on full pay in the same manner as officers of other services; they have vacations, and that is the reason why they do not get the same privilege leave. The Hon'ble Member is right—I did make some errors in my calculations as to the number of holidays that a Judge has compared with Executive officers.

"In cases of urgent necessity they can obtain privilege leave on half-pay. If for any special reason they have to work during vacations, and are prevented from availing themselves of this leave, they can be granted privilege leave under the ordinary rules.

"The question of removing this restriction on the leave of these officers has been considered on several occasions, but so late as 1906 it was decided by higher authority that the existing rules should not be altered, and this Government is not prepared to move in that matter at the present time.

"Another proposal coming under this head is that members of the Judicial Service should be given temporary promotion when officers of higher grades go on leave. The principle of granting such promotions was given in 1868 to certain services as a compensation for the withdrawal of the furlough appointments which existed under the old leave rules. The withdrawal of the appointments caused a considerable stoppage in substantive promotion, and the acting by grade was the compensation for the loss of the substantive promotion. Not only the Judicial Services, but also the Executive and Police suffered in the same way, and consequently the orders of 1868 do not affect them. The granting of such a privilege would have the effect of increasing their pay indirectly. If it be admitted that their pay requires to be increased, it is very much better that we should increase it gradually instead of laying them open to the chance of promotion to a particular grade. In every case it is the same thing. It is very much better, I think, to give the increase if it is deserved by direct addition than by the introduction of any acting allowance.

"In the third category, viz., concessions or privileges not generally possessed by other services under Government, I would place such questions as travelling allowance, free quarters, free medical attendance for families, the prefixing or affixing of leave to vacation, etc. With regard to the question of quarters where such do not exist, the general practice is for the Government to provide the quarters and charge the officer a rent which does not exceed 10 per cent. of his pay, but all these are separate questions, which, if taken up at all, would have to be taken up quite independently of any one service, and at the present time Government is not prepared to move in the general question in any of these particular appointments.

"The Hon'ble Member who has moved the amendment has made certain proposals regarding the Executive Service. He has suggested a rate of pay and a grading which is not possessed by any Provincial Service so far as I can see. With regard to the Subordinate Service, I was very astonished to hear the words that he has used in criticising the services. They are very strong words. I have known a great many Sub-Deputy Magistrates. I have met men who were disappointed because they were not made Deputy Magistrates, but I have never heard them characterised in the way that the Hon'ble Member has spoken of them before this Council.

"If the Resolution proposed by the Hon'ble Member were carried by the Council, it would have the effect of pressing upon the Local Government the necessity of taking up the question of the improvement of a particular service at once in preference to the improvement of any other service, or in fact of any other new expenditure. The decision as to the time when the improvement of any particular service may be taken up must be left in the hands of the Government because the Government alone knows all the circumstances of the different cases, and the Government alone can know the relative importance of the claims of the different services and of the different new projects and schemes. No one but the Government can best decide when and how its separate schemes will be taken up. The present time is a most inopportune one for taking up any new expenditure. Our finances are at a very low ebb, and we have already put in proposals for the improvement of one service with regard to which I reply to a question of the Hon'ble Member, Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, viz., the improvement of the Provincial Educational Service, in the improvement of which I have to acknowledge the support which we have received from the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari and his worthy colleague of the University. These proposals have gone up to the Government of India, and we are in hopes that they will be favourably received by the higher authorities. If approved, they will take up a large share of the sum which will be available for new recurring expenditure in the near future, and the Hon'ble Member himself will admit that the Government is justified in taking up the cause of the Educational Service before any other.

"The Hon'ble Member has warned me at the end of his speech that I must not refer to what Mr. Duke said in his speech in this Council in the last Budget debate, when he said that all improvement is a question of money, and that the money required is to be obtained not from a mere abstraction called the Government but from the general tax-paying public. The Hon'ble Member suggests that a particular source of revenue should be ear-marked for expenditure on the improvement of a particular service. I am afraid no financial administration or financial member would recognize a principle like that. They could not recognize the principle of ear-marking any general source of revenue for specific expenditure. The recognition of such a principle would only land the Government in financial chaos.

"In the beginning of his speech the mover has said that the Resolution was moved more with the object of calling attention to the whole question than of pressing specific suggestions in the way of acceptance, of which there may be difficulties of which he knows nothing. I have endeavoured to explain shortly what some of these difficulties are, and if the Hon'ble Member pressed his Resolution to a division, I would ask the Council to move against the Resolution and to leave the matter of the improvement of this particular service entirely in the hands of the Government. Government alone knows all the circumstances of the case, and the Government alone is in a position to decide when and how each scheme or project or organization should be dealt with."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR of Burdwan said:—

"Your Honour,—I have heard with great interest the speeches of the Hon'ble Mr. Saiyid Wasi Ahmad and the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay. I have read portions of the elaborate and rather lengthy speech of my hon'ble friend, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, and I must say that he has made out a very strong case for the Provincial Judicial Service. I may say at the outset that I am opposed to the principle of fettering the hands of Government regarding any particular service As the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay has very pertinently pointed out, the Government is the best judge in such matters. It is our duty as Councillors to bring to the notice of the Government such grievances that, we think, exist in the different services. Knowing full well the financial condition of the Government, and also having just learnt from the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay that recommendations have been sent up to the Government of India for the improvement of the Provincial Educational Service—a service the improvement of which requires our most immediate attention—I think my friend, the mover of the original Resolution, and my friend the Hon'ble Mr. Saiyid Wasi Ahmad would do well not to press their resolutions in Council to-day. The matter wants careful consideration, in the first place; and, secondly, if it is expected that these resolutions should get universal support, they ought to be put in such a manner as not to in any way bind the hands of Government.

"Your Honour made some very sound remarks yesterday afternoon when laying the foundation-stone of the new Ripon College. It is not enough, Sir, to keep students only away from politics, but school-masters and professors ought to be made to do the same. Some of them indulge in politics because their pay is small and they seek for remunerations in other shapes. I, therefore, think, Sir, it is essential that the improvement of the Provincial Educational Service should receive the first attention of Government, and that these matters should come up hereafter. For the above reasons, I am unable to accept or support the Resolution or the amendment moved by the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari and the Hon'ble Mr. Saiyid Wasi Ahmad."

The Hon'ble MR. M. S. DAS said:—

"Your Honour,—I fully endorse the remarks made by the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay that the Government is the sole and best judge as to when the improvement of any particular service as regards its pay and status should be taken up, and I fully endorse the remarks of the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan that perhaps this is not the proper time when we can, with any hope of success, put the Resolution before the Council embodied in words that steps be taken to introduce the improvement in the next budget. So far as the words of that Resolution go, it certainly undertakes more than this Council should do, because, as it is, these matters must be left in the hands of Government. But I wish I could, in the same way, endorse the remarks which fell from the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay when he said that no Finance Minister or Secretary would accept the principle that revenues should be ear marked for any particular purpose. Sir, I do not see the prudence or the advantage of comparing these two services—the Executive and Judicial Services. Each service has its special claims and grievances. The grievances of the Executive Officers have been pointed out most graphically and emphatically by the Hon'ble Mr. Saiyid Wasi Ahmad; those of the other service have been described in equally eloquent terms by the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari. No doubt the Executive Officers do a very important part of the administration, and it is but just that these Executive Officers should have the pay and position such as would place the service not only in an efficient condition, but also in such a position as would secure the confidence of the public. At the same time, we must not lose sight of the fact that the judicial work is done by a class of people for whose services the suitors pay in Court-fees. Just as the Government is interested in the administrative work and has certainly a right to decide as to what should keep that service in an efficient condition, in the case of the Judicial Service, where the suitors contribute to the maintenance of the service, their voice ought to have its force. When a person comes to Court he says: 'I contribute so much for having justice'. Certainly in a matter like this the public have a right to say whether the service is such as is likely to give them that justice which they are entitled to. I do think, Sir, that the public have a right to say that the revenues derived from the Court-fees should be earmarked and spent in the improvement of the Judicial Service, should that service, at any time, fall below the mark of efficiency When public confidence is not secured, then certainly, I submit, Sir, the public have a right to press before Your Honour that the claims of that service be taken into consideration. I do not mean to go further than this. As a non-official member of this Council, representing the interests of the public, I have the right to put the voice of the public before Your Honour, and, ask your Honour, to modify the proposition in the general terms, which the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay lays down as regards the power of the Finance Member.

"As regards the Subordinate Executive Service, the Hon'ble Mr. Saiyid Wasi Ahmad has sought to compare the two services and has taken into calculation the income of the Munsif while practising as a pleader. All these things, Sir, are, in my humble opinion, matters which cannot further the discussion of the subject. As I stated in the earlier part of my speech, the matter ought to be left in the hands of Government. Carrying this argument to its logical sequence, one might say that the man who earns much while a pleader should work as a Munsif without pay. But, Sir, we should all bear in mind one fact and that is while a person who enters the Executive Service gets a training (he is first of all trained in departmental work), a Munsif from the first day of his appointment does the full amount of work. I therefore respectfully submit to Your Honour that it is but just that these facts should be taken into consideration when the question is next taken up."

The Hon'ble BABU BAIKUNTHA NATH SEN said:—

"After having read the speech of my hon'ble friend, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, I must in the first instance thank Your Honour for having exercised Your Honour's discretion in allowing this question to be raised, although there is a rule that the notice should have been given earlier, and thus giving us an opportunity of discussing this matter. It is perfectly true that, so far as the pay, emoluments and prospects of Government servants are concerned, the Government undoubtedly is vitally interested, and it is the Government which is to fix the scale, but I quite agree with the Hon'ble Mr. Das when he says that the suitors pay for the litigation, and for the purposes of judicial administration the judicial officers have a voice, and the public has a right to expect that these officers should be adequately paid. Now, Sir, the grading and the scale of pay were adopted a long time ago. The world is moving; times have changed; economic conditions have changed—changed not only in the provinces, but in every household necessities, natural and artificial, have sprung up. These officers have to maintain their position and have to meet the increased requirements of educational expenses of their children. The marriage expenses of their daughters have very considerably increased. Over and above these, if the increase in the rate of living be considered as well the depreciation of the rupee, I submit, Sir, that there are very strong grounds, reasons for increasing their pay in some shape. I would here take the liberty of suggesting one thing. The question has not been raised by any one. Cannot the system of pay on time-scale be adopted, as has been adopted by Government in one important department? Of course, it requires a calculation to see what would be the profit and loss, but this would certainly give consolation and satisfaction to the officers if they can know that after serving for five years they would get into another grade and draw higher pay, and would not have to depend upon fortuitous circumstances, e.g., deaths. As the pay will automatically be increased, it will undoubtedly give satisfaction to the officers concerned. But, of course, the figures have to be worked out, and it has to be seen whether it would appreciably increase the expenditure of Government. I beg merely to suggest that this may be considered. I would beg further to submit that it is impossible to discuss the question as regards the advantages enjoyed by one branch of the service or the disadvantages under which the other branch labours. It may be that in one department the officers enjoy certain privileges, such as a start by six or seven years at the age of 22 or 23; in another they have to begin their life at 30, and just on the verge of their extinction they approach the first grade of the service. There are therefore advantages and disadvantages in both the services. With regard to the suggested 500-rupee grade which my hon'ble friend, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, has so strongly advocated, I also beg to submit that a separate grade should be created for those who have been doing work for which they do not get any proper remuneration. I mean that class of Munsifs who are invested with powers to try suits up to the value of Rs. 2,000. These officers have been doing the work of Subordinate Judges, and perhaps, in view of the number of cases decided by them, six Sub-Judges would have had to be employed. In fairness and justice, I submit, these officers who have been doing Subordinate Judge's work ought to get some remuneration at least. I am not sure that there would be any difficulty in regard to the creation of this new grade. But, should it be found on taking statistics and making some calculations that difficulties would arise, they might be avoided if these officers be specially remunerated for the work they do, i.e., if an allowance of Rs. 100 a month be given to these officers.

"There are other matters to which I need not refer. With regard to privilege leave on full pay, I hope that the Government will take a very favourable consideration of these hard-worked officers. There is this difference between the two departments—Judicial and Executive: one has to do monotonous brain work, whereas the members of the other branch have different sorts of work, which do not tell upon their health, and it is for that reason that there is so much of the early and premature deaths of the members of the Judicial Branch of the service. However, I hope the Government will consider these facts. On looking into the history of these officers, I find that privilege leave is not frequently taken. It is in name a privilege, because half their pay is cut. This is a matter which Your Honour will be pleased to consider.

"I have, however, one other suggestion to make, namely, that the number in the second grade of Subordinate Judges be increased and a similar number in the third grade be reduced. In that case there would be a likelihood of members of the Judicial Branch approaching or reaching up to the second grade. It is very scarcely that the members would now be able to reach the pay of the second grade. My hon'ble friend, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, has very appropriately called the first grade as ornamental. Babu Umanath Ghosal was given a lift to the first grade, which was announced in the Calcutta Gazette this month, and he had to retire on the 16th of this month. Babu Pramatha Nath Chatterji has also been gazetted to the first grade this month, and he will have to retire in September, so that the promotion is merely nominal. If these officers after a hard work as Munsifs have any chance of reaching the second grade even, they would consider themselves quite happy, and they would thank their stars. I would, therefore, suggest that the number in the second grade be increased, and the proportionate number be reduced in the third grade."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"After hearing what has fallen from the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay, I do not think it would be proper for us to go into the details of the question that has been raised by my hon'ble friend, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari. We acknowledge, with thanks, the attitude of the Government in paying sympathetic attention to the grievances of a most deserving class of officers which have been so well and so clearly put forward by my friend, Mr. Sarbadhikari, in his very able note. It is a pity that under the rules of the Council the speech was not read here, for I am quite sure that some at least of the Hon'ble Members of Council whose sympathies we are anxious to secure must have been too much frightened by its bulk to go through its pages. But apart from that, Sir, having regard to the assurance given by the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay that these grievances will be very carefully considered, I do not think we should be well advised in putting this Resolution to vote. Our object has been gained in calling the attention of the public and of Government to these grievances. It is no part of our case that the subordinate executive officers are better treated and that their privileges, whatever they may be, should in any way be curtailed. What my hon'ble friend was seeking to point out in his note was this—that even if the prospects of the Executive Service, such as they are, be considered, and we do not for a moment minimise the grievances of that branch of the service—the Judicial Service suffers in comparison in many respects. My hon'ble friend, Mr. Saiyid Wasi Ahmad, was referring to the high appointments held by members of the Subordinate Judicial Service in the first three grades. In comparing these grades with the higher grades of the Executive Service, I believe he overlooked the fact that the men in the Subordinate Judicial Service in the first grade are mostly or all on extension, and that the first of them got into that service only in the year 1909. That reminds me—and I hope I shall be pardoned, if I remind my friends of the King of England whom the witches of Macbeth conjured up before the astounded gaze of Macbeth—they rose and passed away in procession! Our Munsifs get into the higher ranks—they also rise and pass away in quick procession! Some of them have been known to be gazetted after they have actually retired! That is the condition of the service in the higher grades. I will not speak about the general unhealthiness of the service. My hon'ble friend, Mr. Gourlay, has pointed out that part of it is due to the sedentary nature of the duties that they have got to discharge. I am afraid he forgets that members of the Executive Branch of the service have got the privilege of summary trials. When learned pleaders are cross-examining their witnesses and addressing lengthy arguments, the officer has sometimes been known to be drawing figures of pet animals on the papers before them, whereas the poor Munsif has got to take down every word that is placed before him, for some of his cases go up to the Privy Council and most of them go up to the Appellate Courts, and the record must be complete. Although the work of most of these Judicial Officers is very heavy and onerous, yet the pay, emoluments and attractions are not commensurate. The candidate for Executive Service, as soon as he is a graduate, if he has got the ears of the officers in his district, becomes a Deputy Magistrate at the age of 21. The poor Munsif, notwithstanding the chance that Mr. Saiyid Wasi Ahmad says is open to him, has got to get through his M. A., and then his law degree, and then he has to hang about the precincts of the Court in the vain expectation of getting briefs, which seldom come, for three years. And then he has got to get his name registered on the rolls of the High Court in the list of candidates f r Munsifships, and then he has got to dance attendance in the English Department of the High Court for no inconsiderable length of time, and then when he seems that he is approaching his 30th year and his chances are going after all these years of waiting, he probably gets his Munsifship. My friend, the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay, has said that in twenty and-a-half years he may expect to become a Sub-Judge. We take it that he becomes a Sub-Judge of the 3rd grade at the age of 51 or 52. Then he goes through the grades rapidly in the course of three or four years. He has no special appointments. There is indeed an Assistant Sessions Judgeship open to him. But when does it come to him? It comes to him when the end is near. Take the other branch. Take the Magistrate-Collectorships open to the Executive servants. Some of them have held office for a great number of years. Will Mr. Gourlay kindly tell me for how many years the Sessions or Assistant Judgeships have been held by members of the Subordinate Judicial Service? They come and go; they have no time to stay. These are grievances which are substantial.

"There is another matter to which I would call attention—and that is the analogy that has been drawn of the Educational Service. My hon'ble friend forgot that the members of that service enjoy a long holiday in summer, and they have just the same holiday during the Pujahs as the members of the Judicial Service have. Then they have got other holidays. But the poor Munsifs and Sub-Judges have got only 30 days holiday, and that in one of the most unhealthy parts of the year. They do not derive the full benefit of the holiday, and, as has been well pointed out by my hon'ble friend, Babu Baikuntha Nath Sen, they do not avail themselves of the privilege leave which is open to them because half their pay is cut. As has also been pointed out, the cost of living has so increased that it is practically impossible for them to take leave unless they are absolutely forced to take benefit of the rules of half-pay. This is a matter at least on which the Government can move at once

"I will not dwell upon the question as to whether the enormous revenue derived by Government from Court-fees should be ear-marked for the purpose of improving the status and the condition of the members of the Judicial Service. Though I do not dispute the proposition that the Government must be left at liberty to deal with funds which are raised for its own purposes, I do not suppose that the Government would either dispute the proposition that its primary duty is to devote the funds which are raised from a particular branch primarily to the benefit of that branch of the administration. If that is conceded, I have no quarrel with Government. In fact, I remember an able minute by Sir Richard Garth, who pointed out that the status of the Munsifs and the Subordinate Judges should be increased, because the whole cost of the civil and criminal administration of justice in Bengal is met by the revenue derived practically from the civil administration. These are questions into which I will not go. Our time is limited. My hon'ble friend, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, has yet to reply. And having regard to the attitude of the Government in this matter, I do not think it is any use for us to press this question. But I do hope that these questions will receive the most careful consideration of the Government."

The PRESIDENT said:—"I think that as the time fixed for the discussion of Resolutions is drawing to a close, it will be well if the hon'ble mover of the Resolution will now say anything which he has to say by way of reply."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"Sir, I am not encouraged in attempting to reply, finding that while acute physical eyes even of my friend, the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, were purporting to glance through the thirteen pages of what I do not claim to be a speech, his mental eyes might possibly have been gazing on metaphysical cats and dogs. The Hon'ble the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan is more encouraging, for he has done me the honour of reading at least portions of that note—for I myself do not put it higher—and has been good enough to admit that I have made out a strong case. I am sure if the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja had read the whole of it, the case would have appeared very much stronger to him. About the strength of the case I have not heard any dispute here whether from seeming friends or from open foes. Even the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay, when replying to me on a previous occasion and now, was merely combating possibilities of having to spend more money, and in doing so he entered into awkward questions of comparison, which have landed me to-day on difficulties he and I had not bargained for. I would remind him in the words of a bard of his own country, whose rule and sway he will readily acknowledge, that 'Comparisons are odd.' The Prince of Poets made his Bully call comparisons 'Oderous.' But Burns hit it nearer the mark, at least for present purposes, by characterising comparisons as 'odd,' in his exquisite 'Auld Brig of Ayr,' which Lord Rosebery has recently been bringing back to a forgetful public mind in connection with the long-delayed restoration of the threatened 'Auld Brig'. Comparisons which the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay aggressively and purposefully started and which I combated on his own grounds, merely on the defensive, have proved disagreeably 'odd' to day. In the apt phraseology of the Poet Ploughman in the same poem, promotion in the Judicial Service is 'regularly slow.' In emphasising this state of affairs, I tried to meet the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay's argument by analogy, and in doing so nothing could be farther from my mind and intention than to decry or deny the legitimate grievances and demands of the Executive Service, which I have often tried to voice. If I did not feel and were assured that I should be seriously jeopardising the fate of my present proposal and hopelessly mixing up the claims and grievances of both the services by accepting the amendment of the Hon'ble Mr. Saiyid Wasi Ahmad, I should have been glad to do so. I could not, however, venture upon this, as I was painfully reminded of an incident of very early life when an amiable relative promised to take some of us to the Zoological Gardens close by and actually chartered a carriage. The news got abroad, and 14 or 15 aspirants gathered round, and our would-be entertainer naturally asked whether it was right that only the few that could be accommodated in the carriage and who had been first bespoken, should go and the others left behind. The logic was unanswerable and the entertainment never came off! The Hon'ble mover of the amendment, which would wreck the original proposal, practically asks that because the other service has grievances this service ought not to have its admitted grievances remedied as far as possible till the grievances of both the services can be remedied. While fully sympathising with the Executive Service, I am unable to appreciate the correctness of this position. I therefore thought that I should bring the questions relating to the Judicial Service to the notice of Your Honour and of the Council so that they may be taken up one by one as resources permit. As a member of the Government reminded us on a recent occasion, every service has its grievances, and I do not for a moment dispute that it is the Government and the Government alone that is the sole and ultimate arbitrator as to when and how best to deal with these grievances. My proposal has been purposely so framed as not to fetter the hands of the Government in any way as the Hon'ble the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan has been pleased to call it, following the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay. That has been my anxiety throughout; and if every such proposal is to be looked upon as an attempt to fetter, it would be impossible and undesirable ever to bring them forward. Whatever else the fate of my proposal may be it would be worse with the amalgamation with it of the amendment, which, after all, is no amendment. I am in the fullest sympathy with the Executive Service, which I hold in high esteem. I am prepared to say that some Assistant Judgeships may well go to tried Senior Deputy Magistrates. Some of them, again, may well have the power of hearing appeals from Subordinate Magistrates by which the work of the District Magistrates may be much relieved, and by appropriation like this the question of separating the Judicial from the Executive Branch of the Magisterial Service may be solved to a certain extent. But that is a question which does not arise on the present occasion, and I think it would be right to deal with those questions separately. After the statement made by the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay and the warning given by him, I myself am somewhat of the opinion that has been voiced by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu. My object is not to force the hands of the Government: my object is simply to bring the whole question before the Council and, through the Council, before Your Honour as Lieutenant-Governor. I am glad to see that we have been anticipated. But I would not be quite correct to say so because the proposal from the Government of Bengal to the Government of India, to which the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay has drawn our attention, originated in 1908, really after this question was raised in the old Council. We are thankful our observations and suggestions on the previous occasion have been partly given effect to, and have been accepted by the Hon'ble Judges of the High Court and by Your Honour's Government. That, Sir, has to some extent served the purpose of my Resolution. And if nothing better is for some time to be gained, an elicitation of opinion from the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay must be taken to have rewarded my efforts. But I do not think we can afford to stand there. It is now made public that there is a difference of opinion between Your Honour's Government and the Government of India regarding some of the most vital questions affecting the service.

"Two Members of the Imperial Legislature—the Hon'ble Maharaja of Burdwan and the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu—have invited me not to press my proposal to a division. I would be prepared to fall in with their views on their undertaking, or rather understanding, that they and other Members of the Imperial Council, who are also Members of this Council, will do all they can to strengthen the hands of the Government of Bengal with regard to the question which this Government in its wisdom has seen fit to support, backed by the opinions of High Court Judges. What the reasons of the Government of India might have been in saying 'No' to that very reasonable proposal we do not know, for those reasons are not before us. We have not been able to ascertain them so far, and I could have only combated them practically in the dark. If what I and my friends have here urged will prove to be of some service to the Government of Bengal in making good its case before the Government of India, it would not by itself have been a small reward for our labours.

"Sir, I need not go into the details of the question that have been raised by the Hon'ble Mr. Saiyid Ahmad."

The PRESIDENT said:—

"I may remind the Hon'ble Member that he is approaching the time-limit."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI continuing, said:—

"That is one reason why I was not going into the details of this question. Sufficient has been said in the Council Chamber to-day to indicate that there is a very strong case for inquiry and action, and that such an inquiry has been set on foot and such action begun is a matter of congratulation to us. The inquiry and the action we cannot expect to be all on our lines or to suit our time. The Government, which has now practically all the materials before it and is admittedly sympathetic, will choose its own time and methods. The question of higher pay, however, is not the only question before us. There are other questions which can be solved without much expenditure. There is, for example, the question of privilege leave, which even judicial athletes running round their kutcheries will need and regarding which I wish to make one more observation. If what the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay has said with regard to other services were wholly correct, I should have a complete answer to my suggestion to-day. But I think a reference to the High Court Judges, the District Judiciary and the superior staff of the Educational Service, which my hon'ble friend must have overlooked when he was speaking of the Educational Service, fully supports the case of the Subordinate Judiciary. There is another matter regarding which I wish to put in a disclaimer—that is with regard to the proposition that all expenditure must be met out of ear-marked revenue. If that were so, a particular department, namely, the Education Department, in which I am especially and directly interested, would have practically to be wiped out. I rejoice at and am thankful for the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay's incidental announcement to-day about its proposed improvement, though not for the novel reasons enunciated by the Hon'ble the Maharajadhiraja of Burdwan to-day.

"Sir, as I am approaching the time-limit, I will conclude by saying that, having regard to what has fallen from the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay and my other colleagues, and the understanding that some of our Members who are also members of the Imperial Legislature will see that the cause of the service will be fought out well elsewhere, I accede to my hon'ble friends' suggestion and do not press my proposal to a division."

The PRESIDENT said:—

"The Hon'ble mover of the amendment is entitled to say whether he is agreeable to the amendment being withdrawn. I cannot allow the Resolution to be withdrawn unless the amendment is also treated in the same manner."

The Hon'ble MR. SAIYID WASI AHMAD said:—

"I suppose, Sir, that as the original Resolution is withdrawn, the amendment dies of itself."

The PRESIDENT said:—

"It would not be right to allow the original Resolution to be withdrawn unless you also agree to this. It would not be fair to make it compulsory on you to withdraw your amendment, because the mover of the Resolution desires to withdraw his motion."

The Hon'ble MR. SAIYID WASI AHMAD said:—

"I will only say that, regard being had to what has fallen from the Hon'ble mover of the Resolution and the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay, I need not press my amendment."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Both the Resolution and the amendment may be regarded as withdrawn. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari said something about some undertaking from gentlemen who are Members of this Council and of the Imperial Council, in regard to what has been described as the Bengal case. I think that that would impose conditions on the freedom of action of the Members of this Council in the Imperial Council. To impose such conditions would be impossible, and I am sure the Hon'ble Member will understand, that there can be no such condition or undertaking. Is that clearly understood ?"

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"I used the word 'undertaking' in the sense of a request."

The Resolution and amendment were then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble Mr. Sayid Wasi Ahmad had given notice of the following Resolution. But the Resolution not having been reached within the time (1½ hours) assigned by the President for the discussion of Resolutions at this meeting, the Resolution was, as directed by rule 23 of the Rules for the discussion of matters of general public interest in the Bengal Legislative Council, deemed to have been withdrawn :—

The Council respectfully recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that it is desirable, in the interests of the administration of criminal justice in the Sonthal Parganas, that the attention of Magistrates exercising jurisdiction within that district should be drawn to section 340 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, so that, when an accused person wishes to be defended by a pleader, he should, as a matter of right, be allowed to be so defended.

The Council was then adjourned sine die.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.
